Kent News.

TERMS—$1.50 per year; 75 cents for six months; 50 cents for three months, in advance. Single copies 3 cents.

SATURDAY, APRIL 9, 1921

On pages 2 and 7 of this issue will be found letters from the Commissioners of Kent county addressed to A. Parks Rasin and John N. Bennett. These letters are certainly strong and will be read with great interest by the tax-payers of Kent. It is hoped by all that this controversy will result in more economy in public affairs.

Report Of Conservation Commission

The News has received the fifth annual reoprt of the Conservation Commission of which Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., is chairman. Mr. Vickers is bringing to the office unusual industry and close application and it is predicted that under his supervision the sea food industries will be greatly helped.

With very few exceptions, the natural resources under the control of the Commission here shown increased production and better conditions here prevailed each year since the Conservation Commission was organized.

An appropriation of $100,000 a year for two years by the Legislature of 1922 for the sole purpose of purchasing and planting oysters and shells on depleted oyster bars is proposed by the Commission in its report says:

"The steadily declining production of oysters in the Cheasapeake bay and tributaries is due entirely to the continuous stripping of the beds and bars during the past 25 years. * * * Our natural beds, gradually being wiped out. * * The famous Tangier sound is almost a thing of the past."

The report says that "a broad and general policy of conservation" must be adopted which "can only be done by the enactment of such laws as will accomplish:"

1. Restoration of oyster shells to depleted oyster bars.

2. Repeal of local fish laws and enactment of a State-wide fish law and Federal migratory fish law. Fresh water hatchery to be established at Gwynnbrook, the State Game Farm.

3. Protection of the crab in spawning season and preventation of winter dredging in Virginia. This to be accomplished by co-operation of the State of Virginia and by Federal regulation.

$250 REWARD.

A reward of $250 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who broke into Wm. Medders & Co., and John Robinson's Store at Still Pond, and at Vandyke & Bolton, Galena, recently.

KENT CO. COMMISSIONERS,
m12 JOHN MEDDERS. Clerk.

Kent County Pomona Grange
