For their excellent work in extinguishing a chimney fire at the farm home of B. Tilghman Hudson, on the outskirts of Fairlee on Thursday afternoon, the owner of the property donated $25 to the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company's maintenance fund. The company was compelled to run their large truck six miles to reach the scene of the fire.

DEATH OF WAYNE B. WHEELER

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, died at Battle Creek Sanitarium on Monday. He was taken to the sanitarium three days ago from his summer home at Little Pointe Sable, Michigan.

Mr. Wheeler was taken ill with a kidney ailment for which he had been undergoing treatment for several years. He was removed from his home to a hospital and after an examination rushed to the sanitarium where it was at first decided to perform an operation.

Mr. Wheeler apparently responded rapidly to treatment, however, and showed so much improvement it was decided not to operate.

Monday, however, his condition took a sudden turn for the worse and he sank rapidly. He died about 3.30 p m.

He was a great lawyer and gave his whole time to the work of the Anti-Saloon League. The death of his wife a few weeks ago was a sad incident in his life. It will be difficult to fill his place.

TOLCHESTER'S NEW SCHEDULE

The summer excursion season at Tolchester closed Monday and Tuesday the regular fail and winter schedule became effective. Truckers and shippers of the Shore are disappointed that the company failed to continue early-morning ferry service from Baltimore and the late afternoon or evening service to Baltimore.

The summer schedule afforded trucks from all sections of the peninsula in time to reach Baltimore for early morning markets and to leave the city in time to reach the truck patches and farms on the Shore, load up and return to Baltimore by ferry the same day.

The Kent County Chamber of Commerce has made efforts to induce the Tolchester Company to put on a continuous early-morning and late evening service for the accommodation of shippers on the Shore.

BETTERTON

A very large number of visitors spent the holiday at our resort. Some of the hotels are closing while others will remain open a few weeks longer.

An elimination contest was held in the casino last Wednesday evening with ten prizes given. The community singing which has been held every Sunday evening in the casino has been enjoyed by a large number of visitors and also by the local people.

The Betterton Troop of Girl Scouts with their guardian, Mrs. Violet Crow are enjoying a trip to Virginia Beach this week. Those of the scouts who are on the outing are Misses Elizabeth Crow, Ruth Brice, Martha Turner, Ann Crew, Florence Owens, Edith Smith, Ann Wilmer, Ethel Clark, Elizabeth Brice, Sara Harris and Evelyn Brice.

Wm. Mason, of Philadelphia, spent the holiday with his wife and daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brice.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hughes, of Washington, D. C., have been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Arthur Emerson and Mr. Emerson.

Charles Elzey, of Baltimore, spent the week-end with his family at the home of Mrs. Mattie Tull.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Laughlin have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Florence Gladys Clark to Dr. Harry Trotter Workman, of this place, formerly of Pittsburgh, on Monday September the 12th. A reception will follow at the Betterton House.

Eldrigde Tilghman, of Baltimore was a week-end guest of his wife at the Hotel Chesapeake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurfurth, Jr., of Philadelphia, have been spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luike.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davis, of Phoenixville, Pa., spent the week-end with the sister of the latter, Mrs. Archie Crew.

BABY KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Jacob Weller, ten-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob E. Weller, of Centreville, Md., was killed when he fell from his mother's lap to the floor of the automobile in which they were riding as the car ran into a ditch on the road from Christiana Del., to Cooch's bridge, Monday.

This was the fourth fatality over the week-end in Delaware by automobile accidents.

THE BANK IS YOUR FRIEND

We have had occasion several times recently to refer to the banking institutions of Kent. They are, as we have repeatedly stated, the greatest assets our town possess. Good, reliable banks are the best assets any community can possess and they are the best friend of the good citizen no matter what walks of life he may tread.

Recent reports indicate that the banks are in a highly satisfactory financial condition. Year by year, as their depositors increase in number and their deposits increase in size they reflect the prosperity of our town and its people. These banks have modern equipment that places them on a par with the best banks to be found in any city. Their officials are honorable men of proven integrity. They are our townspeople, tried and trusted. They have our interests at heart and stand ready at all times to serve us.

In turn, we should co-operate with our local banks. Young people, in particular, should be encouraged to start savings accounts. A savings account of just a few dollars started today will grow with the years and may be the means of starting many a young man in business when he reaches maturity

A Chicago banker has found that if the "widow's mite," assuming it to be a cent, had been invested 1900 years ago at 5 per cent semi-annual interest, compounded, it today would reach the brain-tiring sum of $563,-100,000,000,000,000,000.

Now that banker nor any other person would say that the widow ought to have invested her mite rather than give it to the cause she did, but every person will point to it as an illustration of the tremendous expansion a small sum of money will experience if placed in the bank at compound interest.

Any school boy can catch the lesson of thrift which these examples teach. Thrift as an abstraction may not have much of an appeal for youth, but in such terms as the Chicago banker uses the subject becomes practical and interesting and illustrates that habits of industry and thrift bring their reward.

The Kent County banks stand ready to help and encourage any young persons inclined to be thrifty in a practical way. Call at one of the banks, talk it over with the officials whom you will find courteous and accommodating.

"BREEZECROFT"

All alone on the land of the lonely
pine tree,
Where the rippling waters of the gentle Fairlee
Come to meet the swelling tide of the deep briny sea.
There among reeds and rushes round
rocks the water flows,
'Mid the splashing of fishes while
evening sunset glows,
Comes the calling of cranes and crowing of crows.
'Mid the stillness of evening clines
the cresent and star,
Over tree tops gleaning casts its moonbeams afar,
Out beyond the harbor when nature
build the bar.
Let me yet 'bide awhile by the lonely
pine tree,
When the air's even pure and the shine is free;
By the crickets of the field, and the
fishes of the sea.
Let me learn their lessons while listening to their song;
Let me catch the fragrance of the breezy borne along;
Let me cleanse myself from every wrong.

CAMP MEETING DREW 100,000 PERSONS

One hundred thousand persons have attended services at the Ocean Grove Auditorium this season, it was reported Monday at the close of the fifty-eighth annual camp meeting. The historic "march around Jerusalem" marked the closing services this morning.

The Rev. Wm. A. Sunday, who conducted eighteen camp meeting services received $5,239.23 for his work here.

The Rev. Dr. Melville E. Snyder executive secretary of the Camp Meeting Association, said the year had been the most successful in the history of the association.

The "march around Jerusalem" attracted many participants and spectators. The marchers, led by Dr Snyder and Chief of Police Walter Franklin, went from one building to another, singing a hymn in each and offering a prayer. Then they gathered about the model of the holy city and returned to the Auditorium for the benediction.

THE GENTLEMAN FARMER

Years ago there was a "gentleman farmer" whose type was fairly general the country over. He usually owned a large amount of land, lived in a nearby small town in a spic and span large white frame mansion and by tenant farmers and hired labor had something to do with the crops of the entire farm or farms.

About a decade ago this type largely disappeared due chiefly to the scarcity of farm labor.

During recent years a new type of gentleman farmer has appeared. Sometimes he is a former Country boy, who went to the big city made good, and comes back to the Country; sometimes he is a City-bred successful business man who buys him a "Country place."

In both cases the farm usually is a toy. It's the boy over again, wanting something to play with. We have all heard of the joke on one of this type of farmer, who, when he had a gathering of friends at his "estate" boastfully told how good his eggs were because they cost him $10 each while "Common" eggs could be bought at the Cross Roads Store for 30c a dozen; how his milk cost 40c per quart to produce while his "dirt" farmer neighbors were getting $2.25 per hundred for the milk, everything else was in proportion.

Most of these Gentleman Farmers realize that their farms, as they run them, are not Commercial Enterprises. They don't kid themselves as much as we think they do.

In our opinion, this movement, change, evolution or whatever you may call it is doing good. It's more than a local incident because you see these show places dotting the hills and valley, surrounding all big cities. They give a different atmosphere to many places. They add variety to happenings in many localities which otherwise might be drab and monotonous. These men are constantly trying out new ideas. If they fail, the cost is theirs. If they prove worthy and sound, the community may copy that which is good. The owners in most cases approach farming with an absolutely fresh viewpoint. They make many laughable mistakes, but quite frequently show us how to do that which we thought could not be done.

The "dirt farmer" whose adjoining neighbor is a millionaire is usually benefitted by the contact. The millionaire also gets an entirely new viewpoint of one of the country's chief problems. So we believe that the "back to the farm" move of the rich man is, on the whole, a good thing.
