POCOMOKE CITY, MD.

It was our privilege this week to visit Pocomoke City, as a guest of Dr. Edw. J. Clarke and wife, formerly well-known residents of Chestertown. Dr. Clarke is now editor of the excellent paper the Worcester Democrat.

This thriving town and we were certainly very agreebly surprised in finding such an up-to-date and beautiful place.

The approach to Pocomoke City across the narrow river is over a beautiful bridge, which at once strikes the stranger very favorably. It was night when we arrived and the electric lighted bridge with the wide street lighted by beautiful ornamental lamps was very striking indeed.

While having only 3200 inhabitants we do not know of any town of its size that surpasses it in progressiveness and beauty. It has a large number of really beatuiful homes, fine streets and pavements and a number of industries.

Having had three destructive fires in its history there have arisen in place of the old buildings scores of structures that are models for other towns. We might mention the two splending banks and the Hargis department store, which is the largest south of Wilmington on the Delmarva peninsula, and is wonderful for a town of this size. A cleaning and dying plant and a hot-house and nursery plant are two new industries that are now being built. A number of fine churches are to be found here also. The fair grounds are right near the town and the colored section is confined to one place in the town. One of the biggest assets of Pocomoke City is the activities of the Peninsula Produce Exchange which is a big concern.

We congratulate Pocomoke City and its citizens upon its outstanding progressiveness which is a model for the other towns of the Delmarva peninsula.

ROTARIANS MEET AT SALISBURY

Salisbury was the host this week of the 34th District Rotary. Seven hundred Rotarians were present and a great educational and social two-day session was held.

Those attending from the Chestertown Rotary Club were: President, Paul Titsworth and wife, Secretary W. R. Huey and wife, Marion deK. Smith, Jr., and sister, Conlyn Noland and wife, Sidney Turner and wife Howard Baldwin, Charles C. Hopper Austin F. Shure, J. Thomas Kibler Samuel J. Kreeger, R. H. Collins, Jr., Harry Russell, Stephen R. Collins, Wm. B. Usilton, C. C. Jones, P. G Wilmer.

Salisbury did itself proud in entertaining the visitors. Crisfield was host on Tuesday to the ladies of the party and served a genuine sea food dinner at Crisfield. This Crisfield Rotary Club won the silver cup for attendance during the past year.

Wonderful addresses were made by some of the big men in Rotary.

Ridgely Melvin, of the Annapolis Rotary Club, was elected Governor of the 34th District for the next year. He is a splendid man and will make an ideal leader for the Rotarians. The 1928 meeting will be held at York, Pa.

Reassessment In Kent Now Seems Certain

A reassessment of the real estate of Kent county now seems assured. An effort has been made in the present legislature to have the time for this assessment extended for five years, but as the County Commissioners' Association of the Eastern Shore counties have made objections to any change, it now seems sure that the bill will not pass. Kent and Queen Anne's did all they could to put off this assessment but failed.

This means that by State law, the County Commissioners will have to proceed with another assessment this summer. The assessors for each district are to be named and one for each incorporated town and the start made about July 1.

Several months will be taken up with the work, and when all reports are turned i nthe commissioners will sit as a board of control and review when disgruntled property owners can air their grievances.

All of the final returns are sent in to the State Tax Commission. The assessment will cost Kent county about $8,000, based on the cost of the one made five years ago.

LANDSCAPE GARDENING

Beautifying their home grounds with flowers, shrubs, evergreens, lawns and trees, is the aim of everyone who really appreciates the beauties of nature. Good landscape gardening adds so much to the home and to the daily pleasures.

Arrangements have been made by County Agent H. B. Derrick to have the Extension Landscape Gardening Specialist, Prof. W. R. Ballard, visit Kent and give a demonstration in Landscape Gardening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Perkins, on Queen street, Chestertown, at 1.15 p. m. on Tuesday, March 29th.

Everyone interested in Landscape Gardening information is cordially invited.

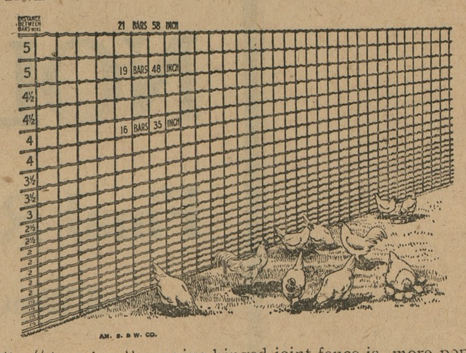
ZINC INSULATED American Field and Poultry Fence



The "American" genuine hinged joint fence is more popular than ever before as it is built right of the proper materials to insure long and satisfactory service. Tension curves are built into the line wires making it possible to stretch the fence as it should be stretched and still provide for contraction and expansion due to temperature changes.

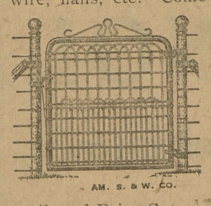
Have already received several cars and have more on the way. Prices lower than you expect. Four foot fence as low as 34c per rod, lower fence cheaper in proportion.

BANNER STEEL FENCE POSTS

Built like a railroad rail—the strongest form of fence post construction known. Carried in all lengths from 5 ft. to 7½ ft Cheaper to use than the wooden posts and make a much more attractive fence. We also have the round posts with ornamental tops.

BARB WIRE STAPLES, ETC.

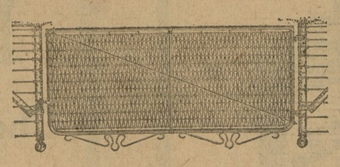
We always have a complete stock of barb wire, staples, brace wire, nails, etc. Come in and get prices.



Walk and Drive Gates

The gate illustrated with fence to match makes a most attractive design for where an ornamental fence is desired.

Made of strong galvanized wire in 30—36 and 42 inch heights. Gates 3½ to 10 feet wide.



Farm and Poultry Yard Gates

The gate illustrated above is intended for general farm use, made of close mesch fabric to stop small chickens, pigs etc. Sizes 3½ and 12 feet long. This gate is cheaper to use than the ordinary wood gate and much more attractive in appearance.

No hinges to buy as hinges come with all of our gates.

Get our prices.

We are headquarters for all kinds of fence and fence materials and will be glad to show you our stock and quote prices on your requirements.
