WEDDING NOTES

Pretty St. Paul's Church, Ingleside, was the scene Saturday afternoon at four o'clock of a wedding of unusual interest to many persons when Miss Louise Merrick Wilson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson, became the bride of William Mailly Davis, of Odessa, Del.

The church was decorated for the wedding with pink and white roses and peonies, and was a bower of loveliness, making a pretty back ground for the bridal party. Miss Ann Wilson, cousin of the bride, played the wedding marches.

The bride, attired in a handsome wedding gown of white satin, with lace veil, entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her bouquet was a shower of bride roses and lily of the valley.

She was preceded by her cousin, Mrs. Wm. W. Clendaniel, of Baltimore, who was matron of honor, and the four bride's maids, Miss Katherine Wilson, also a cousin, of Ingleside; Miss Elizabeth Jones, Georgetown, Delaware; Miss Elizabeth Whyel, Uniontown, Pa., and Miss Mary Parker, Stockton, Md.

The matron wore flesh colored taffeta, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Jones and Miss Wilson wore pink georgette, trimmed with taffeta, and Miss Whyel and Miss Parker wore pale pink geogette trimmed with taffeta. All of the attendants wore pale gray Neopolitan hats trimmed with velvet ribbon and pink roses, and silver slippers and hose. The bridesmaids bouquets were of spring flowers.

The bride was met at the chancel by the bride-groom accompanied by Ralph Shallcross, of Philadelphia, who was his best man. The ushers were J. K. Hukill, of Middletown; Raymond Cummins, of Dover, Del., and William Rodgers Wilson and Harry N. Wilson, brothers of the bride of Ingleside.

Immediately after the marriage an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, for the bridal party and a few friends, after which the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Canada. The bride's going away gown was a costume of dark blue coat, and hat to match.

Miss Wilson is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Wilson, and for some years has been one of the most popular members of the younger social set. She is a graduate of Centreville High School and Goucher College and has for a couple of years taught in the Middletown (Del.) High School.

Mr. Davis is the son of Mrs. Davis of Odessa, Del., and the late W. R. Davis. He is a graduate of the University of Delaware, and in a well known bank of Delaware. He holds the position of paying teller for the Wilmington Trust Company, Wilmington.

After their wedding trip they will reside at Odessa.

WASHINSTON COLLEGE GRID SCHEDULE

Graduate Manager Wm. R. Howell has completed the football schedule for the Washington College team which will answer the whistle in next fall's gridiron struggles. Games have been arranged with all State colleges except St. John's, and with a number of the leading college and university teams in the east. The athletic authorities are much concerned over the loss of four of the heaviest and best players on last year's squad by reason of their graduation. They are Kelley, Adkins, Schnauffer and Fiore, who have been a tower of strength to the line during the past four years. The problem during the summer vacation will be to secure a number of men of experience to fill up the gaps, as there is not a formidable array of talent among last year's substitutes from which to select a well balanced squad. Frederick W. Dumschott, basketball star, has been elected captain of this year's team, which will be called to practice several weeks in advance of the opening of college in September, in order that the squad may get off to a good start. The schedule follows:

September 25—Maryland University, at College Park.

October 2—P. M. C., Chester, Pa.

October 9—Georgetown, Washington, D. C.

October 16—Loyola, Baltimore.

October 23—Blue Ridge College, Chestertown.

October 30—Mt. St. Mary's, Emmittsburg.

November 6—Western Maryland at Chestertown.

November 13—St. Joseph's, Chestertown.

November 20—Temple, Philadelphia, Pa.

Edward Kinsey, o well-known farmer, living near Chestertown, has been in a critical condition at his home in Cherry Lane, as the result of an accident, which may cause the loss of the sight of both eyes. Mr. Kinsey was preparing to spray his henhouses and had placed a quantity of the lime and other liquid solution in the spray. He was in the act of picking up the sprayer when his small child pressed the lever of the nozzle, causing a heavy charge of the solution to strike the father directly in the eyes, blinding him instantly. At the present time, Mr. Kinsey is able to distinguish only daylight from darkness and it will be some time before his physician can determine the result.

Camel is the smoker's sign of friendship

IN THE home, or at the club—in busy office or crowded street—whenever friend meets friend, you will hear that magic invitation—have a Camel!

And wherever Camels are lighted, men come together in more friendly understanding. No other cigarette ever had or made so many friends or brought so much added friendliness to the world as Camel, for Camel's quality is a universal language.

Camel is more than a cigarette. It is an experience in smoking enjoyment—the finest this old earth affords. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, and these fine tobaccos are superbly blended, as in no other cigarette. The enjoyment of Camels goes on forever, for they never tire the taste no matter how liberally you smoke them. They simply never leave a cigaretty aftertaste. No other cigarette in the world is like them. Millions of experienced smokers who could well afford to pay more will buy and smoke only Camels.

Whenever and wherever you meet a friend, let that be a standing invitation to the sheerest enjoyment that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!
