...vised to hold their ju... ...e Certificates, in view of the fact that they will have face value begin- ...ning with 1927. Brigadier-General Frank B. Hines is responsible for the following statement with regards loans to be made on certificates:

"Loans may be made to the veterans by any Bank or Trust Company, incorporated under the laws of any state, territory, possession or the District of Columbia, but loans cannot be made to the veterans by the United States Veterans' Bureau. It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that all applications for loans be presented to a Bank or Trust Company and not to the bureau or any of its agencies.

While the director sincerely hopes that the veterans will not exercise the loan privileges to any appreciable extent since it will be more advantageous to the veteran to hold his certificate unencumbered, he realizes that a great many, due to their financial circumstances, will desire to make loans as soon as possible.

NOW 22,000,000 AUTOS ON ROAD

Motor vehicles in use in the United States now exceed 22,000,000 or one to every five persons, it is shown by annual registration figures today in the magazine, Motor.

Passenger and commercial cars total 22,342,457, a gain over 1926 of 2,254,000 or 11.2 per cent. While the ...ration ...ever recorded, ...This was to be expected, ...zine declares, since the increasing total in service correspondingly decreases the rate of gain.

New York State retains its leadership with 1,818,765, a gain of 193,000. It now has about half as many motor vehicles as all the rest of the world aside frim the United States.

Nevada registered the lowest number of cars with 28,933. Delaware was next lowest with 44,355.

The registration by states shows that prosperity was more widely diffused in 1926 than in any recent year.

...rest in Grange work is good ...own by the attendance at all ... meetings. One subordinate ...ge has been organized; field meetings were held in different localities and National Master Taber was kind enough to furnish speakers for three of these meetings, which were well attended and have done much to stimulate the interest in Grange work. I called a conference of all Pomona masters of the state twice during the year and with their assistance mapped out a program of work which has been a great help. Grangers throughout the State have taken an active part and have completed 50 or more community projects of various kinds such as our county fairs, banquets for our 4H Permanent Club Camp and cooperating with our schools and the University of Maryland, extension service and all farm organizations.

"Few other lines of work in which the Grange has been engaged since its inauguration have had a more appealing interest throughout the state, and have brought more enduring results, than the boys' and girls' club work. It is also apparent that no figures can hope to convey any idea of the fine results which club work has accomplished in giving farm boys a true insight of the possibilities of agriculture and in fitting them adequately for places of responsibility and leadership.

"The mutual good feeling that exists between the different departments of state and the Grange is one of the gratifying things to the members trying to assist the other i nall that pertains to rural uplift, working in harmony to improve the industrial and agricultural resources for the good of all."
