That theory and practice are two widely different things were proven in Baltimore this week when Hart, one of the murderers of William Norris, and Telloson, a robber, escaped from the penitentiary. The warden has been trying humanitaria theories but in eight recent cases they have proven failures.

New York gets the 1924 Democratic National Convention, and the Democratic National Committee gets out of debt, with $25,000 cash to spare. The date of the convention was fixed as June 24, exactly two weeks after the opening of the Republican Convention at Cleveland. Isadore Dockweiler's $200,000 certified check from San Francisco, turned the trick. New York raised the ante by $5000 and won after a two-day spirited fight.

LET JUSTICE BE DONE

There is a well organized effort being made throughout the State, especially on the Western Shore, against purse-net fishing. The opposition exists almost exclusively among the sporting class, men who fish with hook and line occasionally. We are quite sure that if they would take the pains to study the situation they would be concerned of the injustice done a class of industrious and honest watermen. These purse-netters fish with large meshes and do not catch anything except marketable fish. They are men of families who depend upon their labor for a livelihood and who are more interested in the preservation of fish and their propagation than the silk-stocking men who occasionally sail out in the bay for a day's sport.

Kent has representatives at Annapolis who are interested in the purse-net men and we feel confident will use all their influence in preventing the passage of laws which would destroy this industry.

HELP TO LOWER BURDENS

The News regrets the action taken by farmers at the annual meeting in Baltimore last week. They passed a resolution calling upon the Governor for an increased appropriation for Maryland University. There is no class of people which feels the pinch of high taxes more than the farmer. The Governor in his efforts to relieve them set his foot dow non large appropriations for Prof. Wood's pet scheme as well as on other appropriations.

Wouldn't it have been better to have endorsed the Governor's action. One may well understand Governor Ritchie's impatience at the demands made upon the State Government and at the burden placed upon the Executive in having to pass upon the necessity or the advisibility of yielding to the innumerable requests for appropriation that beset him. He is confronted by a big job, in the proper handling of which he should have all the assistance heads of departments, various State boards and the public can give him. But the public looks to the Governor to see that public interests are protected. He is relieved of considerable embarrassment by the specific pledges in the platform on which he was elected, and there is no honest way to go behind them. When in doubt the wise thing to do is to resolve the doubt in favor of the taxpayers. In the matter of spending, they want to get back to earth.

A warning of the deadliness of the exhaust of an automobile has been sent to motorists of Kent county by the United States Bureau of Mines. The deaths from warming up engines in garages before opening the doors, are continuing. Recent experiments show that exhaust gases have from 2.4 to 9.5 per cent of carbon monodixe and that from four-fifths of one per cent is sufficient to kill a person in an hour.

KILL THIS BILL

Plans are on foot to introduce a bill at the current session of the Legislature, legalizing the showing of motion pictures for commercial purposes on the Sabbath Day. We hope that the representatives from Kent county will be in the forefront of those who will actively and energetically oppose this iniquitous proposition.

So far as Kent county is concerned, we are quite confident that the passage of the measure would, in no wise, affect local conditions. We feel sure that the proprietors of the local movie playhouse would never consider being a party to this flagrant violation of the Lord's Day. But the effect of such a measure would be far-reaching in breaking down the sanctity of a day that must be hallowed if the tenents of Christianity are to survive and flourish. This measure should be energetically fought and decisively defeated.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN PROVED SUCCESS

The farmers of lower Delaware who grew tomatoes last season on a co-operative plan with the Allen Package Company, of Seaford. were handed an additional $3,000 in checks Saturday night at a meeting held in the Jr. Mechanics Hall. The Allen Package Company leased the Ross canning plant in West Seaford at the beginning of last season, at which time they entered into the co-operative plan with the farmers who grew tomatoes for them, the farmers being guaranteed 18 cents a five-eight basket. With the checks given the farmers they have realized up to the present 23 cents a basket for the tomatoes grown last year. There are still between $25,000 and $30,000 worth of canned tomatoes on hand, which the farmers will share in when they are sold. The plan has proven satisfactory and it is said many more farmers will make a bid to grow tomatoes on a co-operative plan with the Allen Package Company next season.

Nervous Indigestion Banished

Says Chestertown Lady

Mrs. Emlie Voigt, wife of the well known baker at Jones Bakery, Chestertown, describes how she ailed for years with Nervous Indigestion and how she abttined complete relief from Chiropratic after all other methods failed.

Three years ago Mrs. Voigt was sent to a hospital in Baltimore by her local doctor. The doctors there pronounced her trouble as Nervous Indigestion and nerve trouble. They said they could do nothing for her, but thought a strict diet would help.

Mrs. Voigt followed the diet suggested and continued to take medicine for 3 years but did not get any relief. As a last resort her husband heard about several cases of the same character that obtained complete relief after taking a course of spinal adjustments from Dr. Dill, the Chiropractor, in Chestertown.

Dr. Dill examined her spine, and found the trouble to be due to pressure on the stomach nerves that leave in between the segments or bones of the spine. Mrs. Voigt obtained complete relief after taking 10 adjustments a remarkably fast cure according to Dr. Dill.
