LEGISLATIVE NOTES

The Temperance and law enforcement advocates in the House passed their bill Thursday night. The only woman there voted against it. Gambrill sulked and also voted with the "Wets." Bowers and Miller voted with the "Drys" and are to be congratulated.

The chief plank of the Democratic party platform redeemed Tuesday when the House, by suspending the rules, passed the Reorganization Bill by a vote of 78 to 21. Every Democrat present at the roll-call voted for it in addition to eight Republicans, the 21 votes cast against it being all Republican.

The Senate passed the bill and it now goes to the Governor for his signature. To no measure passed by the General Assembly will be put his name with greater willingness while the members of that body view the successful completion of the work of State Reorganization with a feeling of relief not even equaled by the passage of the Increased Representation bills.

The Reorganization Bill—or law, as it will become upon signature by the Governor—provides for the following 19 departments in the administrative Government of the State:

1. The Executive Department.
2. The Finance Department.
3. The Department of Law.
4. The Department of Education.
5. The State Board of Agriculture and the Regents of the University of Maryland.
6. The Department of Militia.
7. The Department of Welfare.
8. The Department of Charities.
9. The Department of Health.
10. The Department of Public Works.
11. Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.
12. The Conservation Department.
13. The Department of Public Utilities.
14. The State Industrial Accident Commission.
15. The Commissioner of Labor and Statistics.
16. The Department of State Employment and Registration.
17. The Inspector of Tobacco.
18. The Maryland State Board of Censors.
19. The Maryland Racing Commission.

The following report of the Legislative Committee of the Pomona Grange of Harford county was adopted at the meeting held at Highland, February 11, 1922.

We urge our representatives at Annapolis to support the Senate Bill No. 31, which legalizes the formation of farmers co-operation organizations in Maryland.

We urge legislation increasing the tax on oleomargine to conform with the tax which is in force in other dairy states.

We urge our representatives at Congress to support the vogit bill which forbids the sale and manufacture of filled milk.

We urge our representatives at Annapolis to see that the gasoline which is used in all power machinery not used on the State Roads be exempted from the proposed tax on gasoline.

We wish to recommend that this Grange strongly protest against the action taken at the present session of the Legislature in regard to their vote or greater representotion of Baltimore City; we believe that no municipality should dominate the policies of the State and with the greater representation asked for Baltimore City will be in a position to dictate in a large measure the policies of the State. We urge the defeat of this measure when submitted to the voters.

We believe the office of the Deputy State Tax Commission of Harford County should be abolished as the County Commissioners are in a position to furnish all information necessary for the State Tax Commission.

We are heartily in favor of higher education and better pay for the school teachers in the county, but owing to the financial condition of the country and especially the farmers of Harford county, we believe this is the time when the taxes should be reduced instead of being increased, that the bill that has been introduced in regard to a bond issue in Harford county should not be passed at this time.

On account of the financial condition of our country we are opposed to any increase in our Judge's salary and recommend that our representatives at the Legislature vote against the proposed increase.

Senator Tydings introduced Thursday a set of four bills designed to reduce election expenses. The bills provide:

Three election judges, instead of four, as at present, one of whom must be of the minority party; the last day of the regular registration shall be revision day, thus eliminating one day for the entire force of registration officials; the number of ballots printed shall be only 10 per cent more than the number of registered voters, instead of double the number, as under the present law; the chief election judge shall visit the county seat to take the oath of office, and he shall in turn administer the oath to the other officials when they meet at the polling place for duty instead of all judges and clerks drawing an extra day's pay while going to the county seat to take the oath.

Mr. Tydings states the enactment of these four bills will save Harford county $2,350 annually. Taking that county as a basis, he estimates the saving to the whole State will be $125,000.

State Senator Frank Mish introduced a resolution in the Senate which was strongly backed by Senator Russell. It should be a great help to the farmers of Kent county if eventually carried out. Even if nothing comes of it one can understand how much the Kent Senator has the farmers at heart. The resolution requests Congress to pass legislation guaranteeing the price of certain farm products, the contention being made that the fixing of cost production as the minimum price of wheat will at least prohibit the manipulator from forcing the price below what it cost to grow the crop by selling short. Besides wheat, the resolution provides for the protection of wool and corn.

The resolution in part says: "That we recommend and urge upon the President of the United States, the Senators and Representatives of the State of Maryland in Washington, that they quickly co-operate, unite, pass, and approve a bill for the immediate stabilization of at least three of the basic products of the farm, for enough at least to pay the cost of production, but not exceeding wheat at $2 per bushel, corn at $1 per bushel, and wool at 60 cents per pound.

WORLD COURT IN SESSION

The Peace Palace at the Hague—which cynics during the war labeled "closed owing to bankruptcy"—was the scene Wednesday of the inaugural session of the Permanent Court of International Justice, the cornerstone of the League of Nations. The event was hailed by adherents of pacifist ideals as a new milestone in the evolutionary progress of the world toward peace—or, in the words of Lord Curson, "the beginning of a new era of peace and concord among nations."

At the opening session the judges were to take the oath to fulfill their offices "honorably, faithfully, im partially and conscientiously." In their future sittings they are expected not only to clear up such doubtful points of international law as may come before them, but also to create laws whenever their need is apparent, like the praetors of ancient Rome.

Members of the court represent 12 nationalities, and eastern and western worlds. The judges in accordance with the law creating the court, possess "the qualifications required in their respective countries for appointment to the highest judicial offices," or are "jurisconsults of recognized competence in international law."

"Do I think more farmers ought to go into dairying? I do. More farmers ought to produce milk for their own families. More farmers ought to further diversify their own crops, and build fertility on their own farms with a dairy herd. More people ought to drink milk and it will take lots of cows to produce this milk. But don't go into dairying by buying some one's else's discarded cows. They are probably broader cows, anything. Get, or grow, some self-respecting, self-supporting real producing cows, that will pay their way."—A. M. Loomis.

RACE TRACK GAMBLING

Petitions from representative citizens, from churches, Sunday schools, granges and other organizations are pouring into Annapolis in both the Senate and the House protesting against the fair name of Maryland being stained any longer with such a stigma as race track gambling. Even New York, which many are prone to look upon as a bed of iniquity, has long since run the gamblers out of the State. Leaving there, however, they have fastened their grip upon Maryland in what seems to be a stranglehold.

Realizing that the fight might go against them in the Assembly, race track supporters have cast out a new bait which seems in many instances to have been swallowed hook, line and sinker. They are now making a determined effort to connect the county fairs with the race tracks in such a way as to give each fair a bonus of some ten thousand dollars. All of this, they would have the public understand is to help improve the breed of livestock in the State.

The charge made, and it is not unfounded, that the race track gamblers, although forming associations in the form of "farmers and breeders" organizations, have never improved the breed of a single horse, cow, or hog in the State of Maryland, but have corrupted politics, demoralized business, and tainted the house life of thousands of families. Neither is there any question that they have brought into the State each year thousands of dissolute people of each sex who have taken out of the State huge sums of money while leaving behind a pitiful trail of disease, vice and crime.

In one year, one Baltimore bonding company traced directly to the effects of race track gambling in Maryland ten embezzlements. Most of us read about the letter carrier with a record of nearly thirty years unimpeachable service who is now serving sentence at Atlanta because he "played the ponies" at a Maryland track and robbed the mails to keep his family from starving. If we but knew the whole story, we should find myriad instances of the same kind.

How much longer will a great State like Maryland allow such a pernicious influence to wreck the morals of her people? The remedy is at hand. The Anti-race-track gambling bill is now before the General Assembly. It can be defeated. It will be defeated if the right minded people of this State will it so and express their will to their chosen representatives.

Growing Feet

What would you do if some one told you that your child was to be deformed for life? Of course you would do all in your power to prevent it regardless of cost. Yet that is exactly what an ill-fitting shoe means on a growing foot.

It is a proven fact that almost all foot troubles are caused by wearing shoes which are not properly fitted.

If the merchant hasn't the right kind of shoes to fit these GROWING FEET he can't fit them properly. I can do it. We sell what we think the best shoe obtainable at a fair price—a shoe that is "It" for the children.

"Kreider's Pollyanna Shoes" for boys and girls, all sizes and widths.

Rubber Shoes, Rubber Boots and Sandals of first quality at pre-war prices.

Our prices are all revised since January 1st, 1922.
