Work and Save

¶ Economy is the "wise expenditure of money. What you HAVE—not what you HAD—is the world's standard of judgment. Every dollar spent is a lost friend, gone forever; but a dollar deposited in this bank becomes a silent partner working for you day and night, whether you work or play. Habit is the strongest law of human nature. Good habits are as easily formed as bad. Form the banking habit and you have laid the foundation of future comfort and prosperity.

¶ This bank solicits your account. We promise you safety, service and FOUR PER CENT. INTEREST on your savings account, compounded semi-annually.

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION

The Kent County Power Farming Association of which Walter B. Harris is president, will hold a Tractor Demonstration for the benefit of the farmers of Kent county on Monday, August 2nd, at 2 p. m., on William A. Bell's farm, near Chestertown.

A real test will be seen by all those who attend as the field to be plowed is stiff soil covered with old clover sod.

A good exhibition of tractors will be on the field and they will give a good exhibition of what a tractor can do in plowing. The following tractors and agents will be present:

Aultman-Taylor, W. T. J. Keyser.
Cletrac, Geo. W. Baldwin.
Fordson, C. A. Goodwin.
Frick, Edward S. Warfield.
Moline, Kent Motor Tractor Co.
Samson, Noland - Bennett - Russel Motor Company.

The tractor is rapidly gaining in its use on Kent county farms. All farmers should see this demonstration to help them in deciding which tractor they will buy when they decide to use one on their farms.

A CHESTERTOWN BUSINESS CHANGE

Clinton C. Jones, after a successful career of twelve years in the shoe business in Chestertown has decided to make a change. He has purchased all the interest of John C. Davis in the firm of Davis & Satterfield, hardware, blacksmith and wheelwright, near the depot. Mr. Davis sold his residence some weeks ago to A. H. Covey and now having sold his business will likely remove to Philadelphia. Chestertown will regret to part with him and his estimable family.

Mr. Jones was at a loss as to permanent store-room and rather than worry over the matter decided to make the change. He advertises in this issue a big reduction sale. Messrs. Satterfield and Jones should make their business equal if not superior to any on the Shore. They have experience industry, common sense and capital.

A WHIRLWIND IN WORTON

At 1.30 p. m. Monday a miniature whirlwind visited the farm at Worton Point occupied by C. Romie Skirven and the immediate neighborhood All the shade and fruit trees were broken or uprooted, the corn and garden vegetables and fences laid low and wheat blown all over the field. A large tree near Jos. R. Usilton's home was blown down without injury to the house.

The old house belonging to Perry Barroll was blown down and the house occupied by Barroll was blown from its foundation.

The wind lasted only five minutes. Mr. Skirven was fearful lest his cook had been caught out in the storm, and going to the door saw her head poking out of the cellar door crying, "I'm all right, Mr. Romie."

HAND OF DEATH

Dr. Clarence P. Gould's father died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his son, Rev. Dunbar Gould, in Cambridge following an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Gould and his wife had gone to the home of his son in Cambridge to keep house for the latter who recently lost his wife, and the latter part of last week he was stricken with the attack, but rallied. He was a justice of the peace for many years in Baltimore.

Mrs. John A. Duyer died in Baltimore Wednesday night after a long illness, aged 86. She leaves the following children: Frank E., William T., Laurence, Lizzie and Belle Duyer. The deceased came from England. She was one of the happiest women in the world and shed sunshine and cheer yherever she went. She was a faithful and devoted member of Sacred Heart Church and seldom missed a service. She lived in Chestertown most of her life but recently removed to Baltimore with her two daughters. The funeral took place at Sacred Heart Church yesterday, interment in Chester Cemetery, Rev. J. F. Earner officiating, C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

The bearers were the three sons and James T. Dixon, Dr. H. L. Dodd and Jos. Woodall.

Jefferson H. LeCates, of New Castle, Del., died at the home of his stepson, Frank A. Smith, on Sunday night in his 67th year. His remains were brought by train to Worton Wednesday and interment made in Union Cemetery on arrival of train, undertaker, C. L. Dodd. The deceased leaves a widow, a sister, Mrs. Eben Carsner, of Trenton, N. J., also a brother, Jas. LeCates, of Chestertown; also two step children, Charles A. and Frank Smith. The pall bearers were Frank Smith, Clarence LeCates, Charles LeCates, Allen Joiner, Harrison Cornelius, Wm. E. Wood.

Alexander M. Scotton died Tuesday morning at the home of his brother, Gove S. Scotten, Elkton, after a long illness of tuberculosis. "Jim" Scotten, as he was best known to his friends, was a son of the late Willard H. and Frances Booker Scotten, and was born at Galena thirty-eight years ago. He is survived by his wife and one little daughter; also by a brother, Police Justice Gove S. Scotten, and two sisters, Miss Flora Scotten and Mrs. Maud Jenkins, wife of Dr. J. H. Jenkins, all of Elkton. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, with services and interment at Galena.

WHEAT YIELDS IN KENT

Fortunately the rains have not been general and many farmers have finished threshing. From a 40-acre fallow field, Emory Bonwill, on the Hendrix farm, threshed 1,145 bushels of fine wheat. He expects 3,000 bushels from his entire acreage.

Samuel G. Caldwell got an average of 27 bushels per acre from a small tillage and was offered $2.90 a bushel for it.

Isaac Gibbs, of Massey, got an average of 20 bushels per acre, his entire yield from one farm being 2,500 bushels, which he has sold at $3 per bushel.

Wm. E. Deford, on the Crosby farm, near Rock Hall, says he got 335 bushels off a 7-acre tomato patch and 400 bushels off the balance for which he got $3 in Baltimore.

Some fine wheat yields are reported near Still Pond. Ernest Briscoe is reported to have gotten 35 bushels per acre from his corn ground and averaged 28 bushels per acre from 32 acres. Howard Rasin got 1468 bushels from 58 acres, an average of 25 bushels per acre. Lloyd Dill got about 22 bushels per acre.

Wm. Jarrell at Kennedyville got an average of 25 bushels per acre, and J. C. Quinn on the DeCorse farm near Fancy averaged better than 23 bushels per acre from 60 acres.

Wheat yields in Talbot county are the most surprising in recent years. The estimated average of 18 last week will have to be amended to 10 or 12.—Star-Democrat.

W. T. H. Whiteley got 1525 bushels off 75 acres on the Stewart-Startt farm.

While threshing wheat on Lewin U. Skirven's farm Thursday the engine had trouble. Geo. W. Baldwin got his Cletrac tractor and in a few minutes was doing the work in fine style.

Harry L. Redding, on the big Budd farm, near Georgetown, got 1965 bushels from 97 acres.

Jas. T. Williams on the Buck Neck farm is threshing. On a 40-acre field he got an average of 22½ bushels per acre of fine wheat.
