STEALING FARMERS PROFITS

Demonstrations under County Agent Derrick have been held in Kent this week trying to impress the farmers the importance of treating seed wheat for smut.

It has been ascertained that the 35,000 bushels of wheat bought by Metcalfe Bros. at Buck Neck depreciated 13 per cent because of smut. In other words the farmers lost $6,090 because of the smut in wheat. It is therefore very necessary that seed wheat be treated by the new dry copper carbonate method as shown in the meetings this week.

Today at 8 a. m. the experts will be at B. F. Rash's and at Chestertown 1.30 p. m.at Wm. A. Bell's farm.

86 In Freashman Class At Washington College

Washington College opened its 148th annual session Monday with the largest student body ever to enter its doors. Two hundred students attended the opening of classes and among them were 86 freshmen. Because of the large entering class it has been found necessary to increase the corps of instructors, six having been added to the faculty list as forlows: Dr. C. D. Miller, of Chicago University, professor of physics; Phil C. Brown, of Butler University assistant professor of English and physical training; R. L. re N. Ford of Columbia University, assistant professor of modern languages; Dr. John D. Makosky, of Western Maryland College, assistant professor of mathematics; Dr. Raymond A. Kilpatrick, of University of commerce, and Dr. Esther M. Dole, professor of history.

One of the greatest innovations at the college is the transformation of the basement of the gymnasium into a cafeteria at a cost of $10,000. Superintendent King is in charge and it is believed it will be a wonderful success.

The annual reception of the Silver Pentagon, a Washington College honor society, was held on Monday night in the college gymnasium. At the same time silver pins, emblematic of exceptional achievement, were presented to Calvin Copper, of the senior class and John Carrington, of the sophomore class. The Washington College orchestra, led by Dr. Fred G. Livingood, played for the dance that followed.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, the President, sends this message thru the News:

"Washington College wishes to thank the good people of Chestertown and community for the gratifying and gracious manner in which they have offered to help us accommodate our growing stuudent body and faculty. The spirit manifested shows an admirable support of the institution on the part of Chestertown folks.

"Although the College this year has the largest registration in its history, it has not been necessary to make use, for student purposes, of many of the rooms off the campus because our present enrollment includes proportionately a much larger percentage than uusual of day-students who room and board at home.

"Incidentally this increase of day-students is gratifying to the authorities of the institution because it proves to them that Washington is growing in favor with men and women of its own immediate territory.

"Although only a few of the accommodations offered the college authorities have been finally used, I wish to express my personal apperciation for the interest which this locality has shown in helping us solve what, for many weeks, has been a perplexing housing problem for the college. Those who have offered us rooms which we have not been able to use have given us equal assistance with those whose quarters we have been able to fill."

RECEIPTS NEARLY $11,000

The Firemen's Carnival closed on Saturday. The receipts amounted to nearly $11,000 which will enable the firemen to clear over $5,000.

The big prizes of the week, the two automobiles went to county residents. Norman Hopkins, tenant on the Clothier farm, of near Kennedyville, winning the Chevrolet and Geo. Burk, of Chestertown, taking the Ford. The Frigidaire was won by J. N. Cummings, of Oxford, Pa., who sold it to Dr. Hughes for $150; the living room set by J. H. Markler, of Seaford, Del.; and the bed spread by Mrs. Ernest H. Strong, of Chestertown. The horse-shoe pitching cup was won by Raymond Gosman, of Still Pond.

The cake booth, with Mrs. Frank V. Simpers at its head wishes to express appreciation to the people who so willingly contributed cakes.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BOARDS MEET AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The regular semi-annual meeting of county commissioners of the Eastern Shore, accompanied by the staffs, opened Monday morning in William Smith Hall, Washington College. In addition to three or more commissioners from each of the nine counties the membership included all the county engineers and other officers from each county. The official hosts were the commissioners of Kent, Jesse H. Usilton, president of the local body, opened the proceedings at 10.30 o'clock, with an address of welcome preceded by the invocation by Dr. Titsworth. John A. Baker, of Dorchester county, president of the associated body of commissioners presided over the sessions. H. H. Balch, of Talbot county, was secretary and treasurer.

The sessions were given over to a business meeting and discussions of various problems confronting Shore commissioners and road engineers. At noon a splendid dinner was served in the college gymnasium by ladies of St. James M. P. Church. After the repast speeches were made by Senator Roe, Senator W. F. Russell, Henry P. Turner and Dr. Franklin. The discussions were enlightening and helpful. Committees were named to formulate suggestions for legislative action said committees to meet in November after the election.

MISS ANNA COOK COLEMAN WINS POPULARITY CONTEST HERE

Miss Anna Cook Coleman, as "Miss Chestertown," won the popularity contest staged in connection with the firemen's carnival, with a total vote of 24,306. Decision was made Saturday night. Miss Maude Hadaway, representing "Miss Rock Hall," came second, with 16,656 votes, while Miss Rowena Woods, as "Miss Worton," garnered 9,691. The fourth contestant, Miss Anna Crew, "Miss Betterton," was given 7,400 votes. As the decision was announced by P. Medford Brooks, vice president of the Volunteer Fire Company, Miss Coleman was led to the platform and the official sash of "Miss Kent County" was draped around her. She was informed that the prize will be a free trip to the Sesqui-Centennial, where she will be given a place on the day's program. It has not yet been decided when "Miss Kent" will make the trip. She will be accompanied by the other contestants and chaperones. The winner is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Coleman and she wears her honors with becoming modesty. Her father is the well-known teller in the Kent County Savings Bank.

KENT HEARD FROM AT STATE CONVENTION

Six Eastern Shore counties voiced thru Charles L. Dodd opposition to the prohibition plank in the platform adopted at the Democratic State Convention, which met Thursday in the Auditorium Theatre. This was done in the room of the committee on resolutions and the fight was not carried to the floor.

The plank contains a declaration that the Volstead law should be amended to permit the sale of light wines and beer. It also puts the party on record as opposed to the enactment of a State prohibition enactment act and asserts that the Volstead law "has caused a disregard for law and order and a degree of actual lawlessness unparalleled in this country."

Outside of this there was no break in the arrangements which had been carefully made beforehand, and the work of the convention proceeded according to precedents which have been followed for so many years that they have acquired the appearance of a ritual.

Governor Ritchie, Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., State Comptroller, Thomas H. Robinson, Attorney-General, and Jas. A. Young, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, were renominated unanimously and Millard E. Tydings was nominated for United States Senator. Nominating and seconding speeches were made for each candidate and at the close of the proceedings each candidate appeared and returned thanks.

Among those present from Kent were C. L. Dodd, Roy Walbert, Morris Cooper, delegates, S. Scott Beck, W. B. Usilton, Stephen R. Collins, W. Reybold Wilson and others.

Hurricane Does Great Damage At Miami

A terrific storm visited Florida Sunday doing great damage. Losses numbering 350 were noted and $150,000,000 loss of property reported. Kent countians in the devastated area have been heard from and are all right. This visitation will likely interfere with the coming winter business of the Southland.

There is a mad dog scare in Chestertown and the Commissioners are doing everything possible to prevent loss of life. Officers have killed 16 dogs found on the streets without muzzles.
