LEGISLATURE NEWS

Loan bills introduced in the legislature, in addition to those recommended by Governor Ritchie in his budget and message to the General Assembly, total $7,300,000. If these be passed, the tax rate must be increased over that fixed by the Governor by about 1.7 cents in 1925 and gradually advanced until 1930. The increase for 1927, the last fiscal year over which the present administration will have control, would be more than 2.13 cents and would put the total State tax rate for that year at about 30 cents. Those behind all of these unapproved bills continue to push them, although they are manifesting a disposition to make them effective after the expiration of Governor Ritchie's term, possibly on the assumption that he will not disapprove measures which will leave a legacy of increased expenses for his successor. The loans for St. John's and Washington Colleges and the Maryland School for the Blind have been arranged in this way.

Fervent devotion to the woman was expressed in the House Tuesday in one of the few real battles of the session to date. The bill under consideration was the Eight-Hour law for females. It provides that women in factories shall not work more than eight hours a day or 48 hours in any one week. It passed the House.

A delegation of Chestertown business men went to Annapolis this week in the interest of Washington College. A bill to enable the voters of Chestertown to fill vacancies in Board of Commissioners was introduced this week.

A bill, fathered by County Commissioners of each county on Shore, has been introduced which provides for one cent per gallon tax on gasoline. Said money to be used on dirt roads in counties of State.

Justice of the peace throughout the State will have their fees increased by an amount approximating 100 per cent if a bill introduced Tuesday by Delegate Upshur becomes a law.

Delegate Bowers, of Kent county, introduced a measure restricting the shad and herring fisheries at the head of the Chesapeake Bay to residents of Cecil, Harford and Kent counties. The bill also extends the time for taking these fish from June 1 to June 10.

Bills approved include that eliminating requirement that the names of judges and clerks be advertised; requiring ballots to be printed to number of 125 per cent, instead of 200 per cent of the registered voters; making the type on specimen, sample and the regular ballot of the same size, diminating blank spaces and permitting blank spaces and permitting constitutional amendments to be printed at the bottom of the ballot; placing surplus ballots in charge of the Supervisors instead of the Sheriff; requiring nominations to be advertised once instead of twice; relieving health authorities from the necessity of reporting deaths of voters to election officials; providing for appointment of judges and clerks every two years instead of every year and for biennial registration.

Senator Copper has introduced a bill to increase tax rate of Chestertown 11 cents. We have not seen the bill and cannot say whether there is a referendum or not.

There will be a social held at Worton School next Thursday evening to which the public is invited.

NEED A FERRY TO BALTIMORE

The Rock Hall Ferry has been giving excellent service this winter. But what the public want is a Ferry that will land passengers and autos in the city. For this reason the Kent Island-Sandy Point Plan will not answer the call.

There is no natural harbor at either terminal, hence in addition to slips or landings, piers or breakwaters will be necessary and expensive to construct and maintain for protection against sea and ice.

When landed at Sandy Point one would be as far from Baltimore as before leaving Kent Island and it would cost a person without an automobile as much or more from Sandy Point to Baltimore as it would by a water route from Kent Island direct to Baltimore.

No ferry should be maintained or subsidized by the State from Kent Island unless operated in a manner that would bring the most people, whether they be autoists or not, from the Eastern Shore to Baltimore and vice versa.

Terminals can be provided at Rock Hall or Tolchester and in Baltimore also steamers provided to give ample service, transferring both passengers and autos 24 miles and landing them in the heart of Baltimore city for less cost to the State than transferring them only four miles across the bay and landing them over 20 miles from Baltimore.

BIG SALE OF PERSONALTY

The sale of stock and implements belonging to Merrick Clements took place Monday. It was the largest attended sale held in Kent for many years, more than a thousand people being present. Auctioners Jack Jester and H. S. Startt under direction of S. Scott Beck, trustee, sold the big lot of personalty before 5 o'clock.

The sale amounted to about $6,000. Cows sold for about $60 each on average, the best cow bringing $133. The horses sold low. The best sellers were the 50 head of sheep. They averaged $20 per head. Hogs sold high. Implements brought low prices.

LOUIS SACHS NAMED IN LOVE THEFT SUIT

James B. Dunn, Turfman, Asks $25,000 For Alleged Alienation Of Wife's Affections.

Alleging that Louis Sachs, well known in automobile circles, alienated the affections of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Dunn, James B. Dunn, race-horse owner, filed suit Thursday for $25,000 damages in the Superior Court. Cornelius V. Roe represented the plaintiff.

According to the bill of complaint, the alleged alienation of Mrs. Dunn's affections began May 15, 1923. June 5 of last year, the bill claims, Sachs persuaded the plaintiff's wife to leave her home.

Dunn is well known in Kent. For several years he lived at Chestertown, where he kept his race horses. The present Mrs. Dunn is his second wife. According to the plaintiff's attorney, Mrs. Dunn sued her husband for a partial divorce in the courts of Chestertown. The verdict was given for the husband. Mrs. Dunn is said to be living at 1220 N. Charles street.

Kent County Citizens Organize For Washington College $250,000 Endowment Fund Campaign.

The organization committee of citizens met at the campaign headquarters of the Washington College Endowment Fund Campaign last evening and perfected plans for the carrying out of the campaign in Kent county. The following officers were elected: Allan A. Harris, Chairman; P. M. Brooks, Vice Chairman; Mrs. James G. Beck, Vice Chairman; W. B. Copper, Treasurer.

The plan of organization as adopted will include the General Committee, five captains of men's teams and two captains of women's teams for Chestertown, each team having four members including the captain. A chairman will be appointed for each of the twelve towns in the county who in turn will appoint their own fellow-workers in their respective towns.

A meeting of the captains and the town chairmen will be held early next week to work out the details for the campaign.

All the counties on the Eastern Shore will be similarly organized. Organizations are also being formed on the Western Shore, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and other points where the college has alumni residing.

Farms for Gunning Preserve

Mrs. A. L. Harris sums up the farmer's plight and suggests as follows: The farmer, as a class, buys all of the fertilizer made and pays for a great part of the freight carried in the United States. The farmer pays high prices for all of the labor which goes into making food, except his own and that of his hired man, for all of the labor union prices are reflected in the purchases made by the farmer.

When the farmer cannot hire help to till them. When he does not till them he buys no fertilizer. When he grows no crops he ships no goods, and thus pays no freight. If he has no money he buys no manufactured goods, and the United States Department of Agriculture says the farmer buys 40 per cent of all manufactured goods in normal times. These are not normal times.

All will sink or swim together. If the farmer in Maryland goes down, many lines will go down, too.

We might sell all farms to rich city men for gunning preserves and breed rabbits, deer, foxes and wild duck for "sports." That pays better than any other line I have been able to discover in the last 10 years.
