SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1920

Words fail to express the awfulness of the roads near Rock Hall caused by the negligence and lack of regard for the public of the builders of the macadam road.

The Rev. W. F. Sheldon, of New York, an independent, non-partisan minister of the Gospel, who is living up to the fundamental principle of Christianity—peace — by supporting the League of Nations, has supplied one of the best campaign slogans on this issue: "Cox and Civilization vs. Harding and Hell!"

There are 33 countries which have signed the covenant of the League of Nations. Three have not: Germany, Mexico, Russia, Turkey, United States. A year and a half ago the United States was first in war, first in peace and first in the heart of the civilized world. Where is she now? Shall we vote to perpetuate the power of those politicians who for partisan purposes have brought upon our country the contempt and ridicule of all civilization? Are we to remain the ally of the countries deemed unfit to join the League of Nations?

There has been no finer lot of patriotism and Americanism in any campaign than the tributes Governor Cox is paying in his speeches to the memory and the valor of "our boys who died and are sleeping in France," and to their brave comrades who survived, and the reiteration of his determination to "keep faith with the dead." Governor Cox has not forgotten what they fought and what they died for, and as President of the United States they could have no more faithful and sympathetic trustee of their interests.

THE ONE THING NEEDFUL

The more we study the farming situation in Kent the more we are convinced of the great need of organization. It is the solution of many of the farmers most difficult problems. Every other trade, occupation and business is thoroughly banded together for their common interest. Is the farmer incapable of organizing? Is the farmer distrustful of each other? Isn't the Grange able to supply the needs of our farmers from an organization view? It has some excellent attractions and is nation-wide. Then there is the Produce Exchange, a purely business association. It seems to be popular in Kent. However, the farmer should agree on some one organization, join it, stick to each other and then co-operate.

SMITH AND GOLDSBOROUGH

The Democrats are fortunate this year in having two such candidates as John Walter Smith and Allan Goldsborough. Senator Smith is known as the "friend of man" be he rich or poor.. He has, in every public office, been the servant of the people, doing the best thing for them and his State. Senator Smith is standing on his record as a Senator of Maryland. He has been faithful, and has accomplished as much, if not more, for this State as any man who ever sat in the United States Senate representing the State of Maryland.

Mr. Goldsborough is the clean-cut, likable, magnetic type of man that appeals to voters who have the best interests of their country at heart, and they see in him the kind af man who will bring credit to both his constituents and to Congress. He has a breadth of vision that aspires to a greater realization of the governmental ideals upon which the government of the country was founded, and if elected may be expected to countenance and support such men and measures as will insure the perpetuation of those heritages of freedom and Liberty which Eastern Shoremen won and which their posterity holds dear.

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

There are many reasons why Governor Cox is entitled to your vote for President of the United States, and among them is the fact that as a member of the House of Representatives and later as three times governor of Ohio, Cox has shown himself to be a man of force, energy, resource and indomitable character. He is a Democrat in his every day life, and a Democrat in his strong convictions. But Cox is entitled to have the support of many voters who do not, perhaps, classify themselves as Democrats. He is entitled to have the support of men who believe in progressive ideas of government, because his whole public life has shown that he is devoted to these policies, while his opponent, Senator Harding, is very well recognized as not only a conservative, but a reactionary. It was because of the splendid record Governor Cox made in his first term as governor that he was twice thereafter elected governor. The record of progressive laws passed for the benefit of the people of Ohio under his administration is almost without a parallel.

Chestertown has a right to be proud of its baseball team organized under Coach Kibler's direction. H. R. Graham, J. H. Clendaniel, Walter Wright, and James G. Metcalfe as managers are to be congratulated while Joseph N. Wheatley as official scorer was indispensible. Umpire Cloak could not be excelled and the season ended with money in the treasury. Six Chestertown players are now playing with Salisbury: Wright, Gordy, Usilton, Bounds, Johnston and Davis. Of course they are winning.

Mrs. James T. Briscoe, Jr., Hagerstown business woman, appointed on Tuesday to the Democratic National Committee, is a living denial of the adage that no woman can combine business, interest in politics and love for her home. Mrs. Briscoe, as sole manager of the estate of her father, the late Gov. William T. Hamilton, is the moving spirit in several banks, farms and hotels, an office building, a store and a theatre. Business men say she shoulders more cares than any man in her county and she meets them with remarkable executive ability. On the other hand, it is hard to imagine a woman more devoted to her husband and her home. Indeed she has no other hobby.

Wesley Chapel will serve dinner on the church lawn. s4

The leaders of the Democratic party who met at the Rennert Hotel Tuesday gave the women a warm welcome into the ranks of the party.

It was the first time that women, as equals, have attended a political organization meeting in the State, and the men laid themselves out to make the historic occasion one of pleasant memories, and apparently succeeded. Equality of suffrage did not take woman off her pedestal. She was one of the most superior and most deferred-to mortals since the human race began wearing clothes. Nothing was too good for her, absolutely nothing whatever at all.

From Governor Ritchie and Senator Smith down to "Cy" Cummings, who made the last ardent speech, love and reverence were poured forth freely, leading, of course, to earnest pleas that the women work and vote for the Democratic party and the good of the State and nation. "Cy" explained that the leaders had opposed suffrage for women because "they loved them so," but that now all were prepared to believe that suffrage was for the best, and he opined that good women, face to face with opportunity for service, would not be governed by desire to punish those who had differed from them.
