The candidacy of William P. Jackson, of Salisbury, for reelection as Republican National Committman and the Marchant-Lowndes-Jackson slate of delegates to the party State convention were indorsed Monday night at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee for Baltimore city. The vote was 26 to 14. Two members of the committee were absent.

5-8 BUSHEL BASKET SAVED

"Standard Package" Bill Amended To Include Popular Hamper.

The five-eighths bushel basket, dear to the heart of the farmers and shippers of Eastern Shore, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware for more than 40 years, has been saved.

It was on the way to oblivion when the United States Senate, through Senator Bruce, and Senators from States most affected by the proposed change, leaped to the defense.

In a move to get rid of so-called "deceptive packages" in interstate shipnment of fruits and vegetables, which is backed by the Department of Agriculture, a bill has been prepared and is awaiting passage establishing standard packages.

These were fixed at one-eighth, one-quarter, one-half, three-fourths bushel, one bushel, one and one-quarter gushels, one and one-half bushels and two-bushel hampers for fruits and vegetables.

This eliminated the five-eighths bushel hamper, a standard in this section for produce growers for many years.

Senator Edge, of New Jersey; Senator Bayard, of Delaware, and Senator Bruce, of Maryland, all presented amendments putting the five-eighths-bushel hamper back in the list. The amendments virtually were all alike Senator Bruce's was adopted by the Senate.

Good for Senator Bruce.

FERTILIZING CORN

The average yield of corn per acre, grown in Kent County for 1926, was only 34 bushels. The State average for the same year was 39.8 bushels per acre. Kent produced 5.8 bushels corn less per acre than the average for the whole State. Harford County's average yield was 51 bushels per acre or 17 bushels more than Kent. From these facts, it is obvious that Kent farmers have quite a corn problem.

County Agent Horace B. Derrisk has studied this problem for several years and conducted demonstrations in cooperation with corn growers and it is his opinion that depleted soil fertility and not applying a balanced fertilizer in sufficient quantity is the largest single factor. One demonstrator produced 27 bushels of in one field managed in the usual way. On another field of 11 acres, he produced 73 bushels per acre. Other demonstrators produced up to 90 bushels of corn per acre. The following is the method of fertilization and management recommended by the county agent:

1. Manure corn land.
2. Drill with wheat drill, 300 pounds of 16 per cent acid phosphate per acre. On light or sandy soil and all soils deficient in potash, 30 to 400 pounds of 0-12-5 fertilizer, or two-thirds 16 per cent acid phosphate and one-third kanit.
3. Select variety of corn suitable to conditions.
4. Select seed of that vairety, free from disease and with healthy and vigorous germs.
5. Drill in fertilizer attachment of corn planter, 125 to 150 pounds of 2-8-5 fertilizer per acre, when planting corn.
6. Cultivate corn at least six (6) times, with the idea of keeping weeds killed out.

Where manure cannot be applied to corn field, or on the grass before corn it is recommended to drill 300 pounds of 2-12-5 per acre instead of the other formula stated above.

It is suggested that every farmer using this method of fertilizing their corn, leave a few acres unfertilized so as to compare the results and it is requested that all farmers using the above recommendations, notify County Agent Horace B. Derrick, so he may keep in touch with the work for the benefit of Kent farmers.
