A sensation! That's the only word for it. A brand new idea.

Something the human races has been groping for since man got up on hs hind legs and walked.

Something a millionairewould give his last dollar for.

Something a woman would barter her immortal soul for.

And now FOUND.

Gertrude Aterton has revealed it—in one bold master stroke in "Black Oxen."

Magic—that's what it is. But scientific magic. It's true.

GROWERS TO BE PAID

Five million tomato plants have been shipped from Kent and Queen Anne's counties, during the past ten days to packing house contractors in Indiana, practically all of which were rejected on arrival, because of bad condition.

There has been some uneasiness on the part of growers as to the payment for these plants. We are reliably informed that the Campbell Soup Co. made themselves responsible for these plants and expected the Indiana company to pay them. The plants were shipped in good order but the extreme heat was too much for them.

The Oriole Shoe Store next door to Chestertown Bank is having a reduction sale. Read their avd. elsewhere in the News.

Washington College Holds Its 143rd Commencement

Fine Addresses By Dr. Titsworth, Bishop McDowell And Others—Degrees Conferred, Portrait Of Late Judge Wickes Presented—The College Making Progress.

THE ALUMNI BANQUET A BIG SUCCESS

The 143rd Commencement of our revered Washington College took place the past week. Sunday morning Dr. Titsworth delivered the address to the graduates in his characteristic splendid manner. "What Seest Thou," was the theme of his address, the three divisions being Beauty, Truth and Righteousness. Fine music was rendered by Chestertown talent under the leadership of Prof. Roy Woodland, Miss Louise Russell, pianist.

Commencement proper took place in William Smith Hall Monday morning, a large audience being present.

Miss Mary Rouse, of Chestertown, delivered the first honor oration, "What Is Wrong With Our Educational System," being her subject. She denounced the method of pushing the scholars thru the Elementary School to the extent of 100 per cent, also the waste of too much time in social and athletic affairs taking the attention of students from their studies.

Miss Helen Simpers, of Chestertown, delivered the second honor oration, her subject being "The Basis of Reform in Modern Politics." The speaker impressed upon her hearers the importance of taking an active part in politics and not leaving the management to a few leaders, some educated and others with but very little learning. The college and audience were greatly pleased by the address to the graduates delivered by Bishop William F. McDowell. He spoke on the great needs of the modern scholar, viz., Thinking, love of humanity, a big motive and conviction that Jesus Christ is Lord of All. The delivery was in that pleasing style of the Bishop's and punctuated with wit and eloquence.

President Titsworth awarded the diplomas and conferred degrees.

The following received the degree of Bachelor of Arts— Charles Lewin Armstrong, Rebecca Neal Brown, Laura Lusby Nicholson, Mary Louise Rouse, Helen Vannort Simpers, of Chestertown; Luther Allen Cooper, of Snow Hill; Thomas H. Owen Knight, of Rockville; Dorothy Shriver, of Cambridge; Anne Lillian Smith, of Floyd, Va.

Bachelor of Science—John Calvin Bankert, Union Mills; George Francis Beaven, of Hillsboro; Alfred Edgar Culley, of Rock Hall; Leroy Savin Heck, of Baltimore; Frederick August Miller, of Elkton; Emerson Roberts Russell, Daniel Hersey Hall, of Chestertown.

Bachelor of Science in Economics, Elias Williamson Nuttle, of Denton.

Honorary Degrees—Doctor of Science, Samuel William Wiley, Baltimore.

Doctor of Laws—James Harry Covington and Alfred Pearce Dennis, of Washington, D. C.

The following students were distinguished in scholarship: James Joseph Allman, George Francis Beaven, Elizabeth Baker Covey, Alfled Culley, Melvin Booth Davis, Daniel Hersey Hall, Carrie Alberta Hobbs, Mary Virginia Jones; Clayton John McGran, leads the freshman class Cora Reed McWhorter, leads sophomore class; Diantha Roe, Elizabeth Jefferson Roe, Mary Louise Rouse, Dorothy Shriver and Helen Vannort Simpers.

The following students were meritorious in scholarship: John Calvin Copper, Henrietta Moffett Crane, William McAvoy Davis, Frederick William Dumschott, Margaret Alice Hammer, Marian Munson Hunter, Charles Malcolm Jarman, Katherine Margaret Kober, Alonza Crawford Moore, Addie Florence Nuttle, Elias Williamson Nuttle, Miriam Shriver, Charles Stratton Stoops, and William Horace Wheeler, leads the junior class.

President Titsworth awarded the following prizes: Philadelphia Alumni medal for best all-round senior, Chas Malcolm Jarman; visitors and governors' medal for highest average in the junior class, William Horace Wheeler; alumni medal for highest average in sophomore class, Cora Reed McWhorter; Simmons' medal for highest average in the freshman class, Clayton John McGran; C. C. Gumm medal for highest average in mathematics, Alfred Edgar Culley; Harry P. Porter character medal, Charles Malcolm Jarman; Simpers' medals for declamation, first honor, Charles Edgar Smith; second honor, Joseph Stanley Long; Samuel Towner Rogers' prizes for debating, first honor, LeRoy Savin Heck; second honor, Charles Malcolm Jarman; Adelphia Literary Society medal, Charles Malcolm Jarman, and Mount Vernon Literary Society Medal Thomas H. Owen Knight.

In regard to the endowment fund campaign, which has been in progress during the past year under the direction of Dr. Albertus Perry, vice-president of the college, President Titsworth announced that much progress had been made during the year toward laying the foundation of good will among the alumni and friends of the institution, which will be productive of much fruit in the near future, and, while he was not in a position to announce any definite sum of money having been pledged, he is confident the endowment will be raised in full within the time prescribed.

Announcement was also made of the presentation of a portrait of the late Judge Joseph A. Wickes, for years president of the Board of Visitors and Governors, by his widow, Mrs. Gladys A. Wickes, of this town. The presentation speech was made by Judge James Harry Covington and accepted by President Titsworth.

The exercises closed with a meeting of the Board of Visitors and Governors in the afternoon at which plans were discussed for the further standardization of the college course and additions to the faculty. The only resignation in the faculty is that of Prof. James W. Johns, professor of English, who recently resigned to enter high school work. He will be succeeded by Prof. Livingood, a graduate of Albright University. One of the most interesting announcements was that Old Kent Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has created what is to be known as the Washington College Loan Fund, which is to assist needy students seeking an education, the details of which will be announced later. This Chapter will also elect a marker on the campus in memory of Washington receiving a degree at the college. Prof. Hart brought from Washington a fac simile of the original degree parchment.

The Alumni Banquet

One hundred and eighteen alumni and former students of the college attended the annual meeting and dinner of the Alumni Association held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening. Lohran Langsdale, of Baltimore, president of the association, presided, and toasts were responded to by President Titsworth, L. Wethered Barroll, of Baltimore, Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Delaware Schools; Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough, Dean Jones and Thomas D. Bowers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Thomas D. Bowers, of Chestertown; vice president, Dr. H. V. Hollowoy, State Superintendent of Delaware Schools; secretary-treasurer, Dr. J. S. William Jones.

The banquet was the best arranged, best served and menu most appetizing for many years. Chef. Gunning improves with age. The decorations made by students were most artistic and elaborate. The dinner committee comprised Mrs. May Jones Simpers, Mrs. Amy Russell McMenamin, Mrs. Elizabeth Burchinal Clements, Miss Mabel Toulson, H. F. Jefferson, Wm. G. Smyth, William B. Usilton. Music was furnished by Messrs. Norman Graves, David and Russell McMenamin, Robert Pippin and Price Rolph.

The commencement at Henderson, Caroline county, took place this week. Jos. N. Wheatley, Robert Pippin and Russell McMenamin assisted Prof. David McMenamin with the music.

High School Commencements

The High School Commencement took place in William Smith Hall on Wednesday evening. Never did the stage look prettier and all conspired to make it a glad occasion. The speeches by Miss Kathryn Smith and Claude F. Parks were beyond the average in composition and thought and delivered in fine style. Dr. Jones was unusually good in his address and sympathetic words while all the participants did well. The program follows:

Prayer, Rev. C. L. Atwater; Girls Double Quartette; Oration, "The Future In America," Kathryn Smith; Piano Solo, "Rondo Capriccioso," Laura Reese; Oration, "The High School Graduate of 1925," Claude Parks; Mixed Quartet; Address, Rev. Omar E. Jones, of Middletown, Del.; Distribution of Prizes, Vice Principal, Miss Mary W. Carroll; Presentation of Diplomas, Louis C. Robinson, County Superintendent; Announcements, by Prof. Creasey.

The winners of the prizes are as follows: Winner of Fred. G. Usilton Prize for Declamation was William Gale Rasin; L. B. Russell Prize for Declamation, Sara Miriam Collins; M. W.
