Beck, Esq., took the oath efore Judge Wickes Monday n a second term as State's for Kent county. Mr. Beck distinction of having had on either in the primaries eptember or in the general elec- n. He received near 2,800 votes general election.

R WANTS TO KEEP NCY PROMISE TO PEOPLE

The message delivered in person by Governor Ritchie to the General Assembly Wednesday, recommending a three-cent cut in the State tax rate making it 27 2-3 cents, and outlining an economic State fiscal policy for the next three years, was the high point of the opening session. The message was generally commended among members of both branches, including representatives of both industrial and farming interests. They felt the Governor had "cut to the bone" without crippling any essential State activity. He recommends:

Bond issues of $7,500,000 for roads, bridges and improvements to State institutions and new building.

Maintenance appropriations totaling $14,498,659 per year, an increase of $1,697,560 over this year's appropriations.

That the University of Maryland be allowed $400,000 of the proposed loan instead of the $3,551,550 requested for buildings and equipment.

The Governor called attention to the fact that unexpected increases in the receipts of the office of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles added $1,371,965 to "dedicated funds" for 1925 over the figures for the same funds for 1924.

Senator W. B. Copper said he thought the Governor had struck the "happy medium" of strict economy with proper appreciation for necessities. This was substantially the view of Senator Roe and others.

The Governor called the attention of the legislators to the fact that they have discretion to increase or decrease the amount of the bond issues or purposes, and have more limited powers to cut even further the departmental appropriations. It is not believed, however, that any serious fight for changes in the proposed budget will be made.

NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement was made this week by the stockholders of the Centreville Observer Publishing Company that William J. Price, Jr., for many years owner and publisher of the paper, and, since incorporation in 1912, the largest stockholder and President, had disposed of his holdings and retired as an official of the corporation.

At the same time it was stated that S. Charles Walls, who has been associated with him since 1906, and who, since 1912, has been Secretary and Treasurer of the corporation, had acquired the control of the Centreville Observer and had been elec- d to succeed him as President. GOVERNOR MAKES NEW YEAR PLEDGE

Governor Ritchie Monday wrote the following New Year greeting to the people of Maryland:

"One of my resolutions I consider most important is to lift some of the tax burden from the shoulders of the people of Maryland. This can be done by reduction of the tax rate, made possible through pruning from the State budget everything not absolutely essential to good government.

"I will be aided in carrying out this resolution if the public and members of the legislature will lend their support to the necessary measures in the Legislature. Further than that, I resolve to try to give the State the best, most economical and most businesslike administration in my power."

There is certainly much in this greeting to bring cheer to the taxpayers. The Sews offers its congratulations and support toward this end.

SENATE AND HOUSE ORGANIZE

Governor Ritchie and the State political elements supporting him were victorious over the Baltimore city organization when they brought about the election of David G. McIntosh, Jr., of Baltimore county, as nominee for President of the State Senate over William Curran, of Baltimore. The vote was 14 to 6 with the candidates not voting.

The Houes of Delegates thereupon went into caucus and elected Francis P. Curtis of the Second district of Baltimore City as its nominee for speaker. This vote was 76 to 11, the minority voting for J. Allen Coed, of St. Mary's county.

When the result of the vote in the Senate was announced, Mr. Curran moved that it be made unanimous.

The following were elected after a contest:

Emerson R. Crothers, of Cecil county, secretary of the Senate; C. Albert Bowlng, of Charles county, assistant secretary; Charles E. Simpson, of Talbot county, journal clerk; Frank E. Heard, of Prince Georges county, assistant journal clerk, and Andrew J. Schaab, of Howard county, reading clerk.

The election of desk officers in the House of Delegates, all without contest, follows:

UNION ITEMS

Union M. E. Church, Rev. J. A. Buckson, pastor. Sunday school at 9.45 a. m., preaching to follow at 11 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

Misses Evelyn Carter and Edna Smith spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Smith, near Worton.

Miss Helen Duyer, of Baltimore, and Miss Bessie Duyer, of Hagerstown, have spent the holiday season with their mother, Mrs. S. T. Cranor.

Mrs. Ella Jones, of Centreville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thos. Dewbery.

The Ladies Aid was delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Carter on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. C. Boulden was hostess to quite a few friends at dinner on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Carter and Norman, Jr., of Linwood, Pa., have returned home after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Gibson had as their guests during the week Mr. and Mrs. Chas. O. Kendall, of Rock Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Knierienn and children, and Alex Conten, of Baltimore.

The Dewberry Specials were entertained at a watch night meeting at the home of Mrs. Selma Hansen on Monday evening.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Martin Bowman, who departed this life December 30, 1919. Gone but not forgotten.

Just a thought of remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a thought of affection,
And a heartache still for you.
Some may think you are forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more,
But in memory you are with us,
As you always were before,
Surrounded by friends I am lonesome
In the midst of pleasures I am blue,
A smile on my face and a heartache,
Always thinking of you.
Often in the still and silent night,
When none but God is near,
I think I hear his well-known voice,
Calling and saying I am near.
We sit alone tonight and gaze,
Upon an empty chair,
And memory takes us back to days
When dear daddy sat there.
Another year is ended, another sun has set,
And still I think about you, for oh, we can't forget,
Just as the sun was sinking,
My daddy said good-bye,
And left mother and I alone,
For a brighter home on high.

By his Wife and Son, Paul Bowman.
