TALKS ABOUT TELEPHONE

At the meeting of the Young Men's Club of Christ M. P. Church Friday night R. C. Harris, of the telephone company, gave an illustrated talk on the telephone.

Mr. Harris told haw the company which he represents makes every effort to give service to its patrons, and at present the farmer is being educated in the necessity of the telephone service.

In Kent county nearly all the farms are connected — in fact, there are more farms with telephones than there are in Talbot, Queen Anne's, and Caroline counties combined. There was a time, Mr. Harris stated, when the telephone was considered a luxury, but now no business place would think of doing without it. In fact it would be impossible to do business without the telephone in some cases.

Some people are amazed when they are told the amount of the telephone bills paid monthly by some business houses in a town on the Eastern Shore. One firm alone has spent nearly a thousand dollars a month on telephone calls, and if the telegraph were added to this would reach nearly $2,000.

Mr. Harris gave some figures about the growth of the telephone in the big cities, New York leading the country in the number of calls. He also touched on the wireless telephone, believing from experiments now being conducted that it would prove valuable in connecting wire stations. It is possible, he stated, for a person in Europe to send a telephone message to a ship at sea and this ship to forward it to another ship nearer this country, and the latter to send it to this country, where it can be automatically picked up by the wire telephone and forwarded direct to Chestertown.

Large wireless stations have been known to telephone completely around the world, is requiring fifteen minutes for the message to travel this distance. While the wireless is in its infancy, Mr. Harris believes that it will never supplant the wire system, for the reason that the air would be so full of messages that they would become all jumbled up in sending.

Mr. Harris gives some valuable hints on the best methods of getting results from telephone talking. Very often, he stated, people are using the telephone while busily directing affairs about the office. People are not required to talk very loud if they will only talk into the mouthpiece directly. Another cause for trouble is the habit some people have of tilting the speaking stand. This should be kept upright at all times, for, as Mr. Harris stated, the mouthpiece has a number of pieces of carbon, and when it is tilted these are very often thrown out of place and it then becomes hard to bear on the other end.

Mr. Harris showed some interesting reels of motion pictures which have just been made by the telephone company. These pictures were very interesting, giving a complete account of the inside workings of the telephone from the time a subscriber orders a phone until he has it installed and working.

FARMERS TO IMPORT CATTLE

Forty-two carloads of either Aberdeen Angus or Hereford beef cattle will be brought from the Wyoming ranges directly to Washington, Frederick and Montgomery counties. This is the first big result of cooperative buying and now advocated by the Farm Bureau of Washington county.

In the past the cattle for fattening have been purchased in individual lots at Lancaster, Pa., and brought to this section. What really arrived were the culls of three or four pickings. First Denver chose what it wanted; then Chicago picked a while; then Lancaster farmers got theirs, and Maryland took what was left.

This year the Farm Bureau of the three counties decided to establish a standard in "feeders," that is, beef cattle, just as they had in apples and corn and eggs. To that end they have sent E. P. Cohill across the Continent to secure a brand of cattle that can be found in quantity to establish one name only in Western Maryland.

It may be that Mr. Cohill will select the Pole Angus, the Hereford or the Aberdeen Angus breed, but whatever is selected it will be the one brand that will standardize Western Maryland cattle fattening. Mr. Cohill will be accompanied by L. J. Griffith, an experienced buyer, and the Baltimore and Ohia Railroad is sending O. K. Quinby to see to it that this special shipment is sent through in speed and comfort.

These "feeders," it is said, average in the range between 600 and 700 pounds. By spring they will have doubled in weight. In the initial shipment of 42 cars there will be probably 1,300 head, and they will be bought for 6½ to 7 cents a pound on the hoof.

This purchase is in line with the recent reorganizations of farmers' associations in Maryland, all tending toward handling only first class goods in every department. The claim is that with a standard in each product the selling prices will be better and more stable, the customer will be pleased, and altogether a very desirable condition of affairs result.

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."—ROSE WAIDNER, 3018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well. Just plain statements, but they want other women to be helped.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?
