THE KENT NEWS.

A CURIOUS CASE—Nineteen Slaves Gone.—We observed a good deal of excitement on Monday afternoon, on the Wharf, near the steamer Caladonia, and soon saw a number of colored people, male and female, carrying a great quantity of baggage off the steamer to the wharf.—On inquiry we learned that an old gentleman on board was taking nineteen slaves, male and female, from Culpepper, Va., as he alledged, for the purpose of freeing them in Ohio, and buying land for them. The slaves, however, from some cause, became suspicious that he really intended taking them to some slave State, and holding them as slaves. Six of the number, therefore, broke away from the party and concealed themselves. The man, as one of the slaves told us, assured the others that they might also have if they pleased, and finally all put their baggage ashore quite deliberately, procured a wagon, and took off into the city. The old gentleman, meanwhile, sat on the boiler deck of the steamer, apparently a most indifferent spectator. We ascertained from the slave that he was called Capt. Henry. He was a large, fine looking man, and of prepossing manner. We asked him what the difficulty was between him and the slaves. He merely answered, "I don't know myself—we don't understand each other."

We are still puzzled to understand the matter, however, and the slaves themselves mistaken as to his designs. It is best to say, that they had excellent clothing, a very large stock of baggage, &c., and have evidently had kind and liberal treatment from Captain Henry, who looked like a well meaning old gentleman, and must feel deeply wounded if his intentions were such as he represents.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF SLAVES FROM NORFOLK.—It appears that much excitement has existed at Boston, for several days, against Captain Goodrich, of the schooner Grace Darling. It was alleged that while at Norfolk lately he told several slaves that he would take them North in his vessel, and that after they had paid their passage he informed their owners and they were arrested, thus causing them to lose their money. The Boston traveller, has the subjoined explanation: We have received from Captain Goodrich, of the schooner Grace Darling, a statement respecting his connection with the slave arrests made in Norfolk. He says that while at Norfolk on the 9th inst a "slave runner" came on board and requested him to take r single slave to Boston, offering to pay him $80 for the passage. But he refused to take the slave on board. In order however to inform himself of his liablilities in the case, Captain Goodrich says he made inquiries of a Norfolk gentleman respecting the laws touching the question, stating to him the case. This gentleman advised that the slave be allowed te come on board, saying that he would have an officer and arrest him. Accordingly the officer came on board, bringing five slaves instead of one, and they were all arrested. Capt. G. says he had no other motive in this he did but to protect himself from the laws of Virginia.

THE CALIFORNIA ANNUAL CONFERENCE of the Methodist Episcopal Church commenced its session at Stockton on the 16th inst., Bishop Caker presiding. The Rev. H. C. Benson was elected secretary. On the 19th, the Rev. S. D. Simonds was elected editor of the California Christian Advocate. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we respectfully request the General Conference to take into consideration the propriety of so revising the rule on slavery as to require slaveholders to emancipate their slaves, wherever emancipation is not impracticable, or age and infirmity does not render it unjust to the slave.

Sundry resolutions were adopted, among those asking for an appropriation of $5,000 from the Mission Board, and asking the formation of a Pacific Conference District, and the appointment of a corresponding member of the general Missionary committee on the Pacific coast.

DECREE OF SALVAGE IN THE JAMES CHESTON CASE.—In the British Admiralty Court, the claim for salvage in the case of the ship James Cheston was finally decided on the 4th inst. The vessel having been abandoned at sea, was fallen in with 2,070 miles from land, in a very disabled state by the Marathon from Bombay to Liverpool. After pumping the vessel out, the Morathon out of 23, were placed on board the James Cheston, by whom she was navigated to Liverpool in 18 days and reached there before the Marathon.—The value of the property salved was £15,000. Dr. Haggard and Dr. Deans were retained for the salvors; Dr. Addams and Dr. Swiss for the owners. The learneh Judge said that, not holding himself bound by any rule as to the proportion of the salvage to be given for salving a derelict, he would award £15,000.

The National Monument Outrage.

Washington, June 28.—It is understood that the Grand Jury are still engaged in ferretting out the perpetrators of the depredation at the Washington Monument, some time ago, in destroying the stone sent by the Pope for the structure. The name of one individual, at least, whose duty it was to protect the property of the national memorial, is mentioned as being concerned therein, and other interesting development are expected. Up to the adjournment of the Grand Jury today, however, no presentments in that case had been ordered.

THE LIQUOR MOVEMENT in New York is very violent. The friends of the liquor law on the one side, and the liquor dealers on the other, are holding nightly meetings in reference to the enforement of the law on the 4th of July next. One is determined to have the law enforceed, and the other seemee equally determined to interpose every legal obstable which can impede its enforcement. Mayor Wood's instructions to the police relative to their duties appears to give pretty general satisfaction. The temperance folks talks of appealing to the laws, and the liquor people asserts that to be just what they intend to do, while the Mayor is anxious for a legal decision in the premises. The Carson League are busy organizing their forces for complaining against the dealers, while the latter make no secret of their intention to persecute the League, on the ground of conspiracy.—We may, therefore, look for stirring times on and after the fourth, in the Empire city.

Massachusetts American Convention.

Boston, June 25.—An American Convention has been called by the State Council of Massachusetts, to meet at this city next Thursday. It is said that a proposition will be urged to make the proceedings public. The National Native Americans have got out a Platform of Principles in handbill shape, taking similar grounds to that occupied by the ratifying conventions of New York and Philadelphia. The secret principle is entirely abandoned.

WHITE "INDIANS" IN TEXAS.—Some of the recent depredations charged upon the Indians in Texas, turns out to have been committed by white vagabonds, the only thing Indian about them being their cunning and cruelty. A Texas papar relates the following:

Mr. Walker, at Dripping Springs, forty miles from Austin, being attacked by five men, apparently Indians, and killed. A negro who was with him at the time escaped and reached a settlement and reported the circumstance. A party then pursued the marauders, killed four and gave chase to the fifth, who, being wounded, was captured while attempting to cross the river. But water washed off his paint and showed him to be a white man in disguise. On washing the faces the four dead ones they also were found to be white men- The prisoner said there was in the mountains a party of one hundred, who have been committing depredations on the frontier, all of which have been charged upon the Indians.
