TEXTBUOK FOR DEL-MAR-VA TO BE COMPILED

The first book, bearing particularly upon the physical, social and religious aspects of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula for the past and present period may be introduced into high schools of the Eastern Shore next scholastic year.

Noted educators and experts in various lines of activity are collaborating in preparing the text for the volume which will be off the press late next summer.

Designed especially for use in class rooms and for study of Del-Mar-Va youth, the book also may be devoted toward the objective of popularizing the peninsula through libraries and institutions through the country.

Among the subjects to be covered in the book and the writers of each are:

Geology and Geography, by Dr. Frederick Ehrenfeld, department of Geology, University of Pennsylvania.

History of Del-Mar-Va from its discovery to the present, Dr. Esther M. Dole, professor of history, Washington College, Chestertown.

Agriculture and Marketing on the Del-Mar-Va, by Dr. Franklin B. Bomberger, for more than a score years, a member of the University of Maryland faculty, former head of Maryland Bureau of Markets and now executive director and head of the Marketing Bureau of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, Salisbury.

Industries and industrial possibilities of Del-Mar-Va, by Gerrish Gassaway, manager, Wilmington, Del. Chamber of Commerce.

History of education, these to be written descriptive of methods in the three States represented on the peninsula by educational leaders of Maryand, Delaware and Virginia, under direction of Dr. H. V. Holloway, superintendent of education, State of Delaware.

Social aspects of Del-Mar-Va Life by Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College.

For a history of religious bodies manuscript will be sought from Percy G. Skirven of the Maryland Historical Societies, assisted by historical organizations of the other two states.

Carl H. Monsees, director research Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, will be publisher of the book.

SONS FINDS MOTHER AND FATHER SLAIN

When Henry Komanda, 23 years old, entered his home at Grasonville, Saturday he found his mother, Mrs. Mary Komanda, seated at the breakfast table dead from a gunshot wound in the side, and the body of his father, John Komanda, in a woodshed, shot in the head and a shotgun nearby.

The son notified Magistrate Chas. C. Coursey, acting coroner, who, after an investigation, summoned a jury, which returned a verdict that Komanda had killed his wife and then committed suicide. Both were 65 years old.

Komanda, who was a retired Baltimore tailor, and his wife came to Grasonville, fifteen miles from Centreville, six years ago and bought a truck farm which he has since operated. Henry lived with them. Several married children live in Baltimore.

Saturday morning Henry left the house early. About 8 o'clock his father went to the store of Frank C. Dull, in Grasonville, and bought several shotgun shells insisting that they be loaded with buck shot. At 11 o'clock Henry returned and found his parents dead.

The condition of Mrs. Komanda's body, county officials said, indicated that she had been shot before her husband visited the store. The wound which killed her instantly, was not caused by buckshot.

This type of shot was used, however, officials declared, in the shell that cause Komanda's death. He apparently had gone to the woodshed they said, and committed suicide by placing the barrel of the shotgun in his mouth and firing.

Neighbors told officials that Komanda and his wife had no domestic trouble, illness or financial reverses They declared they were at a loss for a motive that led to the deaths.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS ST. JOHNS 36 TO 13

Washington College basket ball team had no trouble defeating St. John's at Annapolis last Friday night week by score of 36 to 13.

The Washington offense was fine and their defense was superb. This was the first time Washington and St. John's had met on the basket ball floor for several years and Tom Kibler's youngsters showed just what kind of championship material his outfit really has in it.

The St. John's boys were puzzled by the fast passing of Kibler's team and their ability at intercepting and their offensive tactics was a sight that the Annapolis lads had not been up against this year.

The team that defeats Washington this year has certainly got to go some.

Jacobs was the star of the game. He was one of the most aggressive men on the floor and led the point scorers with five field goals.

SHORE COLLEGE ELECT "HEROES"

Results of balloting by the senior "hall of fame" organization, at Washington College, show that of the male students. Robert Cavanaugh, basket ball and football star, is the most popular man on the campus. He hails from Waterbury, Conn.

Charles Smith, of Church Hill, president of the student council, has done most for the college, in the opinion of voters. The best bluffer is Patrick Schauffer, of Hagerstown. The social "lion" of the class is Joseph Kloman, of Salisbury, and the best "good fellow" is William Davis. The best athlete is Bobby Cavanaugh and the worst grind, Samuel Canter.

Of the co-eds, Addie Nuttle, editor of the college paper and native of Denton, is the most popular, while Grace Mooney, president of the women's student government organization, has done the most for the College.

The worst flatterer is Dorothy Lucas, of Brunswick, Md. The society girl of the class is Virginia Jones, of Chestertown, daughter of Dean J. S. W. Jones. The "jolly good girl" of the class is Grace Mooney and the most accomplished. Addie Nuttle. The worst grind is Miriam Shriver, of Cambridge. Only members of the graduating class were candidates.

A short story contest, open to all students, is being held for the purpose of promoting interest in journalism in the college. Five dollars in gold will be given for the best story which will be published.

Friday night "Captain Applejack," a comedy was presentedi n Smith Hall by the Washington Players. Leading roles were taken by Baker Shelton, of Baltimore; Nell Saunders, of Hurlock; Margaret Jefferson and Geraldine Harwood, of Chestertown, and John Alderson, of Salisbury.

Famous Island

The volcanic island of Saint Helena in the south Atlantic, 1,200 miles off the coast of Africa, has a population of 3,703. The island was made famous as the place of exile of Napoleon, and is now a British admiralty coaling station.

Americans Badly Led

The battle of Camden, August 16, 1780, was an overwhelming British victory over the Americans. The American army was practically destroyed as an organization. This branded General Gates for all time as an incompetent military leader.

Oystermen!

There's no doubt about it! You will like Converse "Old Salt". Just look at the reinforced instep — double rubber for double wear right where oystermen most need it. And—— a tough, White Deck Sole, containing mineral compounds to resist the action of salt water.

— inside knee patch to put strength and stiffness in leg of boot.
— a quick drying, warm lining.

Converse Old Salt Fishing Boot

YOU will know "Old Salt" by its double rubber Outer Vamp and its White Deck Sole. If your dealer should happen not to sell "Old Salt" he will gladly order them for you.
