HAND OF DEATH

George R. Cadwallader died near Baltimore Saturday. The funeral took place Monday with interment in Western Cemetery. The deceased was about 70 years of age and was for many years a well-known character about town selling fish or peddling wares. He was known as "Capt. Caddie."

Mrs. Ann M. Crow, widow of the late Wm. T. Crow, died early Sunday morning last, at her home on Washington avenue, aged 89 years. She is survived by the following children: Wm. R., Walter C., and Miss Ida V. Crow and Mrs. William A. Bell. Funeral was held Wednesday at noon at Shrewsbury Church, services conducted by the Rev. C. L. Atwater; interment in the cemetery adjoining the church. The bearers were Thomas and Robert Bramble, P. A. Brooks, Edward Pennington, C. Frank Crow, and George W. Sutton. Undertaker, Charles L. Dodd.

Joseph Culley, one of the oldest citizens of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. S. Price at Lynch, on Tuesday afternoon of general debility, aged 93 years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Culley, five children, Joseph Culley, of Lynch, Mrs. S. S. Price, of Lynch, Mrs. John T. Cox, of Massey, Mrs. Walter Reed, of Massey, Mrs. Howard Cox, of Smyrna. The funeral took place on Friday at 11 a. m. at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. S. Price, being conducted by Rev. Avery Donovan, interment in Galena Cemetery. The bearers were his grandsons, Harry George, Joseph Lewis, Heston Cox, John Cox, William Cox, Howard Cox.

James L. Russell, son of the late James A., and Sarah A. Russell, died about 6 o'clock p. m., last Saturday, at the home of his sister, Miss Nettie Russell, on Mill street, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis, in his 53d year. The deceased was born in Chestertown and went to Washington D. C., while very young, where he was employed for more than 20 years. Contracting tuberculosis about 12 years ago he returned home, and with the exception of about six months spent at the sanatarium at Sabillasville, has been under the constant and devoted care of his sister. He is survived by his sister and four brothers: L. Bates, and Fred S. Russell, Chestertown; John A. Russell, Chester, Pa., and Carl M. Russell, Baltimore. Funeral was held Monday afternoon, services conducted by the Rev. N. O. Gibson, interment in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were: Fred. S., John A., and Carl M. Russell, brothers; J. Waters Russell, and William W. Clayton, cousins; and Walter Alcutt. Undertaker Chas. L. Dodd had charge of arrangements.

Miss Mary Florence Whaley, for a number of years a bible teacher of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, in Philadelphia, died Tuesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cora Seigel, in that city. Death was due to pneumonia. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Whaley, of Church Hill.

Besides her parents, Miss Whaley is survived by four sisters: Mrs. Cora Seigel and Mrs. Reyburn Hancock, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Grovie Thorne, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Nellie Robinson, of Templeville.

Mrs. Mary A. Skirven, formerly of Wilmington, died Monday in Baltimore, in her 93rd year. Mrs. Skirven was formerly the wife of John S. Kennard, for a number of years a prominent business man of Wilmington, a founder of the house of Kennard & Co., and brother of William M. Kennard. While a resident of Wilmington, as Mrs. Kennard, she was affiliated with Grace M. E. Church and was prominently identified with all of its activities. She was born in Kent county, Md., on November 25th, 1828. The body will be brought to Wilmington and Brandywine Cemetery at 3 p. m., on Thursday, Mar. 10.

Charles E. Donovan, aged 56, one of the best known and most progressive farmers of the Greenspring-Clayton district, died on Thursday last following a brief illness of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Anna L. Moffett, of Chestertown, and one son, Clarence Donovan.

Clement D. Hoopes a prominent citizen of Harford county, died last Sunday, aged 60 years. He was a brother to Mr. Joseph T. Hoopes, of Chestertown.

The following comes to us from the Maryland Association for Kindergarten Extension:

The Maryland Association for Kindergarten Extension, realizing the need for kindergartens for the children of our State, is planning a campaign to have kindergartens recognized as a part of the public school system.

Wonder what is the need? Is it to create a place to send children so many hours per day so parents can be relieved of their care? If that isn't the principal object what under

Dr. Henry B. Martin died at his home on water street Tuesday night in his 85th year. The deceased had been in poor health for some time but not confined to his bed and was enabled to visit his friends only a few days before his demise. He came to Chestertown in 1900, succeeding Dr. S. C. Roberts, to serve as rector of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church and gave his whole life to it until poor health caused him to retire about a year ago, when Rev. Chas. L. Atwater was named.

The deceased was a man of remarkable intelligence, faithful and loyal, and gave to his work that sacrifice which only love can know. Dr. Martin was the soul of honor and lived among us as one of God's men, a christian in name and in deed.

The father of the deceased was Rev. John Martin at one time rector at old Shrewsbury, a man of sterling qualities and genuine worth. For six years the deceased was rector at Princess Anne while other charges were Old Swedes Church, Wilmington, Ascension Church, Baltimore and in Philadelphia. In January 1909, the beloved helpmate of Dr. Martin, died in Chestertown.

The funeral took place in Emmanuel Church Thursday and at the request of the sisters of the deceased the services were simple and brief. The Te Deum was sung by request and those participating in the services were Dr. Sewell S. Hepburn, Rev. C. L. Atwater, Rev. Mr. Dickerson, of St. Paul's, Dr. Davies, of Easton, Dr. Marshall, of Centreville, Rev. Mr. Hobbs, of Church Hill and Dr. Collins, of Shrewsbury. He was chaplain of Chester Lodge A. F. & A. M. and a delegation was named to attend the funeral. Interment was made yesterday in Greenmount Cemetery, Baltimore. The bearers were Judge Lewin W. Wickes, Wilbur W. Hubbard, Hope H. Barroll, Dr. F. B. Hines, Dr. J. R. Micou, Dr. Charles W. Whaland, Curtis E. Crane and Jefferson D. Bacchus.

WEDDING NOTES

The wedding of Charles Hodgkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Hodgkins, of Chestertown, and Miss Margaret Lang, of Georgia, will take place in Washington next Tuesday.

Miss Mary C. Smith, popular daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Smith, and Mr. Maxwell Jacob, were married at nine-thirty o'clock Monday morning by the Rev. T. C. Smoot, in the presence of a few friends at the home of the bride's parents in Rock Hall. The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit with hat to match. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edword T. Tubbs, of 1213 John street, Baltimore, have announced the marriage of their eldest daughter, Frances Melvin Tubbs, and William Richard Trippe, son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Trippe, of Royal Oak, Talbot county. The ceremony was performed last Saturday afternoon by Rev. Sidney H. Dixon, rector of Trinity Parish, Cecil county, in Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Elkton, in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the couple. Upon returning from a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Trippe will make their home in Baltimore.

A nuptial event of interest to residents of Kent and Queen Annes counties was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock in the sun parlor of "The Breakers" Hotel, Atlantic City, when Miss Mollye Press, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Press, of that city, became the bride of Mr. William A. Sachs, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sachs of Chestertown.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends, and was followed by a dinner at the hotel.

The bride-elect wore a blue tailored suit, with hat to match, and Stone-Martin furs.

Miss Press is one of Atlantic City's most popular and charming young ladies, and has many friends on the Eastern shore and in Baltimore, where she has freqaently visited.

Mr. Sachs is manager of the store of H. Sachs & Sons, Centreville, and s one of Centreville's most prominent young business men. He served as instructor in military tactics at the Detention Camp of the U.S. Navy in California for fourteen months during the world war. He is a graduate of the Baltimore City high school and was a student at the State Normal School of West Virgnia.

Monday afternoon the young couple left Atlantic City for a wedding trip through Ohio, returning by way of Niagara Falls. They will reside in Centreville after March 15.

SELLS EASTERN SHORE HOME

Former Judge J. Harry Covington has sold his home in Easton on South Harrison street to A. L. Nicholas for $20,000. Judge Covington, who is now in Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, has a residence in Washington, where he is practicing law, and Mrs. Covington and their children live there. Last year the names of Judge and Mrs. Covington were stricken from the lists of voters in Talbot, but were restored later, together with those of two Republicans "disqualified" by the Democratic workers. With the sale of his home Judge Covington has disposed

JIM DAVIS ESCAPES SECOND TIME

Nine Refuse To Go With Him—Colored Man Is Fifth To Make Getaway On Eastern Shore Within Past Week.

James Davis, colored, who was confined in the Kent county jail, made his escape early Saturday morning. There were nine colored prisoners in the corridor, but all refused to join Davis in the getaway.

Davis made his escape by cutting the door with a penknife. He went to the house of a colored friend, "Piggy," where he ate breakfast, smoked a cigarette and danced a jig, then said good-by.

Davis was charged with stealing $170 worth of tires belonging to A. Cohen. It is alleged he sold them to several white men for $20, and was held for court. He ran away last year when the grand jury indicted him for the theft of a carriage, and had only recently been caught.

The Fox Hunters.—Twelve fine riding horses arrived in Chestertown on Thursday by express for the New Jersey fox hunters of Far Hills These Northern fox hunters will spend several days in Kent and Queen Anne's under the direction of that expert horseman and hunter George Brice. They will use local dogs in the hunts.

Allies In Germany.

Allied Powers Order Troops To March At Once To Germany; Berlin Appeals To The League.

Premiers on Monday finally reject Germans' latest offer and decline to agree further delay in imposing penalties. They will have no paper agreement. German foreign minister makes lengthy address in which he leaves responsibility for war to history, but admits that defeated Germans must pay bill.

Decision by the Allies to occupy certain German cities and to impose certain economic penalties because the Germans failed to meet the Allied demands at the London Conference is unfortunate. It is unfortunate not from the standpoint of consequences to the Germans, but from the standpoint of the possible consequences to the Allies. The Germans have got to pay. That is assured. America is as much interested in the German payment as the Allies are, if for no other reason than because the payment of the Allied debt to the United States depends in large measure upon the payment of the German debt to the Allies.

But, throwing all else out of consideration, the fact is that Allied occupation, being a costly business both to the Allies and to the Germans. will add to the difficulties of the proposed German payment and may retard measurably the period of reconstruction, which all of us are anxious to see begun.

We trust that even yet a way may be found by which an agreement will be reached without the necessity of prolonged military occupation. An action which will further disrupt Germany in the economic sense must necessarily delay the time when the world can tell for a certainty just what it can expect in the rebuilding program.

In addition, it should be noted that any plan of action which may weaken or discredit the present German Government is a risky plan for the Allies. A country in chaos does not pay its bills.

The following are the averages of the pupils of Chesterville school for the month of February: Seventh Grade—James Simpler 89. Sixth Grade—Elizabeth Lockwood 90, Catherine Simpler 88. Fifth Grade—Irving Woodall 94. Fourth Grade—Herman Jones 92, Ella O'Neal 92, Carl Lockwood 91, William Miller 87.
