Weller's chief claims for support of the women and men voters is the fact that he is WET and against the League of Nations.

A change has been made in the arrangement of the ticket from that published. The Senatorial and Congressional group have been placed at bottom of second column.

Mr. Harding fears that Governor Cox, as President, could not induce the Senate to ratify the Treaty. Does he believe that he, as President, could induce the Senate to form a new compact with Russia, Germany, Bulgaria, Turkey and Mexico? They are the only nations with which we could combine.

It is idle for Taft, Root, Wickershom and other friends of a League of Nations to hold that Harding's election would favor the cause. Harding has "scrapped the League, and for this reason he is receiving the earnest support of Johnson, Borah. and all other enemies of the Covenant.

We believe that the League of Nations is one of the greatest moral issues which has ever been presented to the voters of this country. We believe that future generations will cry out Shame, Shame, if the people of today are cold and heartless to the cry of humanity. We are supporting Gov. Cox and Mr. Roosevelt because we believe their election will be the best for this country and for the world.

We know Senator John Walter Smith is a manly man. We believe that in character and in sincere earnestness of purpose, he is the equal of any man in Maryland. His native ability together with his long years of experience in public life give to him a value to the Nation and to the State of Maryland that is not possessed by any other man—and most certainly not by any of his opponents. He should be elected by an overwhelming vote.

We believe that Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough is a man of ideals and broad vision. We believe him to be the type of young American that all should welcome to public life. He has already demonstrated that he has character, intellect, ability and energy. He is a good democrat and will be a valuable addition to the Democratic party in Congress. He should be elected.

We earnestly urge upon all of our readers the necessity not only of voting, but working for the election of all of these gentlemen.

As the campaign progresses T.Alan Goldsborough, candidate for Congress in this district, is rapidly gaining votes. Mr. Goldsborough is one of the Eastern Shore's most intelligent citizens, and if elected to Congress will serve the interests of the people of this section, as well as the State, in an intelligent and satisfactory manner. The issues involved in this campaign are of such a nature as to require our best men, and Mr. Goldsborough measures up to that standard. The paramount issue is the "League of Nations." Mr. Goldsborough, with superior intelligence, is well equipped to take care of his constitutents on this subject and to uphold the wishes and interests of our people. The Republicans are trying to inject the Prohibition and Volstead Act question into this campaign in this district. That issue has been fought, won, and settled, and no one need have any fear that it will be repealed, so let's dismiss that question and take up the more live issues. Mr. Goldsborough is too well known throughout the Eastern Shore to have his position or motives questioned. A man who has gained the confidence of the people of his own county to the extent Mr. Goldsborough has should be trusted by the voters of this Congressional district. A vote against Mr. Goldsborough means a vote against the Democratic party. If there ever was a time in the history of the country when men of Mr. Goldsborough's type are needed, it will be in our next Congress, when questions like the League of Nations will come up for settlement.

THE ONE THING NEEDFUL

The more we study the farming situation in Kent the more we are convinced of the great need of organization. It is the solution of many of the farmers most difficult problems. Every other trade, occupation and business is thoroughly banded together for their common interest. Is the farmer in capable of organizing? Is the farmer distrustful of each other? Isn't the Grange able to supply the needs of our farmers from an organization view? It has some excellent attractions and is nation-wide. Then there is the Produce Exchange, a purely business association. It seems to be popular in Kent. However, the farmer should agree on some one organization, join it, stick to each other and then co-operate.

The News takes this occasion to commend the liberal spirit manifest in Rock Hall and lower Kent. Whenever there is a need for assistance there is no people quicker to respond than the people of Rock Hall. Saturday night week $200 was raised to help an injured boy and nearly a thousand dollars spent at the school and church festivals. It is a pleasure to live with such people.

"The Republican majority of the United States Senate is out on bail," said Secretary Daniels in a speech a few days ago. There's Newberry of Michigan, who was convicted of buying his seat in the Senate. And before the next Congress assembles, he may be in jail.

The sole issue of the campaign is clear-cut and positive. Those who favor the League of Nations should vote for Governor Cox, as he is in favor of our country going into the League. Those who are opposed should vote for Senator Harding, as he is distinctly against the League.

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, promises a reduction in taxation in the event of a Republican Congress resulting from the next election. But a Republican Congress elected two years ago, which was in session at Washington for more than a year, made not the slightest move in this direction, although importuned to do so by Secretary Houston. How could another Republican Congress be expected to do any better?

EVERY MAN'S FRIEND

It should be a pleasure for every white man and woman in Kent county to go to the polls next Tuesday and cast a ballot for the re-election of the Hon. John Walter Smith to the United States Senate, because his record in public life is one of faithful, loyal, conscientious service, and of duty well performed.

Few men in the history of Maryland have been so singularly honored by the splendid citizenship of this State as Senator Smith, and no man has so richly deserved or merited such honor more. From the beginning of his political life down to the present day his years have been given to the best interest of Maryland and her people, and no man whom Maryland ever honored has given more service, in return. There are thousands of empty graves in Maryland today which would be filled by the bodies of loved ones had not Senator Smith's great service in the organization and establishment of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, been rendered. There are thousands of men and women in Maryland today who owe their lives to that most worthy institution—institution which will stand forever as a monument to John Walter Smith. There are thousands of young men and young women, useful citizens who are a credit to any State, enjoying the advantages of education by virtue of the free school book act which Senator Smith originated and wrote upon the statute books of Maryland while a member of the State Senate.

These are but a few of the things which Senator Smith has accomplished for his people—we sight them because they are typical of his long and faithful service to the State. If Maryland is not lacking in appreciation his reward will be a triumphant victory at the November polls.

WOMEN DEMAND THE LEAGUE

Women are championing the League of Nations because, as usual, they are trusting to their instinct, and instinct tell them that this proposal is the only safeguard to peace.

But by far the most important provision, and of this we hear little, is the proposal to disarm the world. The financial burden which this would lift is enormous. Men fully appreciate that 93 per cent of all Federal appropriations are made for war, past, present and future. But to women of America, disarmament does not mean so much a saving in money. It means that by every gun, every battleship, every piece of fighting machinery we scrap, by just so much have we reduced the chances of war, and that is what American women, and women all over the world, want.

American women are at this time more concerned with the sufferings and needs of Europe, the undernourished women and children, than they are with the cry which Republicans are setting up, namely America's superiority in finance, resources and trade which prestige must be maintained, no matter what the cost in spiritual disintegration.

Shall America go to pieces through greed and selfishness? American women answer "No! and again no!"

GOLDSBOROUGH A WINNER

According to reports from all sections of the Eastern Shore Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough, the Demcratic nominee, will be elected to Congress by a substantial majority; and in Mr. Goldsborough the constitutency of the First Maryland district will have a representative who will serve his State, and his people with credit.

When the record of the Republican nominee, Mr. Andrews, is considered, it is small wonder that the election of the Democratic candidate is a conceded fact. The most outstanding feature of Andrews' record in Congress is the astonishing number of times he was absent from his duties in Washington while patching up his political fences on the Eastern Shore. If this constitutes service, then Andrews can lay just claim to the support of his fellow Eastern Shoremen, but otherwise Thomas Alan Goldsborough, the Democratic nominees, will be the choice of a vast majority on Election day.

KENT NEWS $1.50 PER YEAR

THE BALLOT FOR THE ELECTION WILL BE LARGE

It Will Require At Least Five Marks For A Complete Ballot—Two Proposed Amendments To the State Constitution To Be Voted On Beside Candidates—Ballot Will Be One Of The Largest Ever Known In A Presidential Election.

The official ballot to be voted in Kent county at the coming election will be one of the largest ever seen here at a Presidential election.

There will be five sets of Presidential electors on the ticket, an unusual ly big list. The Democrats will have one, the Republicans one, the Debs Socialist ticket one, the William W. Cox Labor ticket one and the Farmer-Labor party, whose Presidential candidate is Parly P. Christenson, one.

In addition to these names, there will be the names of four candidates for United States Senator—John Walter Smith, Democrat; O. E. Weller, Republican; Gorge D. Iverson, Jr., Independent, and W. Ashbie Hawkins, Independent Republican.

There will also be two Constitutional Amendments to be voted upon and one member for Congress. These will no doubt make a ballot nearly, if not equal, in size to one page of the Kent News. This will no doubt frighten a great many voters, especially the women voters, who have had no experience in marking ballots.

But a careful study of the ballot will remove some of the fear of spoiling the ballot and make it quite simple to any intelligent mind. The things to be remembered are:

Each of the five groups on the ballot will contain the names of the President and Vice-President and also the names of eight electors for President and Vice-President. If the voter wishes to mark each one of the eight Presidential electors of the party favored by him or if he wa..ts to split his ballot on the electors he must make an X mark opposite each name he wishes to vote for, being careful not to make but eight cross marks for the electors.

The voter who wants to vote solidy for Cox and Roosevelt, or Harding and Coolidge, or any of the other Presidential candidates may place an X mark opposite the name of the candidates for President and Vice-President he favors, and that will carry the whole group of electors, but if he votes separately for electors he does not mark opposite the Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates.

In addition to these two or eight marks as the case may be, the voter will still have to make his cross mark opposite the name of the United States Senator and the candidate for Congress for whom he or she wishes to vote. And before he or she finishes marking the ticket there will be two Constitutional Amendments to be voted upon, as the voter may elect. These two amandments are usually printed in the last column and at the bottom of the ballot.

One of the proposed amendments to the State Constitution would raise the salaries of the clerks of the courts in Baltimore city from $3,500 to $4,500 The other would give members of the Legislature $300 a year in addition to the regular per diem of $5 when the Legislature is in session. At present the members are paid approximately $450 every two years. If the amendment carries they will be paid $600 additional for each two years, plus mileage.

Thousands of voters who are afraid of spoiling theor ballots will no doubt pay no attention to these amendments.

GAME LAW NOTICE

As there have been some changes in the law since the season of 1919, I feel there are some important parts of same that the public attention should be called to. First, the law requires the wearing of the number on the arm; this I propose to strictly enforce. The law allows no Bob White or Quail to be offered for sale. The law requires the land owner or tenant to post his land against trespassers; unlawful to kill female pheasants.

The law for the killing of fur-bearing animals is from Jan. 1 to Mar. 15 of each year and protects all fur bearing animals, especially protects musk rats, as a fine of $100 for molesting or destroying the house of muskrats or to kill one with a gun. A shot hide is sufficient evidence to convict one for killing same with gun.

These above sections, picked out of the law, I will prosecute to full extent if I get sufficient evidence.—John Anderson, District Deputy Game Warden.

Upland game season opens November 10 and closes January 1, instead of December 24.

RECTOR'S POINTS AGAINST SOCIETY

In a sermon at Grace and St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church Sunday morning the rector, the Rev. H. P. Almon Abbott, scored modern society on the following points:

Clothes—Women of this generation approximate the nudity of the original Eve. The dress of the average debutante is an apology for suitable apparel.

Dancing—Dances which are popular in 1920 are the exact replic of dances which Livingstone witnessed among the savages of Central Africa. Even the savage would not permit "his woman" to dance cheek to cheek with another man.

Card Playing for Money—It is all beastly and exotic and it is a mortaging of the future to Heaven knows what. Ethically, playing cards for money is morally rotten and a degradation of legal tender.

Text of the Sermon—1st Corinthians, 15th chapter, 29 verse: Otherwise what shall they do that are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not again at all? Why are they then baptised for them?

WHICH IS RIGHT — TAFT OR JOHNSON?

Senator Johnson, in his Baltimore speech, repeated the points he has been making against the League of Nations ever since the covenant was framed. They have been answered so often that it would be a waste of time to answer them again.

But this was not the important part of his speech. The important part was that in which he declared with vehemence that Senator Harding, if elected, will not take the United States into the League of Nations. "There is nothing ambiguous or uncertain in our candidate's declaration," he said. "He has courageously taken his stand. He has put the League behind him. He wants neither interpretations nor reservations, but outright rejection."

Consider these sentences—Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, et al., please take notice:

"For reasons of their own, certain interested individuals and newspapers may misrepresent and misinterpret his words. I resent these imputations upon the sincerity of the utterences of the candidate and the manifest endeavor in some quarters to distort his plain language.

"In some instances the comment has been mere rank misrepresentation; in others, disingenuous interpretation. I do not object to some men in this campaign saving their faces so long as they do not save their League, but I will not permit to go unchallenged from other sources the falsification of the position of the Republican party and Senator Harding's fortnight stand."

If Senator Harding permits to go unchallenged a fortnight statement of this sort from one of the most prominent of his supporters, how can he afterward deny that it did represent his position in this campaign?

Governor Cox is right. Senator Harding must say whether Taft's interpretation of his stand on the League, or Johnson's, is correct. Otherwise he must face the charge of deliberately trying to deceive the American voters.

BLAME FOR BAD MOVIES PLACED ON THE PUBLIC

Clean motion pictures depend in the last analysis upon the public, according to the motion picture censors and theatre managers and owners.

Miss Marie W. Prestman, of the board of censors, speaking personally from her experience with exhibitors, producers and the public, said that the public had given little support to the Motion Picture Censors and that the producers and exhibitors naturally were concerned in "saving" their films.

"The public can be of the greatest help to us in the work of getting decent films," she said. "It seems, from the lack of complaints and criticisms from the public, that when people see a film which scandalizes them they only talk about it among themselves, instead of writing to the censors.

"When a person sees a film, or a scene in a film which in his or her judgment is indecent or harmful to the morals of the public, the only practical way to correct it is to sit down and write the Motion Picture Censors, 211 North Calvert street, stating specifically the film, the objectionable part, where and when seen—and sign the letter.

"Every complaint from reputable sources is investigated promptly. If the complaint is sufficiently serious in character, the film is recalled for reinspection. We now have a triple check upon the censored films, so that no motion picture exhibitor in Maryland can fail to know whether any film has been censored.

"Each print which we censor has the Maryland board's perforations, identification and the certificate. I believe that usually when we make eliminations from a print these eliminations stay out, but sometimes other prints of the same film come into the State.

"It is not impossible to enforce the law under which the censorship was created, the purpose of which is to assure clean and wholesome films for Maryland. But to enforce this law the intelligent co-operation of the public is needed. We have arranged things so that no exhibitor violates the law without knowing it."
