Leaves A Fine Estate

The will of the late Thomas W. Eliason was admitted to probate by the Orphans' Court for Kent county on Thursday.

In addition to her dower rights, the will provides some bequests to the widow. A substantial legacy is bequeathed to his daughter, Mrs. Irma B. Drayton, in addition to other more substantial provisions and after making bequests to his nieces and nephews, the rest and residue is bequeathed and devised to his son, Thomas W. Eliason, Jr., who is made executor without bond.

The Orphans' Court has appointed A. H. Covey and J. D. Bacchus as appraisers of this estate which will amount to something over $500,000. Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., is the counsel for the executor.

HAND OF DEATH

William Burgess died at the home of his brother, Samuel Burgess, of Edesville, on Sunday afternoon. He was 82 years of age and leaves one sister, Mrs. James L. Leary and one brother, Samuel Burgess. He has lived in Kent county all his life and was one of our most respected and estimable citizens. He has been in bad health for several months with heart trouble. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from Wesley Chapel with interment in cemetery adjoining.

The bearers were James Burgess, Elwood Burgess, Edw. Leary, Marion T. Miller, Thomas Tucker and J. Hydie Thompson. Rev. Mr. Raum officiating; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Emma Taylor, aged 76 years, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hattie Dulany, on Railroad avenue, Centreville, last Thursday night about 11 o'clock, of paralysis, with which she had been stricken a few hours previous.

Mrs. Taylor was the widow of the late I. Clark Taylor, of Kent county, Maryland. She was a Miss Quisenberry, of Virginia. In 1876 she was married to Mr. Taylor, at Christiansburg, Va., and went to Kent county to live. She has made her home with her sister in Centreville for the past ten years.

Mrs. Taylor was a faithful member of the Methodist Protestant Church and was always keenly interested in its growth and development. She was an exemplary christian and had a host of friends throughout the county.

She is survived by two step sons, Dr. William Taylor, of Laurel, Maryland; Benjamin I. Taylor, of Kent county; and one sister, Mrs. Hattie Dulany, of Centreville.

Funeral services will be held at her late home Sunday afternoon at 3.00

Funeral services were held at her late home Sunday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock, and interment was in Chesterfield Cemetery. Rev. M. E. Wheatley will conduct the services.

Diocesan Convention May 2nd

Bishop George W. Davenport of the Diocese of Easton has announced the program of the thirty-third annual convention at Berlin, beginning May 2nd. On the first day there will be conferences on women's work, religious education and social service. Rev. Charles C. McAllister, of Washington, D. C., will lead the one on religious education, and Rev. Charles N. Lathrop, secretary of the church department of social service, the one on that topic. An informal reception will be held in the evening.

The Bishop's address will follow the celebration of Holy Communion on the morning of May 3rd, and the convention will be organized. At a mass-meeting in the evening there will be addresses on "The Program of the Presiding Bishop and Council for 1921-1922," by Rev. Charles N. Lathrop; "What the Church Building Fund Commission Has Done for the Church and Can Do for the Diocese of Easton," by Rev. Dr. Charles L. Pardee, secretary, and "Rural Work," by T. L. Woodward, of Virginia.

On the morning of May 4th the convention will hold a business session. This is the first convention under Bishop Davenport.

Pastor Loses Standing

Rev. Edwin H. Gardner, pastor of the Marydel Circuit, comprising four churches of the Wilmington M. E. Conference, and residing at Marydel, was tried before a jury of clergymen at Clayton, Monday, and suspended from all ministerial duties until the next annual conference.

Charges against Rev. Gardner were made in connection with church finances and grow out of a discrepancy in reports. The hearing was held in the church in Clayton, with Rev. Robt. Watt, district superintendent, presiding. On the jury were Revs. T. R. Van Dyke, J. W. Colona, R. P. Nichols, G. P. Smith, Milton McCann, O. H. Connelly and V. E. Hills. Dr. H. G. Budd, principal of Wesley College, acted as council for Mr. Gardner.

James W. Lambert, one of Kent's best citizens, passed to his reward Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jefferson D. Bacchus, from a complication of diseases, aged 84. The deceased had only been confined to his home for three weeks and most of these days was spent in his chair. Every wish was granted by his devoted daughter and family and his last days made as comfortable and cheerful as possible. The deceased was a remarkable man. A native of Kent, when a young man, he went to Centreville in 1858 where he worked for a year. In 1859 he returned here and was employed by David A. Benjamin for 5 years. In 1864 he bought out the blacksmith and wheelwright business from Mr. Benjamin, and in partnership with James W. Chapman, began business for themselves. He was married in January, 1864 and his partner in March. They built homes on Mill street side by side and reared families of high reputation. For 42 years the deceased worked faithfully at his trade and built up a lucrative business. In 1906 he and his partner retired, selling their plant to Davis & Satterfield. Since 1906 Mr. Lambert and his partner have occupied an office on Cross street where they entertained their friends and kept up an enjoyable companionship.

Mr. Lambert early in life united with the Methodist Protestant Church and during all these years he has been a loyal, enthusiastic and liberal supporter. It was one of the greatest joys of his life when Christ M. P. Church was completed and his presence could always be counted on. Humble and conscientious in all his acts he willed to do right and was truly one of God's workmen here below.

The funeral service was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Bacchus on Water street Tuesday conducted by Revs. N. O. Gibson and Avery Donovan. A quartette "Servant of God" was rendered by Mrs. Allan A. Harris, Miss Clara Usilton, W. W. Chapman and Fred. G. Usilton. The interment took place in Chester Cemetery, C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The bearers were Chas. S. Smith, W. W. Hubbard, Robert Loud, Lewis Price, A. A. Harris, J. G. Metcalfe, Wm. B. Usilton, W. W. Chapman. The floral tributes were lovely.

After weeks of intense suffering, Mrs. Augusta M. Bowers, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William R. Aldridge, Tuesday at 6 o'clock, aged 81, She was the widow of Rev. Daniel Bowers who died in Baltimore in 1871, when the Maryland Conference was in session here. His remains were met at the boat by the whole conference and accompanied to the cemetery. The deceased was the oldest, in point of service, of Christ M. P. Church. For more than forty years she was superintendent of the primary class and many men and women scattered far and wide recall her wholesome training when they were children. What a grand record! Faithful, loyal and devoted to the work of her master. For 20 years she has been President of the Ladies' Aid Society and seldom missed being present to greet the incoming pastors with their families. Her whole life was given up to His service and doing what she could to aid His cause in the world. She is survived by two children, Thos. D. Bowers, postmaster of Chestertown, and Mrs. Mary R. Aldridge, widow of the late Wm. R. Aldridge, also several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

During all the days of her suffering her loved ones ministered unto her and kept constant vigil over her every wish. Her distinguished second son, Dr. J. S. Bowers, died a few years ago.

Funeral services will be held from her late home Saturday morning at eleven o'clock, interment in the family lot in Chester Cemetery. The Rev. N. O. Gibson will have charge of services and undertaker Charles L. Dodd in charge of burial arrangements. The pall bearers will be: Paul J. Wilkinson, James G. Metcalfe, W. W. Hubbard, Wm. B. Copper, Fred. G. Usilton, Dr. H. L. Dodd and James W. Chapman, Jr., and J. D. Bacchus.

Lucy S. Primrose, wife of Wynard L. Baylis, died at Ashley, Del., on April 20, 1921. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral at Ashley, Del., on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment private.

Mrs. Hannah A. S. Lockwood, widow of the late J. J. Lockwood, died at her home near Chesterville, on Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock, aged 87 years. Funeral took place at St. Ann's P. E. Church, near Middletown, on Friday at 2'clock, Wm. H. Krusen, undertaker.

Mrs. Nancy Dodson, widow of the late William Dodson, of Chesterville, died at the home of her son, near Millington, on Monday evening, of paralysis, aged 78 years. She leaves one son, William, and one daughter, Mrs. A. L. Hudson, of Baltimore. Funeral services will be held at St. Paul's Church on Thursday morning, at 11 o'clock, Rev. S. S. Hepburn and Rev. Dr. Dickerson, officiating; undertaker, Wm. H. Krusen.
