HEALTH REPORT

Public Health Nurse's report for the month of May, 1920: Patients—old 35, new 11, discharged 5, died 2. Visits to patient's homes 84, co-operative visits 71, patients admitted to hospitals 4, patients admitted to sanitorium 1, patients taken to and treated in dispensaries 2.

Plans perfected for Child Welfare Week, and two of the five meetings planned were held. The other three are to be held in June. Thru these meetings we hope to arouse interest in the welfare of the child especially those under schoolage.

Three days were spent in Baltimore when patients from the county were placed in hospital, others taken to dispensaries for treatment. Also co-operating agencies were seen and patients formerly placed in sanitarium were visited.

Two days spent assisting local physicians and medical representative of the Md. Tuberculosis Association, to finish the school physical examination.

Children examined 191, visits to schools 12.

Notices have been sent to the parents of all children with defects which can be corrected.

Respectfully submitted,
Margaret Y. Rogers.

Good Work.—Pupils of Rock Hall High school have done some interesting work in the manual training and domestic science classes. The four boys who graduated on the 10, James Hadaway, Benjamin Coburn, Medford Taylor and Owen Clarke, have each made a library table as has also Alfred Cully. Francis Judefind has finished a davenport, even putting in springs and upholstering in Spanish leather. Elwood Taylor completed a Roman seat in the same materials. These articles are all nicely varnished and shellacked. There have been made also during the year a half dozen tabourettes and a couple of costumers by other pupils of Prof. Blades. The girls, under direction of Miss Coblenz have been studying cooking and sewing. The graduating girls have completed dresses, waists, underwear and a number of other practical, useful articles.

New Books for Library.—The following new books have been added to the Chestertown Public Library: The Talleyrand Maxim, by J. S. Fletcher; Leave It To Doris, by Ethel Hueston; The Farmer of Roaring Run, by Mary Dillon; The Disturbing Charm, by Berta Buck; Storm Country's Polly by Grace Miller White; The Man With Three Names, by Harold MacGrath; The Great Impersonation, by Phillips Oppenheim; Huldy's Whistle, by A. R. Miller.

Improvements. — The ladies of the M. P. Church have had the parsonage newly papered and painted. Leonard C. Needles did the work in a pleasing and neat manner.

Leonard C. Needles is greatly improving the house he recently bought from Miss Crane, by the building of a front and side porch and the remodeling of the interior, also by the addition of a coat of paint in attractive colors.

CHURCH NOTES

HAND OF DEATH

Samuel Hicks, one of Kent county's most widely known and highly respected citizens, died at his home on Queen street, Chestertown, last Saturday of cancer of the abdomen. The deceased was born near Sudlersville, Queen Annes county and was 60 years of age. He moved to Galena when a very young man and learned the blacksmith trade, and in 1882 came to Chestertown to work for Chapman & Lambert, afterwards engaging in business for himself which he sucessfully conducted for a number of years. For the past ten years, prior to the election last year, he occupied the responsible position as clerk to the board of county commissioners which office he filled to a high degree of proficiency.

Mr. Hicks leaves a widow, who was before marriage, Miss Josie Usilton, and two children, E. Leon, of Baltimore, and Miss Lillian Hicks at home. He also is survived by three brothers—William T., of Chestertown; James R., of Galena, and R. Heston Hicks, of Caroline county. He was a member of Chester Camp No. 8745, Modern Woodmen of America, carrying an insurance certificate to the amount of $3000, in that order.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, conducted by the Rev. N. O. Gibson, assisted by Rev. Omar E. Jones; interment in Chester cemetery, the pall-bearers being six nephews.

Mrs. Virginia Hadaway, wife of Walter H. Hadaway, died at her home in Rock Hall, Tuesday, of paralysis, with which she was stricken Sunday last, aged 56 years. The deceased was the daughter of William M. Miller, and leaves, besides her husband, the followingg children: John M., of Baltimore; Mannie M., a merchant at Worton; Walter H. Jr., farming near Edesville; Charles E., U. S. mail carier; James J., at home, Mary C., wife of J. Merritt Thompson, and Virginia, at home. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30, with services conducted by the Rev. A. F. T. Raum; interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery. The pall-bearers were her five sons and son-in-law, named above. Undertaker, T. H. Casey.

Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Meeks, widow of the late William Meeks, died at her home in Still Pond, Tuesday, at noon, aged 82 years. She is survived by one son and two daughters—Frank, a farmer residing near Still Pond; Miss Emma, at home, and Mrs. Dora Davis, of Philadelphia. The funeral was held Friday, with services conducted by the Rev. Tilghman Smith; interment in Still Pond cemetery, undertaker Wm. H. Krusen. The pall-bearers were six nephews of the deceased.

John D. Boyd, a prominent citizen of upper Kent, died Monday night at his home in Galena, aged about 75 years. He had been a great sufferer for years with cancer.

John W. Hubbard, one of the oldest residents of the Seventh District died at his home in Crumpton Sunday morning after an illness of several weeks of Bright's disease. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Hubbard was a son of the late Ennalls Hubbard, and was born in Caroline. He removed to Crumpton when a young man and had engaged in masonry work at that place for many years. He is survived by his widow and one sister, Mrs. Langrall, of Greensboro, and one brother, of Easton.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Wednesday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Kelser, of the M. P. Church.

Madaline Della, youngest daughter of Elsie Rebecca and the late Daniel M. Green and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Anderson, of Worton, died at her home near Sudlersville, Queen Anne's county, Tuesday, June 8th, of scarlet fever and pneumonia, age 9 years, 8 months and a few days old. She is survived by mother and sister. Funeral Thursday, 1 p. m. from her late home with interment in Church Hill Cemetery. Sleep on dear Madeline and take thy rest, God called you home he knoweth best. Gone but not forgotten.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear father and mother who departed this life five and six years ago, Noah H. Hurd and Jane L. Hurd. Gone but not forgotten.

Their loving forearm is stilled,
Their gentle voice is hushed,
Help us to bear our burdens Lord,
Our hearts with sorrow crushed.
I did not hear you groan dear parents,
Nor did I see you die,
I only know you left this world
Without bidding me good bye.
My heart is sad and lonely now,
My grief to deep to tell,
But time will come I care not when
That I may with you dwell.
Why should I mourn for you dear parents,
When I know its all in vain,
Just a few more troubles and trials here on earth,
Then I will be with you above to live forever again.

By their loving daughter,
MARTHA M. FOREMAN.

The Moral Effect of Being Insured

Have you ever stopped to think that to be insured makes us better—morally better? It is the performance of a duty—the fulfillment of a natural desire—the protecting of our own. It calls for the payment of money—a sacrifice and without sacrifices the world would be a desert. Nothing is more uplifting or has a greater moral effect upon our daily life than the knowledge of duty done and the greater the sacrifice, the greater the blessings that will surely follow. The moral effect of being insured, with everything guaranteed and made certain, is often greater than the policyholder realizes.
