Obstacles To Wise Investments.

A feeling of awe toward bank officials is one of the obstacles to the wise investment of money by the average person. Many men and women fear to step into the august presence of a president, vice-president or even a cashier of a bank and ask for advice. They have an idea that the banker will freeze them with a cold stare or pierce them with a contemptuous look for their insolence. They do not know that the modern officer has a warm heart just like other folks and that he takes pride in rendering a service to the investing public. Another obstacle to judicious investing is the unwillingness of many persons to admit that others know more than they do about the wise placing of money. If they want a watch repaired, an appendix taken out or a lawsuit handled, they go to someone who is a specialist in that particular line. But when they wish to invest money, they decline to consult an expert on financial matters. Many financial losses would be prevented if men and women who do not know the intricacies of wise investing, would admit to themselves that they don't and if they then would go to their bankers and receive the advice that is theirs for the asking.

Program Of Photo-Plays To Be Shown At The

Lyceum Theatre
CHESTERTOWN

Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22—Thomas Jefferson in "RIPVAN WINKLE." As a novel "Rip Van Winkle" has brought joy to millions—kiddies and grown-ups alike—from the time Washington Irving penned the immortal lines right up to our own day.

In play forms it has won for itself a place unique in the annals of the American stage and his served to make Joe Jefferson—who created the role—famous and wealthy.

And now, upon the silversheet Thomas Jefferson gives new life to this ageless classic.

Two shows Saturday night, starting at 7.15 and 8.45.
Admission 10, 20, 30c.

Monday and Tuesday, Apr. 24 and 25—Elaine Hammerstein in "HANDCUFFS OR KISSES" A story that abounds with romance, action and human interest. Added Attraction—News, Movie Chats and "Winners of the West."

April 26 and 27—CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN "WOMAN'S PLACE." The Woman's Party ran Josephine for Mayor—but they wouldn't let her talk. They picked her for beauty not brains. But when she found her finance was the opposition men's candidate not all the women in the world could stop Jo saying what she thought. Imagine the humor Constance Talmadge radiates in that role, with fourteen trunks of Parisian gowns as her political platform. It's a John Emerson-Anti Loos story, too—so be prepared for genuine joy. You'll get it. Admission—10, 15 and 25c.

Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29—Jackie Coogan in "PECK'S BAD BOY."

Hooray Kids! The baddest boy in the world is coming to town. Little Jackie Coogan was a good youngster in "The Kid," thereby endearing himself to millions of theatregoers; but oh my, how he has changed! They say you will like him just as much however.

Grownups will enjoy this picture as well as the younger folk. Don't miss it—Come early.

Two shows Saturday night, starting at 7.15 and 8.45.
