LEGAL NOTES

Weller's chief claims for support of the women and men voters is the fact that he is WET and against the League of Nations.

The annual election of officers of American Red Cross will be held at the Chapter House, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, November 1st. All members are requested to be present.

Altho most of the farmers in Kent did not realize anything from his tomatoes there were some tremendous crops. Walter Morris raised 30 tons off two acres while Romie Byron sold 25 tons off two acres. One farmer in Quaker Neck filed a bill for $7,000 against the bankrupt Baltimore canner, that being the amount assessed by a committee of farmers.

Centreville dealers have been experiencing much difficulty in procuring coal. Chestertown yards are being called on to help supply the demands.

Agents of New York textile works are interviewing farmers on the Eastern Shore, endeavoring to induce then to grow 60,000 acres in flax during the coming season.

Farmers and dairymen in this section are much exercised concerning a rumor here that the Milk Dairymen's Association which controlls the price of milk will cut the price $1 per hundred pounds the first of the year.

Crumpton bridge is now open to traffic.

A. L. Sparks will occupy his new building this week. It is one of the most attractive store rooms in town.

There is a beautiful display of chrysanthemums and dalias in the yards of Miss Fannie DeCorse, Mrs. Horace Reed, Mrs. Samuel E. Cooper and Mrs. Fred Robinson.

It is estimated that Chestertownians spend $1,000 per day for gasoline, oils and greases. In the county the consumption is put at 60,000 gallons, which would make the gasoline line bill of Kent amount to $18,000 per week. These figures are startling in the extreme, and demonstrate more than anything else the tremendous growth of the automibile here. But a small portion of this expenditure is for pleasure riding, it is believed, the great part being for trucks and business cars generally. Much of the gas sold on Saturdays is to farmers and should not be credited to Chestertown's use.

At his own request Engineer Horace W. Reed has been transferred from the passenger to the freight service on the local railroad. Mr. Reed has served more than thirty years on this railroad. His new assignment gives him shorter hours.

The festival of Halloween will fall on Sunday, October 31st. The Cotillion Club of Washington College held a masked dance on Friday evening and the High School a masked dance at Firemen's Hall on Saturday evening.

Chestertown Council No. 58 Daughters of America will hold a Hallaween social at Fraternal Hall next Monday evening. All members are requested to be present and are allowed the priviledge of bringing some one with them. A number of new members have recently been added to the order.

Bordley & Son installed a new glass in their big front show window last week which cost $350. Mr. Bordley says this is more than all the glass cost when he built this fine store.

George E. Sutton, the Worton trainer, has returned from a campaign comprising all the Delaware and Pennsylvania eastern circuits with his fine mare, Gladys H., which has more than earned her oats during the season. She has been sold to a Pennsylvania horseman for $1,200.

Superintendent Byerly, of the Easton-Elkton Motor Truck route reports that the business of the truck is increasing so rapidly that the receipts of many of the postoffices along the line are so great as to make probable their advancement to another grade or class by the end of the present year.

The advertisement of the list of nominations to office printed as a supplement with this issue of the News is NOT a fac simile of the official ballot and should not be used as guide to voting, nor for instruction purposes. A change was made by the Supervisors of Elections, in the arrangement of the party groups after the advertisement was printed. Sample ballots in correct form will be posted at the polling places and are now in the hands of party workers. Voters should get a copy and familiarize themselves with the exact location of candidate names, before going into the voting booth.

Chestertown High School played its first game of football last Friday on College Field against St. Michaels and won by score of 42 to 6. The visitors were not as heavy as our boys but put up a plucky game.

Mrs. Mary L. Tarr, through William J. Rickards, of Denton, her attorney, has filed suit in the Circuit Court for Somerset county against William B. Spiva, a prominent banker of Princess Anne, for twenty-five thousand dollars for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her through the negligence and carelessness of Mr. Spiva in the operation of his automobile.

J. F. Newcomb brought to the News office a curiosity in the shape of an iron link in a potato.

It is reported that Sudlersville sent 5 cases to Easton Hospital within 24 hours.

The Polls open at 6 a. m. and remain open until 7 p. m.

Worton Grange will hold its regular meeting Monday night.

Don't forget Pomona Grange at the College next week.

The Cannan house near the old depot, Chestertown, was sold this week by John E. Barnes to Rudolph Wacker.

The health department, after examining a sample of Chestertown's water, pronounces it first class.

Gunners here are preparing for the opening of the ducking season, November 1. The Susquehanna flats are alive with ducks of all kinds, which is regarded as remarkable for so early in the season.

Frank A. Robins, the show man, died soon after leaving Chestertown, his death being caused by a fall of 20 ft. through a skylight in a hotel in South Carolina.

Norris Ashley has sold his store business in Piney Neck to Capt. Wm. R. Coleman and son and is temporarily located with his father, Capt. Jos. Ashley. He expects to become a resident of Rock Hall.

Oregon P. Leary has opened a general store at the "Capt. Leary Corner." This place belonged for years to the late Capt. C. A. Leary. Of the seven Leary brothers five were captains of vessels, O. P. Leary having charge of a government boat on the Cape Fear River when only seventeen years of age and continuing in that employment for six years.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Christ Methodist Protestant Church was entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John H. Simpers, on Queen street, Chestertown. The ladies decided to purchase a handsome rug and several chairs with the proceeds from their recent rummage sale and pie bake.

J. Waters Russell reports sale of the following properties: Two acres formerly Robert Goodman property, near Cliffs, now occupied by Harry Gooding, to J. T. Landing, of Baltimore. Three-acre lot at Cliff's to W. F. Stoops, owned by E. C. Schwessinger. 34 acres in Flatland formerly the Miller property and the Fowler land adjoining to C. W. Anthony, of Queen Anne's county.

A non-partisan meeting of women was held in the public library, Chestertown, Friday afternoon, for the purpose of studying the League of Nations Covenant and to hear issues of the campaign discussed by Wm. B. Earle, of Queen Anne's county. Another meeting was held yesterday.

More than 300 persons were served at the Odd Fellows' supper held in their hall at Still Pond Saturday evening, for the benefit of Betterton Lodge, No. 164, and nearly $300 was cleared.

The members of the newly organized Chestertown brass band disposed of a new Ford car, Saturday night, it going to George Johnson, colored, of Worton. It brought a large sum, which will be used for purchasing new instruments, Johnson was offered $500 cash for the car within an hour but declined it.

In the 9th annual roll of honor of the State Banks and Trust Companies of Maryland, the Kent County Savings Bank comes 6th, Chestertown Bank of Maryland 14th, and the People's gets in the list. There are 69 in the list out of 146 institutions.

Henry Krusen, who has lived at the head of Still Pond creek for the past thirty-five years, was in Chestertown for the first time since last spring last week. Mr. Krusen, who is an experienced waterman, says the creek, which for years was one of the finest fishing grounds in the State, is almost bereft of the finny tribe, and that in all his long experience this is the first summer he had not seen a crab under the flooring of his work shop which projects over the water. He says the pound net fishermen have completely destroyed fishing in the waters there. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Fallowfield, on Mt. Vernon avenue.

Accidents.—Harry, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Redding, fell on a gun one day last week, discharging the gun and shooting through his arm. Fortunately the bone was not injured and the wound is doing as well as could be expected. Dr. Geo. R. Jones is the attending physician.

Harry Clark met with a painful accident about a week ago, while moving a barrel swung around and struck him in the face breaking the cheel bone, but Mr. Clark is getting along real well at this writing.

Mrs. T. G. Wroth in leaving the home of Dr. G. A. Jarman last Friday accidentally fell down the steps injuring her hip and head. An X-Ray was taken Monday and there was no fracture.

Miss Anna Pippin in descending Spring Hill on the Avenue on her bicycle lost control and fell off breaking the front wheel and injuring her arm.
