POOR BLOOD IS JUST LIKE SLOW POISON

Makes You Feel Lazy And Discouraged. You Get Nothing Done.

PEPTO-MANGAN PURIFIES

Tune Up Your Blood With It. Notice The Difference With Rich Red Blood In Your Veins.

The man or woman or the child with a sickly-looking complexion, a pale wan face, has blood that is filled with poison. Insted of rich red blood coursing through their veins, they are trying to get along with blood that is weak and thin. It doesn't carry life-giving qualities through the body. You see those men and women every day. They are so tired. Their shoulders droop. They slouch. It is all they can do to get around.

As soon as you begin to feel that way take Pepto-Mangan, the well-known blood tonic. It will clear away the poisons and make your blood rich with red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. One has the same medicinal value as the other. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. Advertisement.

EASTERN SHOREMEN

Should Encourage Every Effort To Help Washington College.

Many persons have asked why there should be a college on the Eastern Shore. Maryland has too many colleges, it has been argued, so why sacrifice and struggle to maintain one on the Eastern Shore? This reasoning seems to confuse some people.

The Eastern Shore of Maryland has a population of almost exactly 200,000 people, which is roughly one hundredth of the population of the United States. There were in the United States last year about 500,000 college students. There should be, therefore, about 1000 college students from the Eastern Shore. A high authority in the United States Bureau of Education estimated that the ideal college should have 500 students. It is obvious, therefore, that the proper answer to the above question is that the Eastern Shore does not need a college—it needs two colleges.

A few more comparative figures should be of interest to Eastern Shoremen. The fourteen counties of the Western Shore have eight colleges. Their taxable basis is $142,000,000, or $51,500,00 per college. The taxable basis of the nine counties of the Eastern Shore is $106,000,000, which according to the ratio of the Western Shore counties is more than enough to support two colleges.

If we compare the Eastern and the Western Shore counties on the basis of high school attendance the results are still more striking. According to the report of the Superintendent of Schools for 1919 there were 629 graduates of approved four-year high schools in the Western Shore counties and 356 in the Eastern Shore. If the Western Shore needs eight colleges to care for its 629 high school graduates, it follows that the Eastern Shore should have four and one-half colleges for its 356 graduates.

If we compare the Eastern Shore with Baltimore City the results are also favorable. There are in Baltimore City about 625,000 people, 653 high school graduates (1919), and four standard colleges, not to mention numerous other schools doing more or less of college work (Milton University, several business colleges, the Y. M. C. A. schools, the Berlitz School of Languages, etc). This gives an average of about 156,000 people and 161 high school graduates per college. The one college on the Eastern Shore, therefore, serves about 30 per cent more people and 118 per cent more high school graduates than the average college of Baltimore City.

Or let us take the State of Delaware for our comparison. Delaware has a population about equal to that of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, In 1919 it had only 242 high school graduates. Yet Delaware supports a flourishing college with about 450 students. Thus, the Eastern Shore demonstrates a far more lively interest in education than the State of Delaware, and ought to support a college about 50 per cent larger than Delaware College.

It is obvious that whether we draw our comparison from the entire country, from the Western Shore, from Baltimore City, or from Delaware, the result is always the same—the Eastern Shore furnishes an ample field for one or even two very flourishing colleges. In view of these facts can the Eastern Shore afford to let its college fail. With such a field as this, if Eastern Shoremen will but lend their interest and support, Washington College can quickly develop into the foremost college of Maryland and one that will compare favorably with the best known colleges of the land. —W. C. Bulletin.

PRICES 70 YEARS AGO

For the consolation of its readers many of whom are still complaining of the high cost of living, an Allentown, Pa., newspaper has delved down into its dusty files of 70 years ago and dug up an article which showed the prices that prevailed in 1850. Here are some of them: Whiskey, three cents a tumberful, and a cigar thrown in, purchasable at any store; cigars 4 for a cent; sows, $15 each; steers, $8 to $10; butter, 10 to 15 cents a pound; eggs 6 to 8 cents a dozen; sugar 6 to 10 cents a pound; coffee 12 cents a pound, calico 6½ cents a yard; bleached muslin 8 cents a yard; candy 10 to 12 cents a pound; horses $40 to $50 each; beef 7 cents pound; beef hides 6 cents a pound; hogs 4 and 5 cents a pound; wheat, 50 cents per bushel; corn 30 cents a bushel; oats 20 cents a bushel; hay $5 a ton. Laborers earned 37 to 50 cents a day, and harvest hands 75 cents a day, the latter being fed five times a day and working from sunrise to sunset.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, the Old Kent Chapter D. A. R. realize the great loss it has sustained by the death of the chaplain, Mrs. Sarah C. Corey;

Whereas, it is recalled that she helped so materially in establishing a chapter of the D. A. R. in Chestertown, Md.;

Whereas, her presence was an inspiration to every member, and loss to every member; therefore be it

Resolved, That Old Kent Chapter D. A. R. extends its heartfelt sympathy to the sadly bereaved daughter in this hour of deepest grief;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to her daughter, Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, and to the county newspapers, and that they be inscribed in the minutes of the chapter as a memorial of love and respect.

PREPARING FOR STATE CAMP

Local Modern Woodmen Making Extensive Preparations For Their Entertainment On May 4

The local camp of Modern Woodmen is making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the State Camp, which will meet here on May 4 next. To this end an important meeting was held in their lodge room on Friday evening and several very important committees were appointed, which will have charge of all details connected with the arrangements for this notable event. Some three hundred delegates and alternates and officials of the State and National Camps will be in attendance, and the work of arrangement and entertainment is a very important preliminary of the gathering. The following committees were appointed:

Entertainment Committee—M. E. Newsome, Walter U. Lusby, M. Wilbur Thomas, Thomas G. Wroth, John W. Barnes, Frank A. Hurlock, Clinton C. Jones and John Gale Usilton.

Reception Committee—R. Hynson Rogers, C. L. Dodd, William G. Smyth, Fred G. Usilton, William F. Russell, James W. Crouch, Robert V. Moffett, Thomas J. Davis and G. Thomas Dewberry.

Decoration Committee—Charles S. Smith, J. H. Sides and J. S. Kreeger.

The first named of these committees is chairman of his respective committee, and it is understood that early meetings of the committees will be held to arrange all details of their work.

This is one of the largest and most representative state gatherings ever held in the town, and it is hoped that our people will give hearty co-operation to the committees in arranging for the entertainment of the guests.

At the meeting on Friday evening Postmaster T. D. Bowers was elected delegate and Senator W. F. Russell alternate to represent the local Camp in the State Camp.

A general meeting of all committees, members of the Camp, and al others concerned, will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 25, in Fraternal Hall. This is a most important meeting, and everybody interested in the success of the State Camp is urgently requested to be present at the meeting. Please bear the date in mind and make your arrangements to be present, every member in his place.
