COSTLY HOME BURNED AT MONTE-BELLOW LAKE

What was once the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Woods is now in ashes, fire having completely razed the building early Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods were away from home Saturday night. A colored man, the caretaker, during the evening started the furnace fire and shortly afterward discovered a chair in flames in a room over the furnace. The blaze is supposed to have been started by an overheated pipe. The man extinguished this outbreak and believed he had smothered every spark of fire. When Mr. and Mrs. Woods returned, about 10 o'clock, he told them what had occurred, but nothing more was thought of the occurrence.

About 4 o'clock Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Woods were aroused from sleep b ya loud crackling and jumped from bed to find their home in flames. It is supposed the fire had smouldered during the night and then broken out afresh while the occupants were asleep. The flames ha dspread so rapidly that the owner and his wife barely had time to snatch up the clothing they had worn the night before and flee for their lives. All their possessions and all their clothing were burned.

The Chestertown Fire Company was called from a neighboring farm house but when they arrived the house had been completely gutted and was then falling in. The house was of frame construction and had been purchased by Mr. Woods several years ago from James T. Jester. Mr. Woods had remodeled and improved the place and converted it into a beautiful home and named it "Montebello Lodge."

Mr. Woods is an ardent gunner and had in his home a collection of firearms of all kinds valued at $1,500. All were destroyed. Their daughter, Miss Rowena Woods, one of the stars of the Eastern Shore Women's Polo team, was in Washington, D. C., at the time of the fire, having played there Saturday with her team.

Mr. Woods, a Philadelphia architect, with offices on Chestnut street, Philadelphia, had developed the property into an ideal hunting and recreation lodge.

A large lake, stocked with game fish, was a part of the property.

Photographic supplies and cameras and other sporting paraphernalia were consumed by the blaze. The property is said to have been partly covered by $8,000. It is not known whether or not the house will be rebuilt. None of the outbuildings were destroyed.

Harrison W. Vickers, Attorney.
