LOCAL NOTES

Geo. Wm. Copper, of Worton, has five apples growing on a tree. Rather early crop.

A fine fox hunt was enjoyed last week near Green Point. Harry Lambert and Wright Dill were master of the hounds. Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon with their guest, Miss Elizabeth Ober, of the Green Spring Valley were among those on the fox hunt. Thirty hounds chased the fox for a long time.

Osborne S. Mackie was in town on Saturday and paid $1.20 for muskrat hides.

H. N. Baldwin, who is visiting at Homestead, Fla., surprised some of his friends here with a sample of the delicious oranges and grape fruit grown there.

The Chestertown minstrels showed to a fair audience at Still Pond Monday evening, the receipts being $65. A splendid supper was enjoyed by the boys before the show. Church Hill and Rock Hall were also visited.

The Triangle Club, a recently formed organization among the young ladies of Christ M. P. Church, was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Barber Bartley.

Members of Milk Producers' Association may erect a cooling and filtering plant in Wilmington from which milk may be distributed direct to consumers at 12 cents a quart. At a stockholders' meeting, Saturday afternoon plans were partly formulated to sell milk at retail at not to exceed five cents quart profit to producers. J. Alfred Bramble was elected one of the directors.

Capt. Wm. Cooper, of Buck Neck, says he expects to contract for tomatoes this year. Indications point to the fact that farmers will ask each canner to furnish bond for the acceptance of all tomatoes that meet conditions and also to guarantee payment by bond for the crop on the date specified in the contract.

A farmer, who recently removed to Chestertown, is having difficulty in adjusting his habits. On the farm he awoke when the first rays of daylight shone in his room, but in town an electric light on the street shines in his room and keeps him on the jump thinking it time to get up. He is gradually becoming accustomed to conditions.

The J. Waters Russell Realty Company, of Chestertown, is advertising some desirable farms and small places for sale in Kent and Queen Anne's counties. This company owns these places outright and intends to dispose of them. The prices are down and anyone desirous of a home in that section should at once get in touch with the company.

Edward Lambert, mail agent on the train between Easton and Clayton, had the misfortune on Monday last to break his arm, which will cause him to be laid off for some weeks. While the train was taking water at the upon tank Mr. Lambert, as usual, climbed down to board his car, but in attempting to enter the engine started, causing him to miss his footing, which threw him back into a ditch with such force that his arm was broken.

Rock Hall fishermen think they make some fine catches at times but when compared to Boston residents look small. A million pounds of fresh fish were brought to that port last week. The steamer Trawler Tide was high liner with 170,000 pounds of haddock and 19,000 pounds of cod. Prices held high, notwithstanding the big catch, haddock selling at 4 to 5 cents a pound, large cod 8 to 8½ cents and market cod at 4 cents.

Personalty sales are quite numerous in Delaware. Last week H. D. Conner sold his stock. Good prices were received for cattle, they averaged $179.40 for thirteen head; one sold for $400, purchased by G. A. Schrader. This was the champion club heifer of Delaware with an official record of 17½ pounds, two year old. The next was purchased by Herman Kumpel, of Odesa, for $361, which was thrown up but was later sold to B. V. Armstrong for $400, she is a 19½ pound, three-year-old. Her four-weeks' old calf sold for $73. The highest price grade sold for $166.

A. M. Culp has received a cargo of lumber which is being sold at the reduced price. Now is the time to get ready for new work.

On Thursday the residence of S. G. Caldwell on Main street caught fire from a fire place heater in the dining room. Prompt action, together with the fact that it was Sale Day and a large crowd of men could be quickly summoned saved the building but not before quite a bit of damage was done as part of the partition had to be torn away to get into the fire.

The cars belonging to A. Earle Nicholson and A. Cohen collided on the state road, near Fairlee, Wednesday, throwing Mr. Nicholson's little son out, inflicting a number of cuts and bruises about the face and head. The cars were slightly damaged.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Mary E. Parsons
vs.
Wm. Wesley Boyer et al

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, In Equity. No. 2090.

The object of this suit is to have the surplus proceeds of sale under a mortgage applied to pay the creditors of Wm. Wesley Boyer, late of Kent County, deceased, mortgagor.

The petition states that said Wm. Wesley Boyer died before the sale under mortgage, indebted unto William C. Sutton in the sum of $74.00 on an open account, and to others, leaving personal property insufficient to pay his debts upon which no administration was granted, there being practically no personal estate, that the land sold for more than enough to satisfy the mortgage and his creditors are entitled to the surplus proceeds; that Wm. Wesley Boyer left no children or descendents of children surviving him, but left surviving him and now living, a widow, Elizabeth M. Boyer, of Kent County, Maryland, and the following heirs at law: Sarah M. Dunn, a sister, of Kent County, aforesaid, Cornelius F. Boyer, a brother, of Philadelphia, Pa., Joseph P. Wilson, formerly Boyer, of Piqua, Ohio, the children of Charlotte Hynson, a deceased sister, namely, Sarah E. Wood, of Philadelphia, Pa., Mary E. Freeman, of Philadelphia, Pa., Olivia Boyer or Bidgewell, the daughter of Horace Boyer, a deceased brother, the children of Isaac Boyer, a deceased brother, namely: Susie Brown, of the State of Delaware, Gerty Warner, of Kent County, aforesaid, Sarah Gilbert of Kent County, aforesaid, Edgar Boyer, of Philadelphia, Pa., Augusta Boyer, of Wilmington, Del., Albert Boyer, of Bridgeton, N. J., Emory Boyer, of Camden, N. J., and Sophronia B. Thomas, of Langhorne, Pa., all adults, and unknown heirs of Wm. Wesley Boyer, deceased.

Ordered this 28th day of January, 1921, by the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity, that the creditors of Wm. Wesley Boyer, deceased, file their claims, with vouchers, with the Clerk of this Court on or before the 10th day of April next, or be excluded from participation in the distribution of said surplus proceeds of sale.

Ordered further, that notice of the object and purpose of said petition be given to Cornelius Boyer, Joseph P. Wilson, Sarah E. Wood, Mary E. Freeman, Olivia Boyer or Bidgewell, Susie Brown, Edgar Boyer, Augusta Boyer, Sophronia B. Thomas, Albert Boyer, and Emory Boyer, all adults, non-residents of the State of Maryland, and all the unknown heirs of Wm. Wesley Boyer, deceased, by publishing this order in some newspaper published in Kent County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 1st day of March, 1921, and warning them to appear in this Court, in person or by attorney, on or before the 16th day of March, 1921, to show cause, if any they have, why the petition should not be granted.

The Ideal Plowing Combination

SUCCESSFUL tractor plowing requires, first of all, ample power—enough to effect a decided economy in man-power over horse plowing. A two-bottom horse sulky plow is a one-man outfit. A two-plow tractor, therefore, effects no saving in man-power over such a plow. Three horse-drawn plows, however, require at least two men. The Titan 10-20 kerosene tractor pulls three plows—and it is strictly a one-man outfit.

For economical, effective plowing there is no better combination than the Titan 10-20 tractor and P&O Little Genius power-lift tractor plow. The tractor furnishes ample power—and power to spare—to pull this efficient, easy-operated three-bottom plow. The plow is controlled from the seat of the tractor by means of a light rope that trips a power-lift mechanism that raises and lowers the plow bottoms at the will of the tractor operator.

The Titan 10-20 and P&O Little Genius are made for each other—and they work as one. That's why we recommend this outfit to you as the ideal plowing combination. Come in and look it over when you are in town. You know where we are located.
