EXPECT 25 CENTS TO BE TOMATO PRICE

Although the prevailing opinion appears to be that the contract price of tomatoes this season should be somewhere around the 25-cent mark, packers declined to discuss the situation, and there is considerable uncertainity as to whether or not the majority of canning houses will be in operation.

It is said that the increasing importation of Italian canned goods and Mexican raw materials is largely responsible for the fact that scarcely no futures have been sold.

County growers are anxiously awaiting some word that may indicate just what conditions will be within the next month or six weeks.

J. D. MAXWELL DIES AT HOME

Jonathan Dixon Maxwell died at his home at "Worton Manor" Thursday morning of pneumonia, aged 63. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Nora C. Maxwell, and two sons, Jesse Dixon and Edward Joseph Maxwell. The funeral services were held at the home Friday at 2 p. m., Dr. S. S. Hepburn and Rev. Mr. White officiating, C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The remains were carried to Indiana for interment. The bearers were Earle Pinder, A. Earle Nicholson, A. S. Turner, Charles Jessop, Senator S. S. Beck and Stephen R. Collins.

The deceased came to Kent in 1921 from the Maxwell Motor Company of New York, and by his winsome manner and intelligent intercourse with all won a large circle of friends. He was a high type of citizen, splendid character and with liberal impulses. His purse was always open to the good of the public and could always be relied upon to help in all matters that pertained to good of the public.

James G. Harris died at his home "Rock Point" in Worton Wednesday morning after a long illness of diabetes. He was a son of the late Senator James S. Harris and at one time owned the finest peach orchard in Kent. He was offered $100,000 during a big peach year for his holdings. He served two terms in the lower house of the General Assembly, 1910 and 1912. He is survived by a widow and six children; a brother, Walter B. Harris, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Evelyn S. Harris.

Funeral services were held at the Still Pond M. E. Church at 2.30 p. m. Friday, Rev. S. S. Hepburn officiating, B. R. Fellows, undertaker interment in Still Pond Cemetery. The bearers were Walter B. Harris, W. A. Greer, Roger B. Harris, Arthur L., John R., and James S. Harris.

After an illness of three weeks, John F. Jarman, a well-known citizen of Greensboro, passed to the great beyond at 9.35 Monday morning. He was 74 years of age and was the son of the late W. T. and Louisa Jarman. Mr. Jarman was at one time in the mercantile business in Greensboro was a member of St. Paul's M. E Church and of the Jr. O. U. A. M. He is survived by a widow, three daughters and one son, Edith, Grace, Mrs. Mary Klutz, at home, and Clayton Jarman, Wilmington; also six brothers, James S. Jarman, Nottingham Pa.; W. T. and Charles Jarman, of Greensboro; H. B. Jarman, of Berlin, and Robert Jarman, of near Greensboro, Md.

THE P. E. P. CLUB

The P. E. P. Club of Kennedyville M. P. Church met in the school assembly on Friday evening, March 2 1928. The meeting was called to order by the president. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll was called and dues collected amounting to $11.63

Four new members were enrolled to the society making a total of 38 members. The secretary reported $54.28 in bank after having paid $25 towards budget fund, $25 toward the new parsonage and paying the bills from the play "Ruth In a Rush."

Those on the cake committee for the next meeting are Thomas Johnson, George Kennedy, Melvin McHenry and Robert Muldoon. The boys offered to entertain the girls at the next meeting. The society was invited to hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Hilda Bennett. Miss Lydia George entertained the society with several selections on her banjo.

The girls entertained the boys with a Leap Year and St. Patrick's party combined. Games were played concerning Leap Year and St. Patrick. At 10.30 the girls chose their partner and led him to a table beautifuly decorated in green and white and lighted candles. Cake and Harquelin cream was served.

The Rock Hall Fire Company is putting the finishing touches upon its $6,000 firehouse, which has been sufficiently completed as to house the new fire engine which the company has bought. Much of the labor on the new building is being contributed by individual members of the company, and as soon as the building is ready for occupancy, it will be dedicated with an elaborate program which is being arranged by President Herbert A. Urie and a committee appointed for the purpose.

A sham war conducted by the army and the navy will be held in the Chesapeake Bay during the first two weeks in May.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

A Boy Scout troop is being formed at Fairlee under Rev. Mr. White's supervision.

On Wednesday evening the Chestertown Troop held its first Board of Review Meeting. The Board of Review consisted of Prof. Creasy, Prof. Stenger, and J. Thomas Kibler. There were seventeen Scouts, two officials and three visitors present. Scouts Ivan Culver, Frank Jarrell, and Wm. Atwater passed Second Class. Scouts James Anthony and Wm. Carroll passed Tenderfoot. Scout Frank Jarrell passed the merit badge for music. Scout John Harwood passed the merit badge for First Aid to Animals. The Board of Review decided to hold its next meeting on the first Monday of April.

The Board of Awards of Troop I Betterton, met Friday evening. There were 25 merit badges, 2 second class badges and a membership to the Order of the Swastika, awarded at this meeting. Bertram G. Bruestle representing the National Association of Audubon Societies, was the speaker for the evening.

MAXWELL FOUND NOT GUILTY HERE

State To Take Appeal To April Term Of Circuit Court

Following a hearing in Chestertown Court House which drew a crowd Monday afternoon, Magistrate Olin B. Stafford, in his decision, dismissed all four charges, reckless driving while under the influence of liquor, failure to give the right of way, and involuntary manslaughter against William A. Maxwell, age 55 years, of New York, Baltimore and this section. Maxwell is the son of a former postmaster general in the cabinet of the late President Grover Cleveland, and due to the fact that Ernest L. Ayres, of Baltimore, his friend, was killed in the automobile crash with a team, the interest in the community was whidespread.

State's Attorney Stephen R. Collins filed notice of appeal in the case. Maxwell gave $1150 bail for his appearance. The prosecuting attorney will lay the case before the Grand Jury at the April term.

Maxwell's car crashed into a wagon loaded with hay, driven by James Davis, Negro farmhand employed by H. D. Orem, of Kennedyville, on the afternoon of February 16th. Ayres died in Easton after the crash. Mr. Maxwell was represented by Senator S. Scott Beck and Harrison W. Vickers.

The case created interest on the Eastern Shore because it was alleged that Maxwell and Ayres had been drinking on their trip from Baltimore to Maxwell's place in Quaker Neck. The defendant contended he had taken only one drink during the trip, but that Ayres had taken three The colored driber was the only State witness able to describe the actual occurrence. He said he was driving properly and that Maxwell's car was coming toward him at an excessive speed on the left side of the highway.

An alleged exhibit mysteriously lacking in the case, was an alleged bottle of whiskey, which was said to have been in Maxwell's car after the collision.

Dr. Harry G. Simpers, who sent Ayers to Easton Hospital, where he died, testified that Maxwell told him that two bottles of liquor were in the car; that the two men had drunk from one of them, and that one was missing after the accident, but neither of the bottles has been found since the affair. The defense asserted that it was a ginger ale bottle full of water. Mrs. Maxwell testified that her husband had filled such a ginger ale bottle with water just before leaving his Baltimore apartment for Chestertown.

Maxwell said that he had been driving a car for 25 years and that he had never had an accident before.

No trace has been found of the three prisoners who escaped from the jail here atmidnight Thursday night. Sheriff J. Thomas Hadaway and his deputies spent the entire day Friday searching the Negro haunts of the county and police authorities in all the large cities have been notified. It is believed that the prisoners have made their escape into Delaware and may be headed for Wilmington or Chester, Pa.

The [illegible] Adkins Company with [illegible] Chestertown, Centreville [illegible]y is now constructing a [illegible]er yard at Easton.

POULTRY, DAIRY MEETING HELD

William Smith Hall at Washington College was filled Tuesday evening. with interested men, women and children who attended a meeting in the interest of dairy and poultry. P. Medford Brooks, the feed man, staged the "show" and A. W. Carpetner from the Larro plant conducted the program and gave the lecture.

It was certainly a wonderful exhibition showing reels of poultry and dairy features. Mr. Carpenter told and showed how his company handled 75 dairy cattle and 15,000 birds with all makes of feed under all conditions. He proved the importance of weeding out "boarders" among cattle and poultry and it is confidently believed that our farmers will profit by the meeting.

Mr. Carpenter stated that care is now being taken in the trap-nesting of chickens, the main object being to secure the number of eggs laid by the hen, these eggs being marked and a record kept of them by the owner of the flocks.

He says hens producting less than 200 eggs a year could hardly be classed in the flocks for breeding, but such hens are reserved and given a class themselves. Special attention is given the male birds hatched from the blooded stock, as they are rated according to the number of eggs laid by the mother bird, the idea being to transmit the same breed of chickens from which the male bird came, etc., etc.

FIRE DESTROYS WOOD HOME

Nearly overcome by smoke, but finding their way by the stairways County Commissioner Charles Wood, his wife and daughter, early Tuesday morning, managed to escape when fire destroyed their home in Piney Neck.

The dwelling, a $5,000 frame affair, was burned to the ground, about $50 in money, several important papers, and all of the family's clothing and effects were burned. The piano was about the only thing saved.

The fire broke out about 12 o'clock Tuesday morning. It was detected by Miss Elizabeth Wood who was awakened by the smoke, and quickly aroused her father and mother. By this time, the fire had spread over the entire first floor and the whole house seemed to be doomed. Mr. Wood managed to reach the phone and called up Rock Hall fire department and they were soon on the scene doing their part. They were unable to save the house but did good work in preventing any of the outbuildings from destruction.

Mr. Wood had recently improved the dwelling with a covering of shingles and had been to Rock Hall on Monday to pay the balance owing on the work.

It was a heartrending scene the Rock Hall firemen looked upon at their arrival. The three occupants of the home escaped in their night clothes and took refuge in a small house close at hand, while the home was enveloped in smoke and flames. The fire is believed to have started from a defective flue in the kitchen chimney.

The damage is partially covered by insurance.

NATIONAL FARM EQUIPMENT WEEK

Farm equipment dealers in every farm community in the United States are getting ready to show their farm customers the largest models in time and labor-saving farm machinery and equipment during Farm Equipment Week, March 12 to 17th and Jones and Satterfield will observe Farm Equipment Week in Chestertown with exhibits of their full line of farm machinery.

Factories are rushing out their newest machines to dealers in every part of the country to be ready for display during the Week so that farmers can look them over and decide what they need to reduce labor costs and increase yields while they produce their 1928 crops with a minimum of hired help. In the South, cotton planters, fertilizer distributors, cultivators; in the West, subsoilers, orchard tools, tractors, irrigation machinery, beet and bean tools; in the Corn belt, tractors, 2, 3, and 4-row cultivators and planters, binders, drills, gas engines, barn and dairy equipment, water systems, potato and orchard equipment will be shown. Watch for local dealer's ads announcing their displays and special programs.
