Kent News

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1927

The weather during the last days in September could not be surpassed and Kent has been among the most beautiful places in the world. Its rivers and bays, hills and valleys, gardens and fields have been speaking of the God who made them. Did you hear His voice?

A GOOD THING—DON'T GIVE UP

Del-Mar-Va Editors, from all parts of the Peninsula, at a dinner meeting held at Salisbury, Saturday evening, September 24, unanimously and voluntarily voted for a continuance of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association. The resolution adopted declared that a discontinuance of the organization would be a "calamity."

Dr. G. Layton Grier, president of the Association, was host at the dinner. He gave a brief review of Association accomplishments, being followed by Harvey J. Hill, the Association's Vice President.

L. C. Quinn, Jr., Editor of the Crisfield Times, stated that there should not be any question as to the life or death of the Association. He said that like everything else worth while there are many obstacles to overcome and he did not see why there should be any thought given to the Association going out of business.

"This Eastern Shore has been put on the map by the Association and I cannot think for a minute that this Peninsula would permit the Association to go out of existence. It would be criminal to allow it to discintinue when we realize the tremendous value it has been. It is not for a public vote to determine," he said.

A jury in the Circuit Court at Salisbury Saturday returned a verdict setting aside the classification of twenty acres in the Nanticoke river as "barren bottom" for oysters and restoring it as a "natural bed or bar." The section of the river affected lies between Stump Point and Roaring Point.. The state Conservation Department had classified the section as "barren bottom" and open to leasing. Wicomico county watermen protested the classification and fifteen testified in court that the action would deprive them of a means of livelihood. The case was docketed as that of John W. Moore, James G. Webster, James V. Somers and Josiah V. Johnson vs Swepson Earle, State Conservation Commissioner.

The Journal of the diocese of Easton, just off the presses shows a most surprising growth of the church in the last few years.

Figures complied from the reports of the various parishes show there are 2,078 families in the Diocese, 4,094 confirmed persons and 6,146 parishoners. There were 197 persons confirmed last year, 165 baptised and 142 marriages.

The church schools have 225 teachers, 1,709 pupils with a total enrolment of 1,945. Salaries to clergy amounted to nearly $50,000, payments on pension premiums of clergy amounted to $3,302 and operating expenses of the parishes was nearly $14,000 with a total operating expense of all kinds of $62,300.

For special parocial objects there was given nearly $17,000, and for the church's program $12,160. All diocesan and general objects $18,350. The total disbursements amounts to $110,279, and the value of the property was $1,042,650.

Justice Olin B. Stafford, who had reserved his decision in the case of William Turner, of Golt's, who swore out a warrant against his wife, Mrs. Mary Turner, on the charge of setting fire to his home several days ago, but who was afterwards arrested by Detective Joseph P. Doughterty, of the State Fire Marshall's office on the same charge, has remanded Turner to jail here for the action of the grand jury at the October term of court, which will convene on Ictober 17th. Turner and his wife had been estranged since their marriage several months ago, which resulted in their separation about two weeks ago, and notwithstanding the fact the woman had made several attempts at reconcillation, she was refused by the husband, who is believed to have attempted to destroy his home by fire and divert suspicion from himself to the wife. The wife who had been arrested and lodged in jail here on the charge, was released on $100 bail for her appearance at the October term of court as a State witness against the husband.

J. Calvin Hastings, formerly connected with the E. S. Adkins Company here and later manager of the branch of that firm in Centreville has resigned his position for one with the Chamberlin Weatherstrip Company and will be located at Cumberland.

Elias Nuttle, who since his graduation from Washington College in 1925 has been connected with the E. S. Adkins Company at Salisbury, has been made manager of the branch of that firm in Centreville.

WARNING OF CHIMNEY FIRES

Summer is over and fall is here. With the fall comes colder weather and with the cold weather comes the need of fires in the homes. With the building of fires comes chimney fires and consequent danger to property. Last year the Fire Department was kept busy, with alarms of this character. Every alarm means that the firemen must drop their work, or their entertainment, or their sleep, to answer.

It is believed that most of these chimney fires could be eliminated by the use of proper care and precautions. In the first place, the services of a good, reliable chimney sweep should be obtained.

The rules given below, if put in use, would do away with most of the fires originating from soot-filled chimneys.

Fire Preventatives.

1. At least twice a year burn several small pieces of zinc in your stoves and heaters. The acid fumes from the zinc will dislodge all soot and dirt accummulating from the burning of soft coal and wood.

2. One-quarter of a pound of sulphur burned in the same manner will accomplish the same results.

3. A 10-cent package of shooting crackers exploded in the chimney will also dislodge all dirt and soot, or a couple of blank cartridges shot up the chimney will act in the same manner.

Sure Signs.

A crack in your chimney is a sure sign you are going to move.

To see a paper-hanger paper over flue hole indicates an impending loss.

It is worse luck to look in the dark closet with a lighted match than to see a new moon over your left shoulder.

When the wind blows it is extremely bad luck to burn rubbish near a building.

If you smell gas or gasoline and look for it with a lighted match it is a sure sign you are about to start on a long journey.

The annual luncheon will be observed at the Children's Home in Easton on Thursday, October 6th, according to an announcement made by the Board of Managers this week. It will be the second annual occasion of the nature held at this institution and because the response was so generous last year as well as because the day was in every respect, so helpful, the managers have decided to repeat theoccasion following the same general plan.
