KENT NEWS.

CHESTER TOWN, Md.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1856.

AMERICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

MILLARD FILLMORE,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

Andrew Jackson Donelson,

OF TENNESSEE.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

Eastern Shore.—Col. JAMES WALLACE, Of Dorchester County.

Western Shore.—Hon. J DIXON ROMAN, of Washington County.

1st. Cong. Dist.—Dr. R. GOLDSBOROUGH, of Queen Ann's County.

2nd. Cong. Dist.—EDWIN H. WEBSTER, of Harford County,

3rd Cong. Dist.—CORNELIUS L. L. LEARY, of Baltimore City.

4th Cong. Dist.—(Not yet chosen.)

5th Cong. Dist.—Dr. THOMAS SIM, of Frederick County.

6th Cong. Dist.—Hon. AUG. R. SOLLERS, of Calvert County.

☞ The large quantity of new advertisements has crowded out nearly all the matter we had prepared for the second page.

The Crops.—The wheat generally looks tolerably well, but is backward.—We hear that in some parts of the county the fly is making havoc of it. But little Corn is up as yet, and many of our farmers have not finished planting. Oats and corn both greatly need rain.

Distressing.—We are pained to learn that a son of Mr. Samuel Copper, near Rock Hall, aged about six years, was last week, bitten by his own dog, which was said to be suffering from hydrophobia—the dog was bitten some six weeks before any symptom of the disease made its appearance, but Mr. C. hoping he might escape, failed to killed him.

Mr. James H. Gale lost a valuable horse and Thomas R. Browne a number of cattle, from hydrophobia, all supposed to have been bitten by the same dog that bit the one belonging to Mr. Copper.

The Loco Foco National Convention which will meet in Cincinnati in June, attracts very general attention. An article in the N. Y. Herald professes to give an accurate statement of the personal preferences of the members elect, as far as they can be ascertained. It gives Mr. Buchanan 91 votes, Mr. Douglas 48, Mr. Hunter 5, Mr. Dickenson 1, Mr. Pierce 107. This calculation omits Missouri and New York, entitled to 44 delegates, the reason being that there are two complete sets elected from each. The Soft delegation from New York and the Benton delegation from Missouri are both for Buchanan. If this estimate be correct there is not a majority for any of the prominent candidates, and some obscure personage will probably again be taken up.

From Kansas—Warlike Movements.

St. Louis, May 20.—Later advices from Kansas have been received. The people are responding to Governor Shannon's proclamation in large numbers. Six hundred had assembled at Lecompton, four hundred at Franklin, and a large company would leave Kickapoo on Saturday for Lecompton with two canon, and all otherwise well armed and provisioned. Great excitement existed, and a battle was anticipated.

It was reported that ex-Governor Reeder had succeeded in making his escape. It was said that he had carried off considerable funds funds belonging to his friends.

The Vigilance Committee of Kansas City on Saturday took from the steamer Arabian a large field-piece, consigned for Lawrence.

The Crampton Difficulty.

Washington, May 20.—Notwithstanding what may have heretofore been published to the contrary, it is understood that the despatch recently received from Lord Clarendon, neither refuse catigorically nor assent to the demand of this government for the recall of Mr. Crampton and the British Conculs concerned in the enlistment matter. Our government, it is believed has not a copy of the British Parliamentary "Blue Book" in the enlistment case, although several are known to be in the possession of members of the foreign legislation, especially the French Minister. These copies were sent in advance of their publication in England.

The Cabinet was in session to-day. If any decision has been arrived at by the executive, it seems well understood that it will not be communicated or officially intimated for some days to come.

The Question of Veracity between Mr. Buchanan and Lord Palmerston.

Washington, May 21.—The President communicated to the Senate to day additional documents relative to British recruitments in the United States, wholly involving the question of veracity between Mr. Buchanan and Lord Palmerston,—ston, while refusing to lay on the table of the House of Commons the correspondence on that subject, stated such facts only as favored his own side, and entirely suppressed the reasons on which our demand for the demand for the recall of Mr. Crampton and the British Consuls was founded. Mr. Buchanan says that Lord Palmerston was not justified in stating on that occasion that (Mr. B.) had expressed himself satisfied with Lord Clarendon's explanation contained in the note of the 16th July last; and that Mr. Buchanan said he felt confident our Government would entertain similar feelings with regard to it.

Mr. Buchanan denies that he ever so intimated. He had merely observed to Lord Palmerston that he would have much satisfaction in transmitting that note to the Secretary of State, Lord Palmerston replying through Lord Clarendon that he fails to be convinced and saying that it seemed to him that there was no essential difference between the substance and the effect of what was said in the House of Commons and Mr. Buchanan's statement.

Finally, Mr. B., under date of March 7th, says to Mr. Marcy: "You must believe with me that the last effort of Lord Palmerston to extricate himself from his dilemma has served to make the awkwardness of his position still more conspicuous."

Book Notice.

Pebbles from the Lake Shore; or Miscellaneous Poems; by Charles Leland Porter; A. M. Lippincot & Co., Philadelphia. pp. 245. We have received, from Professor Porter, a copy of this work—it is beautifully gotten up and reflects credit both upon the author and publishers.

From the numerous notices of the work the following are selected. From private letter from a well known authoress: "I scarcely know how I should address my friend the Poet. His beautiful book has inspired me with such a feeling of veneration, shall I call it, or admiration for his talents, that I almost hesitate to write for fear of advancing some discordant or impoetic idea which may jar upon his sensitive soul. I should have made better use of my time had I known I was in the society of one so gifted."

The Philadelphia Christian Observer, after reviewing at length, and extracting, concludes: "Mr. Porter is deservedly taking a high stand among our younger Poets."

From the Erie (Pa.) Gazette.

"We have been permitted to examine the manuscript of a volume of poems by Charles L. Porter, soon to be issued in Philadelphia. We need not say a word in its commendation. Prof. Porter is a Poet as all will allow who may peruse the forthcoming volume. In his prose writings he is equally felicitous. His "Rambles in the Country" are equal to Ik. Marvel's best, and similarly pleasing in style. We predict for him a brilliant literary career." ☞ For sale at the Post Office.

Personal Rencontre.

Washington, May 22nd.—To-day between one and two o'clock, a scene of violence took place in the Senate Chamber. While Mr. Summer was franking copies of his speech, Mr. Brooks, a member of the House, approached him, saying, "you have not only slandered my State, (South Carolina) but an absent aged relative, (Judge Butler,) and I intend to chastise you." Whereupon he inflicted several severe blows upon Mr. Summer, breaking his stick in a dozen pieces. Mr. Summer was able to make but little resisiance. He received a serious blow upon his head. Of course the occurrence created much excitement, and affords a topic for town codversation.

[By telegraph.]

Some eye-witnesses say Mr. Brooks struck Senator Summer as many as fifty times over the head. Senator Summer was sitting in an arm chair, when the assault was made upon him. He had no opportunity to defend himself. There are various opinions on the subject and quite contradictory. Many were applauding the act whil t others were denouncing it as a cowardly attempt to beat down freedom of speech.

Force Pumps.

THE advertiser has on exhibition at McDaniel's Hotel, Chester Town, one of Barker's Potent Force and Lifting Pumps to which he invites the atention of the public. The following letter from James F. Woodland, Esq., who has used one of these pumps for some time, speaks for itself:

Woodlands, May 13, '56.

Mr. S. Wickes—Sir: Your favor of the 5th came duly to hand; in regard to your enquiries, I can only say the pump which is Barker's Patent, fully answers its recommendation and my expectations. I consider it to have no equal in forcing and lifting water. My well is about 45 feet deep—Mr. Shellcross has one of the same, I bought for him of the same time one year ago, in a well 50 odd feet deep, which answers well as mine, and he says he can force water to the top of his house through a hose. Very respectfully,

Yours, &c.
