Washington College Beats All-Stars

Washington College took a close andinteresting game from the Kent All-Stars here Saturday afternoon. The chilly wind kept the players' fingers so numb that errorless fielding was almost out of the question. The score was 4 to 2.

Darcy Flowers, the crack college short fielder, was not in his usual form, and had two miscues charged to him during the course of the afternoon. The pitchers of both the Stars and the Maroon and Black aggregations were in fine form, and kept the opposing batsmen in a state of almost constant subjection.

Carroll, the collegian portsider, had his first opportunity to show Coach Kibler what he had on the ball. He gave a clever exhibition, and likely will be given his regular turn in the box. Hickman, who pitched the last six innings, was even better than Carroll, and allowed a total of only three hits while he occupied the mound. C. Usilton, who was on the peak for the All-Stars, also had something on the ball and made the college hitters look tame most of the time.

ENTERS RACE FOR SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

Former Maryland Representative Formally Announces Candidacy.

Former Representative David J. Lewis has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. Mr. Lewis was the Democratic nominee in 1916 and was defeated by Senator Joseph I. France. At that time the Democratic party in Baltimore was widely split into factions.

It has been known for some time that he contemplated running again, feeling that he was entitled to fight Senator France once more, and under even conditions. Lately his friends heard that he had made up his mind to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination unless former Senator John Walter Smith desired it. He felt that Mr. Smith was entitled to the nomination, if he cared to return to the Senate.

Mr. Lewis and his friends understand now that Mr. Smith's decision not to be a candidate is irrevocable. And with Mr. Smith out of the field, Mr. Lewis has determined to run, whether or not others enter. Reports have been current that Governor Ritchie decides to keep out of the Senatorship fight and run for reelection.

Mr. Lewis was asked whether he had a formal statement to make in regard to his candidacy, and replied: "Not at this time, except I am a Democrat, more confirmed by the war and our subsequent history in the teachings and philosophy of our American democracy.

Church Legislation.

It is probable that the annual convention of the Episcopal Church, which is to be held in Chestertown next week, will be called to deal with the question of franchise for the women of the church, as authorized, under conditions set forth in a bill passed by the recent legislature. The bill is entitled "An Act to extend the franchise in the parishes and separate congregations of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of Maryland." The action must be instituted by each parish, upon petition of the vestry of said parish, and in no way can become applicable to the entire Diocese save by the application of the varieties of all the parishes. The bill empowers the convention not only to give women the right to vote for church officials, but to hold said offices, which can be held only by men under existing laws.
