Gladiolas in all their beauty and varied colors are now making the lawns and yards in Chestertown and Kent county a joy to all who love flowers, and who doesn't?

A. L. Sterling, druggist, received a shipment of soft crabs from Crisfield Tuesday which he readily sold at $1.25 per dozen.

A most delightful evening was spent at Betterton Wednesday by the directors of the Kent County Savings Bank. A sea food supper including soft crabs, was enjoyed at the Rigby as guests of Howard Turner, that aggressive, courteous and progressive citizen of the bayside resort. Betterton never looked prettier than now and every Kent countian can take a just pride in this part of Kent.

Mowbray Chapel realized $208 from the fish fry held at the Cliffs, in Quaker Neck. It was a big success and Pastor Green and his members are thankful to all who helped. Rev. G. T. Gehman of Ebenezer M. E. Church, Newark, Del., and Rev. Mr. Hanby, of Fairlee, delivered addresses during the afternoon.

Real estate owned by Pere T. Forman and John M. Mason recently adjudged bankrupts, was sold at public auction in Centreville Tuesday. The sales were as follows:

Residence of John M. Mason, together with two vacant lots and two small residence properties, purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mason for $4,505.

Residence of Pere T. Forman, purchased by the Queen Anne's National Bank of Centreville for $6,100.

Store property now occupied by the Mason Hardware Company, and for many years tenanted by Forman and Mason, purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mason for $7,650.

The optometrist parlors of Dr. J. T. Power next door to the Kent County Savings Bank have been very much improved and the doctor is now ready to serve the public more efficiently than heretofore.

Ethel Parks, colored and a married woman, aged 35, has preferred a criminal charge against Wm. Jones, also married and a colored man of 35 years of age. The case will be tried Tuesday before Magistrate Olin B. Stafford here. Both persons are from Rock Hall and the act is said to have been committed two weeks ago.
