
The Great Wall of China

served its purpose in its day, but it has outlived it usefulness as science has developed more effective means of protection.

In the same way laxatives and purgatives are giving place to Nujol in the treatment of constipation. These drugs give but temporary relief and invariably leave a condition worse than the original ailment.

In evolving the Nujol treatment science has solved the constipation problem for millions of people.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".

Why Suffer?

Mrs. J. A. Cox, of Alderson, W. Va., writes: "My daughter . . . suffered terribly. She could not turn in bed . . . the doctors gave her up, and we brought her home to die. She had suffered so much at . . . time. Having heard of Cardui, we got it for her."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"In a few days, she began to improve," Mrs. Cox continues, "and had no trouble at . . . Cardui cured her, and we sing its praises everywhere." We receive many thousands of similar letters every year, telling of the good Cardui has done for women who suffer from complaints so common to their sex. It should do you good, too. Try Cardui. E-77

WOMAN INFUSES LIFE INTO PHONE HEARING

Mrs. A. L. Harris Makes Plea For Farmer's Wife And Quotes Kipling For Better Service—Residents Tell Of Long Delays—Written Denunciation Of Service Read Into The Official Record By Counsel For People.

The Sun says, "It took a woman to put some life into what has been a painful, wearisome droning over interminable statistical exhibits before the Public Service Commission. The woman was Mrs. A. L. Harris, who lives near Betterton, in Kent county, and the droning is officially known as the hearing on the petition of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for increased rates. Mrs. Harris was among the company's patrons who got a chance yesterday to express themselves freely on the subject of rates and service.

"With keen wit that brought roars of laughter from the commission and the sedate and dignified array of "members of the bar," Mrs. Harris undertook an offensive against heavy tolls and made a plea for more telephones at a cheaper rate rather than fewer telephones at an advanced rate.

Mrs. Harris made a bull's-eye with her first shot. One I. W. Heapes had had the floor, explaining that the farmer had to attend to his business in the evening, with the consequence that on the party lines serving 14 subscribers a man who was calling another such party line had just one chance in 28 of getting his number. It often took as long as three-quarter of an hour, he said, to find out that the line he wanted was busy.

"Mr. Chairman," spoke up Mrs. Harris, "when Mr. Heaps goes home he doesn't do the telephoning. He says to his wife, 'You get the number.' It is the farmer's wife that has to put up with most of the bad service, and I am here to speak for the farmer's wife. The country people need the telephone and what we want is to get everybody to telephoning. Keep the home wires burning by giving a rate that will give everybody a chance. Increase the rates and add toll charges and the result is paralysis.

Kipling As Evidence

"Here is what Mr. Kipling says about it:

It ain't the farmer or city,
Nor the miles we are away,
But the close co-operation that makes them bound to pay.
It ain't the farmer or country,
Nor the country as a whole,
But the everlasting talking of every phoning soul."

County Field Day was the name Chairman W. M. Maloy applied to the session, and it was all of that. People's Counsel Joseph G. Goldssmith started the proceedings by reading into the record a number of complaints received by letter. They could not be styled complimentary by any stretch of the imagination. They were, on the contrary, fervidly denunciatory of the company, its service, itts employes, its heirs and assigns forever."

Later in the hearing, while President A. E. Berry of the telephone company was explaining that the company didn't care to install multiparty service, but had to do so because subscribers insisted on the cheapest kind of service in some instances. Vinceny Seibold, of Frederick county, declared that women did use the party lines more than any one else, especially at night, and suggested that a time limit be set on conversations.

"This company is bold," said Commissioner Legg, "but I doubt if it would be bold enough to interrupt a conversation between two women."

"Judging from the array on both sides," said Mr. Seibold, looking at the Kent county champion of cheaper 'phones, "I should say 'No.'"

"You said a mouthful," interpolated one of the telephone officials.

W. B. Clarkson, general commercial superintendent of the telephone company, explained to Mrs. Harris that telephone rates had increased in less percentage than any other commodity.

"Yes," she said, "that may be true, but I'll say that from where I live in Kent county I want to be able to talk to someone beside the undertaker. I admit Still Pond is dead—but still I want to have a wider telephone service than the undertaking establishment."

The town of Still Pond lets it be known to the Public Service Commission through one of its residents, R. D. Moore, that it is not "a dead one," as was intimated above.

Mr. Moore said in a letter to the commission that he could always get a call through to Baltimore from Still Pond in five minutes, and that the only delay he experienced in getting local calls through was due to the fact that "some of our good women get to talking and forget that some one might be waiting to use the line."

Simply Worn Out

How Many Women Are Like This?

Can anything be more wearing for women than the ceaseless round of household duties? Oh! the monotony of it all—work and drudge; no time to be sick; tired, ailing, yet cannot stop. There comes a time when something "snaps" and they find themselves "simply worn out," and to make matters worse, have contracted serious feminine disorder which almost always follows the constant overtaxing of a woman's strength.

Then they should remember that there is no remedy like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the experience of these two women establishes that fact:

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells that would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Paul Papenfuse, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.
