Dockets of the Federal courts thruout the country are swamped with fake stock swindling cases in which more than $140,000,000 has been taken from incautious investors, Attorney General Daugherty said. There are, he added, a total of 480 of these cases in the Federal courts in which 874 persons have been arrested or indicted. "It would take one judge, working 12 months a year, one million years to clean up the docket," Mr. Daughrty said. Isn't this enough to make Kent county investors think twice before sending their money away? Queen Anne's countians lost $500,000 in fake concerns last year and Kent countians have not missed. "Work for the money and throw it away," has been the experience of many.

Notwithstanding the fact that the last year has been a disastrous one in the seafood business in Maryland, the Conservation Commission has presented to the Legislature various tax measures similar to those defeated at the last session. The measures which are now before the General Assembly provide increased taxes on nearly every branch of the seafood industry, and present a fearful prospect to those who are engaged in the various branches of the crab and oyster industry in this State.

One of the provisions of the proposed measures increases the crabbing license fee from $1 to $2.50; another provision doubles the inspection tax now collected on oysters, and makes it necessary to pay 2 cents per bushel inspection fee on every bushel of oysters caught in Maryland water, the bill further stipulating that this tax shall be paid by the catcher; tonging license fees are raised, crab packing licenses are increased, and all along the line there is a general increase in the tax burdens which are already proving a serious handicap to those engaged in the various branches of the crab and oyster business.

Strong opposition will develop to these measures among the delegation from the tide-water counties, as the sentiment among those engaged in the seafood industry is solidly against them.

The following from W. M. Compton, of Janetsville, is a fair presentation: I should like to ask the General Assembly of Maryland which they think the people of Maryland regard as of greater importance, the redemption of a petty party platform pledge or the passing of a bill providing for the co-operation of the State with the Federal Government in upholding the supreme law of the nation? We would not criticise party men who advocate party pledges, but the people of Maryland will never approve by ballot an act that increases the representation of that type of men that would defeat a law enforcement bill. If I inflict a wound upon any organ remember of the human body, I commit an offense against the whole personality. If I plunge a dagger into the Eighteenth Amendment, I strike a death blow at all constituted authority, and particularly at that document that every American citizen hold dear.

Will the old State of Maryland continue to wink at violation of law, encourage an attitude of anarchy toward the Constitution, and virtually say, "Go to it, boys; violate every law that is not to your liking"? I cannot believe it. Prohibition is no longer an issue. The U. S. Congress and the State Legislatures have acted upon that question. It is now a question of loyalty or disloyalty, law or lawlessness, government or anarchy. Will Md. take her place with the other States of the Union and co-operate with the Federal Government in upholding the supreme law of the land? We believe she will. The people of the State await the verdict of the gentlemen chosen to frame their laws. Kent's three men have promised to stand by law enforcement as every law-abiding citizen should do.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

E. C. Bowers introduced bills to reduce compensation of judges Orphans' Court of Kent county, to reduce compensation of County Roads Engineer, and to reduce compensation of County Treasurer.

Charles L. Miller introduced bills to permit beating of waters for fish in Kent. Also authorizing $13,000 bond issue for Rock Hall and increase in tax to provide for same.

Thursday was the women's own day at Annapolis. Their attendance at three separate hearings before committees, and on a regular session of the House made it a full day for them. but, strenuous as it was, they emerged triumphant from the conflict since their favorite measure, the "Equal Rights Bill," passed to its third reading in the House with the very encouraging vote of 88 to 9. The vote on jury duty cut out the compulsory clause and left it optional.

Wants State To Take Washington College.

Giving the Governor of the State the power to appoint 12 members of the Board of Governors of Washington College, at Chestertown, thereby practically placing the institution under State control, a bill was introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Senator Russell of Kent county amending the charter of the college. Senator Russell. explaining the proposed change, said he understood the present board of governors were in sympathy with the provisions of the bill. Under the amended charter the Alumni Association of Washington College would have the right also to name 12 members of the governing board and the president would be selected by these 24 members. The bill also stipulates that the Governor shall have the right to name one member from each of the nine Eastern Shore counties in selecting the appointments made by him, while the Alumni Association must also choose a member from each of the Eastern Shore counties. Both the Governor and the Alumni Association then choose, under the provisions of the bill, three additional members each these to be selected at large, either residents of the State or otherwise.

COUNTY-WIDE FARMERS' MEETING HELD FRIDAY

The Court-House was fairly filled with farmers last Friday, February 10th, when a county-wide meeting was held. The meeting was called to order at 1:30 p. m. by Mr. D. W. Ingersoll, chairman of the Kent county Agricultural Council, which organization called the meeting.

County Agent H. B. Derrick gave a talk on the "Inoculation of Clovers." He spoke of the poor stands of clover in Kent county, enumerated the various causes for poor stands, explained the relation of bacteria to a good growth of clover, and brought to the attention of the farmers that the Department of Agriculture would furnish free of charge, to any and all farmers enough bacteria culture to inoculate one bushel of seed of any legume. Mr. Derrick then urged every farmer to secure this culture for his clover seed and inoculate one bushel of seed, plant it by itself, and report the results to the County Agent next summer. He then distributed cards used to send for the culture and stated he had secured a quantity of them for the use of the farmers.

The chairman then directed the attention of the meeting to the Labor conditions in Kent county and called for comments. The success of the scale of wages in effect in 1921 was brought out by several and was declared to have been fair both to the laborer and to the farmer. The present conditions with respect to farm labor were summed up to be, that, what the farmer could afford to pay, the laborer could not live on. Here, the farmers showed their interest in the farm laborers and said the "laborer was worthy of his hire" and that a living wage would be paid him.

A tentative scale of wages for 1922 had been drawn up by the Agricultural Council and was presented to the meeting. It was discussed item by item and the following was adopted for 1922:

1. A standard day's work on a farm: from sun up to sun down.
2. The maximum wage for a month Laborer: Twenty dollars ($20.00) per month, with board and keep laborers horse, or, Twenty-five dollars (25.00) per month, with board and not keep laborers horse.
3. The maximum wage for a Day Laborer: Seventy-five cents ($ .75) per day, with board for regular work.
4. The maximum wage for Special Work: One dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per day and board. Special farm work includes: cutting wheat, shocking wheat, threshing wheat, harvesting hay, filling silo and cutting corn.
5. The wage for Husking Corn: Twenty cents ($ .20) per barrel without board.
6. The maximum wage for a woman's work in a farm house kitchen including washing: Fifteen dollars ($15.00) per month, or, Ten dollars ($10.00) per month without washing.
7. The maximum wage for a day's work in the kitchen for a woman: Seventy-five cents ($ .75).

Growing Feet

What would you do if some one told you that your child was to be deformed for life? Of course you would do all in your power to prevent it regardless of cost. Yet that is exactly what an ill-fitting shoe means on a growing foot.

It is a proven fact that almost all foot troubles are caused by wearing shoes which are not properly fitted.

If the merchant hasn't the right kind of shoes to fit these GROWING FEET he can't fit them properly. I can do it. We sell what we think the best shoe obtainable at a fair price—a shoe that is "It" for the children.

"Kreider's Pollyanna Shoes" for boys and girls, all sizes and widths.

Rubber Shoes, Rubber Boots and Sandals of first quality at pre-war prices.

Our prices are all revised since January 1st, 1922.
