WASHINGTON, D. C. ALUMNI MEET

The Washington, D. C., Chapter of the Washington College Alumni Association enjoyed an enthusiastic luncheon gathering last Thursday afternoon at The Burlington and Vermont Avenue in Washington City. There were twenty-two in attendance —a record for this Chapter.

Commander G. T. Rude, ex-'02, Chief of the Division of Tides and Currents, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, the outgoing President of the Chapter, aided by the president elect James L. Madden, '11, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, worked long and hard to make this occasion the great success it was.

After the five course luncheon, provided by Manager Jefferson L. Ford, ex-'14, a Washington College man who conducts The Hotel Burlington, short talks were made by Dr. Paul E. Titsworth and Dr. Albertus Perry.

In addition to the President and the Field Vice President of the College, Mr. Hugh Hartman was an invited guest of the Chapter. Dr. Alfred Pearce Dennis, Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough, '99, and Judge J. Harry Covington expected to attend but were compelled by official duties to be present.

As announced at the luncheon, the officers chosen for next year are: President, James L. Madden, '11, Washington, D. C.; Vice President, Miss Sarah N. Hessey, '05, Hyattsville, Md.; Secretary, Jefferson L. Ford, ex-'14, The Burlington, Washington, D. C., and Treasurer, Gordon D. Nicholson, '98, Washington, D. C.
