REAL ESTATE MARKET ACTIVE

H. Theodore Jewell, agent, sold on Thursday the J. Biddle Hossinger farm, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Strong, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Bryan. This farm contains 172 acres and sold for $14,000 without any of the crops. It is located on the State road, near Chestertown, and with excellent buildings. Mr. Bryan who has been living for 12 or 15 years on the Crew farm, near by, will remove to his newly purchased home January 1st. Mr. Strong will return to his farm in Quaker Neck.

Messrs. Baker, Rogers and Vickers, trustees, offered at public sale Wednesday several Hurlock farms. The Blackiston and Vansant farms were held up and may be bought of the trustees. The house in Massey was bought by the occupant, Woodall Jones, for $1200. The Burkitt tract of 109 acres was sold to J. P. Ahern for $500.

Messrs. Baker, Vickers and Rogers, trustees of the Hurlock estate, offered the 652 acre Queen Anne's farm at public sale Tuesday in Centreville. It was held up at a bid of $11,900 and may be purchased from the trustees.

Samuel E. Cooper has purchased thru the J. W. Russell Agency the Frazier house on High street and tenanted by George Bacon and wife. It will be improved and modernized.

The "Merritt" farm located at Sandy Branch in Cecil County, was sold at the Court House in Elkton, on Tuesday, to J. R. H. Price for Miss Mary P. Merritt, one of the heirs. The farm contains 160 acres and the price paid was $6500.

John C. Davis has sold his Broad Neck farm on Lankford Bay to Robt. D. Wilson, of Lansdowne, Pa. The farm contains 195 acres. Price $8800. Harry F. Jefferson, agent for E. Strout Farm Agency, made the sale.

Unfavorable weather conditions prior to May 1 have reduced the wheat crop to about seventy-eight per cent of normal.

Considerable winter killing was caused by heavy precipitation for February, March and April, cool temperature during March and April and an inadequate snow coverage.

Much depends on the weather from now on. Prolonged wet weather at heading time is apt to prove disadvantageous and may lower the final production below the indication at this time, while comparatively dry weather at heading time, with no prolonged damp period, may prove beneficial and the outturn better than the present forcast.

Worton Point School leads in attendance for month of April with 97.7; Lankford 97.4; Skinner's Neck 96.8; Turner's Creek 96.1; Worton 95. High Schools — Galena 95.8; Millington 95.2; Chestertown 92.3; Rock Hall 88.6.

"SPEEDY" A GREAT COMEDY

Harold Lloyd comes to the Lyceum Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 31, June 1 and 2, in his latest Paramount release, "Speedy," and it may be well recorded that the bespectacled comedian has succeeded again nn surpassing his previous successes, with his latest offering. As typical of all Harold Lloyd productions, entirely new and highly humorous situations and "gags" have been injected, which serve to stamp the comedian as the greatest in motion pictures today, and for some time to come for that matter.

"Speedy" is everything the name implies. It is a fast moving story, which keeps the patron sitting on edge every minute. To the dyed-in-the wool movie fan, he may assnume there is nothing new left in movie craft that would serve to smack of the novelty, but in "Speedy" that fan is due for a most welcome surprise. Harold has fairly outdone himself along these lines.

The subject around which Harold has built his plot in his new comedy is an old antiquated horse drawn street car. In this day and age, that in itself is novel enough, but the horse car is only the beginning of things. More hilarity is due when he is seen driving the car through one of the busiest streets of New York, and more still when he is seen as a driver of a taxi, and further in the Coney Island sequences.

M. P. CONFERENCE ENDS SESSION IN BALTIMORE

The General Conference of the M. P. Church closed in Baltimore Thursday. Merging of the Board of Young People's Work with the Board of Education was approved by the conference. This union board is to be known as the Board of Christian Education.

Two secretaries were elected for this board—the Rev. Frank W. Stevenson, of Pittsburg, who will be in charge of one department for education, and the Rev. Lawrence Little, of Concord, N. C., who will be in charge of the department dealing with young people's work.

The Rev. Dr. Frank T. Benson was elected editor of The Methodist Protestant, and the Rev. Lyman E. Davis of Pittsburg, editor of the Methodist Recorder until the merger of these papers is effected.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas H. Lewis, former president of the General Conference, was made a contributing editor of both publications, with a salary to be paid from the general budget. The arrangement, however, leaves the editors of each paper independent in their respective fields.

Dr. James Straughn was elected executive secretary of promotional work and treasurer of the General Conference, and the Rev. Dr. S. W. Rosenberger, of Columbus, Ohio, secretary of the Board of Missions.

Arrangements were made to provide the new union board for mission work (with which the Board of Home Missions was merged) with the services of the Rev. Dr. J. M. Sheridan former secretary of the Board of Missions, at least until the meeting of the Maryland Annual Conference of which Dr. Sheridan is a member.

A SPLENDID ADDRESS ON GREED AND TOLERANCE

Edwin H. Brown, Esq., of the Centreville bar, editor of the Centreville Record and the next President of the Centreville Rotary Club, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Chestertown Rotary Club last Monday evening. His theme was Greed and Tolerance, and in his usual earnest way impressed his audience in a most decided manner. Mr. Brown said that what this country needs is less greed and more tolerance.

SHORE SCOUTS ARE ORGANIZING

Following the successful organization of scout troops in Kent and Queen Anne's county, the projected organization of an Eastern Shore Council, to be affiliated with the Wilmington Council, is getting under way. Leading the movement to create scout troops in every town in the nine counties are officials of the Eastern Shore Boy Scout Executives' Association, local officers and prominent citizens in the two counties Hoawrd B. Owens, assistant scoutmaster of Betterton Troop No. 1, has been named chairman of the extension committee with the following members to assist him in organizing:

Rev. John W. White, scoutmaster at Fairlee; T. Gordon Bennett, superintendent of schools of Queen Anne's county and chairman of the troop committee, and L. E. Taylor, assistant scoutmaster at Centreville.

Officials of the executive body now active in the organizing movement are: T. Rigby Valliant, Centreville, president; S. B. Bradley, Crumpton vice-president; Harry Rasin, Millington, secretary, and Clayton Wright Centreville, treasurer. Other scout officials interested are Rev. Claude W. Clarke, scoutmaster at Betterton and T. H. Holland, of Centreville.

For the first time in the history of the scout movement on the Eastern Shore a junior executive council has been formed with Betterton, Fairlee Chestertown and Centreville troops represented. The publicity committee named in connection with the organizing drive are: S. Charles Walls, of Centreville, Stephen Collins, of Chestertown, and Charles B Chance, of Sudlersville.

The junior council has chosen the following officers: Allan H. Bonwill Betterton, president; Joseph White Fairlee, vice-president; William Carroll, Chestertown, secretary, and Joseph Luber, Centreville, treasurer

In order to finance the movement each existing troop has been asked to contribute $10.00. The sum of $70.00 asked of the seven present troops in Kent and Queen Anne's counties, has been guaranteed by the Centreville Rotary Club which is taking an active interest in the movement.

MOVIE PICTURES TO BE TAKEN

Troupe Of Seventy-Five Make Hotel Pasadena Their Headquarters — One Scene To Be Made At Washington College.

Royal Oak is alive with distinguished guests in that fifty members of the Paramount Company arrived at the Hotel Pasadena Saturday and twenty-five more followed on Monday. Mr. Frederick Harper, proprietor of this hostelry is host to the group.

This motion picture colony, a miniature Hollywood, transferred to Royal Oak are making a picture called "Four Brothers" scenes of which will be taken in Easton, St. Michaels. Clai borne and Chestertown.

One of the scenes will be in Kent county at Washington College where the commencement exercises and the May Pole Dance will be taken.

The story is to be filmed with an opening scene showing oyster boats entering St. Michaels harbor with the father of the four brothers lying drunk in the bottom of the boat. He is taken from the oyster skiff and dies.

The youngest of the four brothers who has fallen in love with a girl of a much higher class; whose home will be filmed as that of Mr. C. P. Buck. calls forth the best in his older brothers.

At their father's grave he points to the resting places of three ancestors who were a doctor, preacher and lawyer respectively and makes the brothers promise they will study and become professional men.

He agrees to provide the means and tells them; following a trip to Virginia that the money is coming from their grandfather's estate.

In fact he has stolen the money The graduation scene at Washington College will show him "beating up" the brother who failed to graduate first in his class.

He is convicted in the Talbot court. asks his brothers for help, they deny aid, he breaks jail, his brothers bring him back and the lawyer brother defends him. He is acquitted, goes back to St. Michaels, sits meditating in an old skiff, hears the voice of a girl calling from across the Miles River. It is the girl he loves.

BEAUTIFUL PLACES IN KENT

Now is the time when Kent appears at its best. Nature is bedecking the whole of Kent with it's fairest colors while sweet blossoms shed a perfume delectably pleasant to all.

Chestertown ladies are busy with blossoms and plants and there are many beautiful gardens. Mrs. G. E. Noland, Mrs. A. L. Sterling, Mrs. W. P. Newnam, Miss Addie Glasscock Mrs. T. W. Eliason, Mrs. Wm. F. Russell, Mrs. H. R. Graham, Mrs. P. G. Wilmer, Miss Fannie Baker, Mrs J. P. Decorse, Mrs. S. P Townshend. Mrs. T. D. Bowers, Mrs. Thomas H Whaley and many others are improving their property with flowers and shrubbery.

CRISFIELD GIRL BEST DECLAIMER IN SHORE TEST

Miss Frances Gardner, of Crisfield High School, representing Somerset county, won first prize in the annual Del-Mar-Va Interscholastic Declamation contest held at Washington College last Friday night. With it went the Forensic Championship of the Eastern Shore. Second prize went to Miss Christine Catlin, of Church Hill High School, representing Queen Anne's county, and third to Miss Mabel Willis, of Vienna High School, Dorchester county.

Gold medals were awarded the three winners out of ten contestants. The judges were Professor G. M Berry, University of Delaware, Miss Myrta McGinnis, of Goucher College and Professor F. A. Litz, of Baltimore City College.

Nine Eastern Shore of Maryland counties, and one Virginia county were represented in the annual declamation contest. The inter-scholastic championship of the Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore, outside of Wilmington was at stake.

Delaware's three counties failed to send representatives to the classic which was limited to high school students. Prior to Friday night's affair, elimination contests had been held in the Eastern Shore counties and the winner of the high school contest in each county was sent here as the county representative.

The following orators, with the subjects of their orations, appeared for their respective counties: Miss Dorothy Natter, Berlin High School Worcester county, "The Leper;" Miss Georgia Manlove, Cecilton High, Cecil county, "Yellow Butterflies;" Miss Helen Blann, Oxford High, Talbot "The Mallett's Masterpiece;" Miss Christine Catlin, Church Hill High Queen Anne's county, "The Death Disc;" Miss Mabel Willis, Vienna High, Dorchester, "Jane;" Miss Frances Gardner, Crisfield High Somerset, "He, She and It;" James Duffy, Denton High, Caroline, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death;" Miss Eva Adkinson, Millington High, Kent "The Lion and the Mouse;" Miss Margaret Sherwood, Delmar High Wicomico, "The Clown's Baby;" Billy King Mapp, Onancock High, Accomack county.

The program was opened by an address of welcome by President Paul E. Tiswsorth, of Washington College The positions of the contestants on the program were chosen by lot.

WANTED—A DEFINITION

A recent editorial in Collier's Magazine said:

She never "earned" any money She lives on a farm. She is somebody's mother, maybe your own. She has earned no money. No, but in her thirty working years she has served 235,435 meals, she has made 3190 garments, 35,500 loaves of bread, 5,930 cakes, 7,960 pies, 1,500 gallons of lard; she has grown 1,625 bushels of vegetables and 1,550 quarts of fruits; she has raised 7,660 chickens, churned 5,460 pounds of butter, put up 3,625 jars ofpreserves, scrubbed 177,725 pieces of laundry, and has put in 35,640 hours sweeping, washing and scrubbing.

At accepted prices this work is worth $115,485.50. She has no bank account to show for it. She can't retire on her savings, no. How do you define the ordinary American woman's contribution to her family's wealth—and to the nation's wealth.

SEEKS A NEW COW VALUATION

The trial of the suit of John H. Clendaniel, of Kent county, for a writ of mandamus to require the State Board of Agriculture to appoint an independent appraiser to value 31 cows belonging to him, was heard last week and was continued by Judge Eli Frank, in the Superior Court, until Monday. The cows have been condemned as being infected with tuberculosis.

Mr. Clendaniel's petition was filed through Clarence W. Perkins and Eben F. Perkins, attorneys. As explained by Philip B. Perlman, who is associated as special cousel with John Hubner Rice, Assistant Attorney-General, as attorneys for the defense, the case involves the distribution of the appropriation of the appropriation by the State of the idemnity for the owners of cattle condemned for the purpose of eradicating tuberculosis. The cows are in quarantine, and Mr. Clendaniel wants them appraised under an old statute.

If the Court decides in favor of a higher appraisement, then it will mean many other similar cases and thousands of dollars to the dairymen of Kent.

ROAD BUILDING IN KENT

The Old Line Construction Company have finished their contract at Betterton and are now laying concrete on the Worton road.

The contract for road from Redding's Corner thru Lynch toward Catt's Corner was awarded to Layfield and Waller, of Salisbury, Md., at about $32,000.

MOUSE CAUSES FIRE

Mrs. Starkey's mother, living on Riverside Terrace, had a bad scare Wednesday night about 9 o'clock which came near causing a fire. She was carrying a lighted lamp across her ber-room when a mouse ran across the floor causing her to drop the lamp. The rug and window blinds were burned but the fire was extinguished before the local firemen arrived. An alarm was sounded and the boys responded.

WEDNESDAY — MEMORIAL DAY

Post Commander C. Lee Gill, of the Frank M. Jarman Post 36 American Legion, says plans are made for a big celebration next Wednesday.

The program will open with the annual parade to the cemetery where the Legion will decorate the graves of the soldier dead. David Winebrenner, 3rd, Secretary of State, will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion.

At 1 p. m. an automobile parade will be the feature with prizes totaling $55 in gold to be given the owners of the best decorated cars. This contest is open to all organizations and individuals. The Legion authorities hope that many automobiles will be entered in the parade.

At 2 p. m. the annual track and field sports will be held at Washington College and prizes given to the winners of the various events scheduled.

At 3 p. m. a base ball game will be played on the college diamond between a nine representing the Legion and one from Rock Hall.

The local fire department was called out yesterday to put out a fire on Senator S. Scott Beck's back porch. The fire caught from hot ashes from a fire place.

WOMAN FINDS EVIDENCE

A man giving his name as Anthony Thomas, 27, of Millington, Md., was arrested in Wilmington on Monday on a charge of transporting liquor to that city.

When Frank E. Haley, special agent of the Law and Order Society told a woman he had been unable to get evidence against a man she said was bringing liquor to Wilmington from Maryland she said, "Follow me."

Haley followed the woman and she pointed out the driver of an automobile bearing a Maryland license. As the driver began to unload a quantity of liquor he was placed under arrest. This was the man who gave the name of Anthony Thomas, of Millington. A quantity of liquor already had been placed in the cellar of the place and this was seized.
