SCIENCE WORKS OUT A QUICK-ACTION TREATMENT FOR COUGHS

For Croup

For Whooping Cough

For Colds in Head or Chest

GOFF'S Quick Action COUGH SYRUP

YOU say, "I have a terrible cough." What you mean is your lungs have a terrible cough.

If you could look down into the inside of your chest you would see things that would frighten you, when you have a cough. You would see the inside tubes all raw and red instead of smooth and pink. You would see millions of germs working like an enemy army to destroy you.

There are too many cases of bronchitis, pneumonia and T. B., too, to let Nature take its course—or to experiment with unknown remedies, when you're coughing.

You need action, quick action. And because you need speed, science perfected a new kind of cough treatment—Goff's Quick-Action Cough Syrup.

It helps to soothe and heal up those raw spots that cause your cough. It helps the body to kill those disease germs. And it is said to work faster than anything else you can possibly use.

Use it when kiddies are croupy. Use it when your head and chest are stopped up, with a cold. Use it for your cough. Remember—Goff's contains no chloroform, NO DOPE. S. B. Goff & Son, Camden, N. J., Since 1872—52 Years of Service.

KING'S FIAT STILLS ALL TELEPHONES BUT HIS OWN

When the King telephones, let all other instruments be dumb! That's the rule in Mecca, where King Hussein of Hedjaz has had a telephone system installed, says a recent article in the New Zealand Herald.

The rule is effectively enforced by an automatic device which instantly disconnects all other telephones whenever the receiver is lifted from the King's instrument. As long as King Hussein's telephone is in use, no other telephone can be used in Mecca, save only the one with which the King is talking.

THESE SHOPS REVERSE CASH-AND-CARRY PLAN

The We-Fone-U Stores have recently made their appearance in the South, the first being established at Tampa, Florida. They represent a chain of meat and grocery stores which have approached the problem of reducing overhead costs from an entirely different angle than the cash-and-carry stores. Instead of reducing the service to the customers, they have effected economies in the operation of their establishment, but without the elimination of sales and delivery service.

As store location is not so important to telephone shoppers, so long as the orders are filled on schedule time and satisfactorily, these stores, instead of being in the high rent district, may be located on a side street at a nominal rent.

INSTALLING DRAW-BRIDGE TELEPHONE NO EASY TASK

A telephone has been placed in the tower house on the new Memorial drawbridge spanning the Piscataqua River connecting Portsmouth, N. H., and Kittery, Me. The installation of this telephone was by no means an easy task, it being accomplished by a counter-balanced rubber-covered cable. One of the difficulties to be overcome was to give satisfactory service during the period when the bridge is raised. The bridge was constructed at an aggregate cost of approximately two million dollars.

Paris is a bigger city than Chicago; but Chicago has three times as many telephones as Paris.

In proportion to population, New York City has two and a half times as many telephones as Paris and three and a half times as many as London.

WELL ONE DAY IN BED THREE

That Was the Life of Mrs. Hollister Until she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyandotte, Michigan. — "After my baby was born I did not do my own work for six months and could hardly take care of my own baby. I always had a pain in my right side and it was so bad I was getting round shoulders. I would feel well one day and then feel so bad for three or four days that I would be in bed. One Sunday my mother came to see how I was, and she said a friend told her to tell me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So the next day I got a bottle and before it was half taken I got relief. After I was well again I went to the doctor and he asked me how I was getting along. I told him I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and he said it did not hurt any one to take it. I am always recommending the Vegetable Compound to others and I always have a bottle of it on hand."—Mrs. HENRY HOLLISTER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 7, Wyandotte, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TELEPHONE MEN HAVE LANGUAGE ALL THEIR OWN

Dictionary Of Slang Required To Understand Jargon Of Knights Of Pole.

"The straw boss sez to me, 'Get out the dinkey and the dolley and be sure the grunt has the deadman handy to set the stick.'"

Sounds sort of queer, doesn't it? But it isn't. It is simply the vernacular of the telephone lineman. These telephone linemen have a language all their own. Just how some of the terms originated which are so common in the craft is more or less of a mystery, but they have been handed down from one generation to another, with the result that the country over they are accepted and understood wherever a gang of linemen may be at work, whether it be in Abilene, Texas, Keene, N. H., or Walla Walla, Washington.

When the lineman talks about telephone poles he never refers to them as such. He calls them sticks. The foreman in charge of his crew is known as the boss and the man next in charge is always termed the straw boss. The repairman is known as the trouble shooter or as the bug hunter. The climbers which he uses are known as spurs or hooks, and the leather strap which is placed around the pole is termed the safety.

The lineman's helper on the ground is known as the ground hog or more frequently as the "grunt." It is his duty to keep the lineman supplied with materials and to look after his tools, and the term generally used for any tool or piece of material is gimmick. The dinkey is the small cart used for transporting poles, and the dolley is the board or boards equipped with a roller for handling poles. The deadman is the forked tool used in holding a pole which is being raised, and the term is also applied to the log used for anchors.

Then there is also the Irishman which, when translated, is found to be what is known as the pulling-up clamp, namely a heavy piece of metal with many bolts attached to it which is used to attach to the cable strand. The bridle wires on the poles are known as jumpers and the line used to draw in a pulling line is termed the fish or snake. The insulators used on the cross-arms of telephone poles are always referred to as glasses.

The forty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the first telephone exchange in Alabama was celebrated recently. The exchange which was located at Mobile was opened on November 15, 1879.

Among the forty-eight states that make up the United States of America, there are twenty-six, each of which has more telephones than the entire continent of Africa.

HATCHING STARTS JANUARY 12

The hatchery at the Bramble Poultry Farm will start its season of 1925 Monday, January 12, for custom hatching and for the sale of chicks, and will put on a hatch every two weeks. This hatchery ran from January 10 to September 8 last year, with an intermission of three weeks in August. Besides a hatching capacity of about 80,000 every three weeks, the Bramble Poultry Farms has about 1500 breeding hens, the largest number of which are White Leghorns.

KILLS 27 DUCKS AT ONE SHOT

While out gunning for wild ducks on the marshes owned by his uncle near Chestertown, John H. Collins, who spent the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Collins, is reported to have made a most remarkable shot, when he killed 27 ducks with a single shot and crippled others. But one other such shot made in this section approaches this record, and that was made last year by W. Irving Walker, who killed 35 ducks at one shot while gunning near his home on Chester river opposite town. Members of the Ringgold's Point Club killed 76 ducks in one day's shooting and others have made equally as large bags. The season will continue throughout the month of January.

Capt. Buck Jessup and party killed 91 ducks on Monday last on Chester river. Wm. B. Wilmer and party killed 33 canvas backs on Lanford's Bay Monday last.
