☞We are indebted to G. W. T. Perkins, Esq., for a slip containing the proceedings of the Whig State Convention, received in advance of the mail.

Daguerreotypes.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. Johnson, in another column. The specimens exhibited by Mr J, are fine, and for cheapness cannot be surpassed.

☞Messrs. Ruth & Emory have nicely fitted up their vessels, and will commence the regular trips on Tuesday next. One of the boats will run to Philadelphia, at any time to suit the wishes of their patrons.

Excursion.—The Teachers and Schoolars attached to the M. P. Sabbath School have chartered the steamer Arrow for an excursion on Thursday next. See advertisement in another column.

Reward.—Governor Ligon has offered a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of George Vansant, who was killed at the Head of Sassafras, in this county, on ihe 28th ult.

Harvest.—Our farmers are through with the wheat harvest, and the crop is a very short one. Oats, owing to the drougth, are looking badly—not a half crop can be made in Kent this season.

Corn generally is very small but the rains this week will greatly advance the crop.

Declined.—Hon. Kenneth Raynor, of North Carolina, declines the nomination of the New York Seceders for the Vice Presidency—he publishes an able letter setting forth the claims of Fillmore and Donelson.

Whig State Convention.

The Old Line Whig State Convention met in Baltimore city on the 10th inst. The greatest harmony prevailed and the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted;

Whereas, The Whigs of Maryland, in general Convention assembled, believing that a crisis has arrived in the political affairs of the country which renders it the patriotic duty of every good citizen to use all proper exertions to check the progress of sectionalism and disunion, present to their political brethren, and to the national and conservative portion of all parties, in all sections of the Union, the annexed declarations of principles and purposes:—

Declaration of Principles:

1. That the Whigs of Maryland adhere to the principles of their party, in the maintenance of which they elected Zachary Taylor and Millard Fillmore, and having stood aloof from all participation in present party organizations, declare their intention to maintain their independent position until such time as they may deem an active reorganization advisable, —disavowing all political disabilities on account of religious creed, and the fullest enjoyment of the rights of conscience, neither abandoning any old, or adding any new principle, except such of a purely national character as the progress of the country may require.

2. That the Whigs of Maryland enter upon this Presidential struggle with the Constitution as their platform, and the preservation of the Union from the designs of sectional parties, as an object superior to all party affiliation, or the attainment of partizan purposes;—and cordially invite

"Union for the sake of the Union," in their effort to restore the country to that condition of internal harmony which prevailed between the North and the consider the platform of the Convention which nominated him as promulgating doctrines anti-Republican, unconstitutional, and fanatical; cirlculated to foment discord, increase sectional agitation and if sustained by the people, to lead to civil war and an ultimate dissolution of the Union—we therefore utterly repudiate both as unworthy the support of the National Whigs of Maryland.

4. That the platform of the Democratic party, of which James Buchanan has declared himself the embodiment, proclaims doctrines and purposes with regard to our foreign policy calculated to tarnish the national character by countenancing aggressive designs on friendly nations—designs which we regard as anti-American, and in total subversion of the general principles of right and justice which were so ably carried out by President Fillmore during an administration that was of the Washington standard—patriotic and conservative—and gained for him throughout the country the proud title of "Model President."

5. That as one of the participators in the Ostend Conference, which misrepresented the national character, and caused suspicion among the friends of republican institutions throughout the civilized world we regard James Buchanan as a dangerous and unsafe man to be entrusted with the Executive power of the country.

6. That in the present position of the Democratic party and its candidates we see nothing that promises a termination of sectional agitation—nothing to restore South when the present administration came into power.

3. That in Col John C. Fremont, the candidate of the so-called Republican party, we recognize an adventurous and successful explorer, altogether without experience in governmental affairs, and totally unqualified for the proper performance of the duties of President; and peace and harmony to the country—but find that party, in opposing the fanatical sectionalism of the republican party, to hold a position of extreme partisan and sectional bias—the success of which may tend to prolong the present unhappy condition of affairs, and give room for renewed attacks on the integrity and permanency of the Union.

7. That as Whigs, who delighted to honor Henry Clay whilst living, and revere his memory as one of the great good men of the nation—knowing him to have been honest, pure, patriotic, and devoted to the glory of our common country—we regard James Buchanan as the man who, above all others, knew the utter falsity of the calumnious charge of "bargain and corruption," and who through partisan animosity, not only withheld his testimony but indirectly countenanced and promulgated the charge.

8. That we recoguise Milliard Fillmore as one from whose antecedents the country can expect, in full security, a truly national Administration—firm, moderate and tranquil—an Administration equal and impartial to the North and the South regardless of all sectional issues—faithful to the Constitution and the laws—a National man with National principles—whose conservative character and views are calculated to allay the sectional strife that now threatens the stability of the Union, by compromise, concession, and a purpose single to the welfare, the harmony and the prosperity of the whole country.

9. That, as citizens of one of the Southern and slave-holding States, anxious for the restoration of a kind and brotherly feeling between all sections of the Confederacy, and the eradication of all sectional animosity and agitation, we call on our brethren of the North and of the South of all parties to pause—to allow time for the operation of that great American safe-guard, calm and serious reflection,—and to look to the future with minds free from sectional animosity and partizan feeling,—having only in view the determination to meet the approaching crisis as patriotic citizens, and not as sectional partizans guided by passion, prejudice, and an unnatural animosity against those who should be regarded as brethren by all the ties of a united country and a common destiny.

10. That in the Hon. Millard Fillmore we recognize a consistent and conservative Statesman,—in whose whole political career and antecedents there is nothing to fear from excessive partizanship, national mischief making, or self-aggrandizement, —but everything to expect that will tend to the national tranquility, and the honor and glory of our common country,—and in the language of Henry Clay we commend his claims for election on the ground "that he has administered the Executive Government with signal success and ability—he has been tried and found true, honest, and conscientious."

Whig Meeting.

Pursuant to notice, a meeting of the Old Line Whigs of Kent county, was held on the 8th instant

John McDaniel, Esq., was called to chair, and James F. Gordon, Esq. appointed Secretary.

On motion, Capt. Ruth, Dr. Meeter, and Thos. B. Hynson, Esq., were appointed delegates to the State Convention to be held in Baltimore, on the 10th inst. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in Milliard Fillmore we recognise truly a national candidate for the Presidency, being neither for the North as against the South, nor for the South as against the North, imbued with true Whig principles, and his previous Administration the surest guarantee of Executive impartiality, and of a wise economy in conducting the affairs of the Government.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Kent News.

JOHN McDANIEL, Ch'm.

J. F. Gordon, Sec'y.

☞Judge McLean, of Ohio, has come out for Fillmore ond Donelson.

To the Old Line Whigs.

It is really disgusting to see the attempts of the locofoco press to cajole the old Whigs, to the support of their candidates. Not satisfied with killing Henry Clay by lying, and would now defame the illustrious dead if they believe they make votes thereby, are using every effort to induce old Clay Whigs to unite with them, in the election of Mr. Buchanan, the traducer of Henry Clay.

Whigs! look at this infernal picture, published in every locofoco paper in the country, in 1844, which to wheedle you into the support of their candidates, now talk to you of the illustrious Clay, and the proud and glorious Whig party.

THE EMBODIMENT

Henry Clay, the living personification and embodiment of Whig principles, Whig address. In 1777, born; in 1805 quarrelled with Col. Davis, of Kentucky, which led to his first duel; in 1808 he challenged Humphrey Marshall, and fired three times at his heart; in 1825, he challenged the great John Randolph, and fired once at his heart without effect; in 1838 he plan CILLEY DUEL, by wh foul murder was perpe and a wife made a ac; in 1841, when years old, and g ded, is under 5,000 BONDS TO KEEP EACE! At the age of e PERJURED himself t ecure a SEAT in the Unite States Senate! In 1824 he mad an infamous bargain with J. Quincy Adams, by which he sold out for a 6-thousand year office; he is also well kn own as a gambler and Sab bath breaker. His political principles are preci sel y and exactly those of the Hartford conventionfed eralists; opposed to e qual rights, equal priv ileges, and equal law s & charitered pr ivileges. Also he sustains the fer ocious Alger ines in their deeds of bl ood & mur der!

Constitution and Laws.

The Louisville Journal says: 'Now if Henry Clay and the old Whig party were good and patriotic and glorious, as the Democrats, who want Whig votes tell us they were, we ask if it does not seem almost a pity that God permits the authors of the fiendish slanders of 1844 to polute and poison his atmosphere with their foul and pestiferous breath.'

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Tennessee.—Mr. Fillmore's arriva home was hailed at Memphis, Tenn., with a salute of 54 guns. An excursion party echoed the salute, and took a vote among the men, which was 28 for Fillmore and 4 for Buchanan. The ladies were all for Fillmore.

Louisiana.—"The Red River American," is the name of a new Fillmore and Donelson Journal in Alexandria, La.

"The Daily Creole," is the title of a very neatly printed sheet just started in New Orleans, and it is doing good work ia the American cause. "Fillmore and Donelson" floats at its mast head.

Mississippi.—The "Corinthian Pillar" is the name of a handsomely printed Fillmore and Donelson paper just started in the city of Corinth, Miss. It is quite a spicy sheet, and the copy before us fires a broadside into the Buchanan camp.

Virginia.—Every Old Line Whig paper in Virginia except the Wheeling Intelligencer, supports Fillmore and Donelson, and all are working bravely in the cause of the Americans.

THE SUMNER ASSAULT.

Washington, July 8.—The case of Mr. Brooks, charged with an assault and battery upon Senator Sumner, took place this morning before the Judge of the Criminal Court. There was a large attendance, including Senator Butler and other members of Congress. The District Attorney read a correspondence between him and Mr. Sumner to show that he had used due diligence, though unsuccessfully, to obtain the presence of Mr. S., who had expressed himself as having no desire to take part in the proceedings, and had left the city.

The testimony of Mr. L. Leder, who caused the arrest of Mr. Brooks after the assault, J. W. Simonton, Mr. Keitt, Senators Foster, Pearce, and Toombs, were taken. The last wished to read, in mitigation, at the instance of the counsel of the accused, extracts from Mr. Sumner's speech, reflecting on South Carolina and Butler. Drs. Boyle and Lindsley, and Senator Benjamin, also testified; the last expressing his opinion, from what he saw of Senator Sumner's notes, that he (Mr. Sumner) had his speech printed before its delivery.

Mr. Brooks made a short speech, regretting Mr. Sumner's absence. He had hoped, he said, to have had the benefit of interrogation, concerning his testimony before the House committee. He took the grounds that there are no offences for which the law affords no adequate remedy and said that while he had a heart te feel and a hand to strike, he would redress the wrongs of his political mother, from efforts to cover her with obloquy. His property may be squandered and his life endangered, but he would be true to her who bore him. He then bowed to the majesty of the law to receive his sentence.

Judge Crawford said that as the matter might, perhaps at that moment, be the subject of investigation at any other place—the House of Representatives—he would forbear comment on the testimony and pronounce the judgment of the court, that Mr. Brooks pay a fine of three hundred dollars.

Mr. Brooks then returned to the House with his friends.

Harvest Prospects in Europe.—It appears now to be very generally conceded that the supply of breadstuffs in Europe will again exhibit a marked deficiency.—In the principal grain growing departments of France, the promise of an abundant harvest has been frustrated by the fearful inundations which have not only destroyed the growing crops, but reduced to the extreme of poverty vast numbers of people.

From the ports on the Baltic and the Black Sea, owing principally to the drain of the war upon the farming stock and vehicles used for carrying produce to market, it is anticipated that the surplus of grain for export will be light.

In Germany and Sweden, a long continued drought has prevailed almost without cessation since early spring. In Scotland, in the northern Islands, and all along the coast of Norway, similar causes have led to the conclusion, that a general diminution of supplies prevails, even in those portions of Europe which are usually regarded as the granaries of England and the Continent.

Too Literal.—A few days since, a well known citizen of Brooklyn, N. Y., who had for some time previous shown symptoms of excessive religious enthusiasm, proceeded, after reading the passage of Scripture, "If the right hand offend thee, cut it off," to sever his hand from his arm with a carving knife. He was removed to the Lunatic Asylum at Flat Bush, L. I., where his wounds were dressed, but he died in less than three days.

A Confab.—"I say, Joe, how'd do; how's all the folks at home?"

"Putty well, only the old man has got the miasma, and Sal has got an affection for some feller—how's your's?"

"Oh, so so, 'cept the old man, he is getting old and infernal!" Infirm. we suppose, was the word intended—but neither Joe nor his friend were 'Dictionary people.'

For Buchanan.—Martin Van Buren has written a letter to the Tammany Society, New York, declaring his intention to support Buchanan.
