The League of Nations issue should have the support of every mother in the land.

Gov. Ritchie is already smiling at the ladies and John Walter always loved to carry out the wishes of his constituents, male and female.

There will be several thousand new voters added to the registration list in Kent this year because of the enfranchisement of women. What changes will have to be made!

Women will vote in Maryland this fall for the first time.

The election will be for President, United States Senator and Congressmen.

Tennessee's ratification of the suffrage amendment assures to the women the right to vote. The only other detail now to be carried out is a proclamation by Secretary of State Colby in Washington that the Nineteenth Amendment has been ratified by the necessary number of States.

Before women can vote, however, they must register. The Supervisors of Elections in Baltimore City and the counties will at once proceed to make the necessary arrangements to register the women.

A committee of representative negroes, indignant at the refusal of Republican leaders to recognize them in patronage, met Monday night at Trinity Baptist Church, Druid Hill avenue and McMechen street, and nominated W. Ashbie Hawkins, colored, attorney and leader among negroes, as a candidate for the United States Senate.

Attorney Hawkins will compete in the election next November as an independent Republican, opposing O. E. Weller, Republican, and John Walter Smith, Democrat. The 40 or 50 negroes who unanimously voted for his selection as standard-bearer of the negro race, declared they represent an overwhelming proportion of the negro vote in Baltimore.

Under provisions of the State Election law it will be necessary for the committee to secure the signatures of 500 voters to the petition for Attorney Hawkins' nomination. The petition must be filed with the Secretary of State. No difficulty in securing that number of signatures will be experienced, the committee declared.
