NETTIE M. HIGMAN,

MACKALL ASKS 3-MONTH STUDY FOR BAY BRIDGE

Plans for the Chesapeake Bay bridge, submitted to the State Roads Commission Thursday, will not be given final approval by the commission until after a complete study lasting at least three months, John N. Mackall, chairman of the commission, said.

Neither Mr. Bonsal or Stuart S. Janney, counsel for the bridge company, would make any comment on the delay in obtaining the Roads Commission's approval of the plans.

Federal approval of the bridge project was given in July by the War Department. The bridge company had anticipated beginning construction in the fall. According to Mr. Mackall's estimate of the time it will take the commission to study the plans, however, final approval will not be given until the middle of November, or possibly later.

The bridge will be a part of the State roads system, although it is to be operated by the company.

BUILDING NOTES IN CHESTERTOWN

Walter T. Pippin began the razing of the Parks Building on Monday to make way for the imposing new Chestertown Bank edifice. The contract for the bank will be given out in a few days.

This old Parks building was found to be in very bad condition. The walls are not plumb and could not be used by the bank for a new building. In fact experienced builders who have examined them say it could not be utilized in the making of a colonial style bank for which plans had been drawn and considered by the bank before it was decided that it would be necessary to pull down the whole building.

The new Lyceum theatre, just opposite the above building, will be formally opened about October 1st and, will give Chestertown a modern theatre with a seating capacity of approximately 650. It will be heated by the use of oil. The theatre will contain a large main floor and balcony. Rest rooms will be provided, and it will be an attractive place for the public. The cost will be about $50,000. W. S. and A. M. Culp are the contractors and builders.

Workmen started on Tuesday to renovate and change the home on High street opposite the M.E.Church into a business office and apartment. It is owned by C. N. Satterfield and is to be occupied by the Chestertown Gas Company.

James Allen has finished a cosy home on Cannon street, near Kent, and has had a dozen applicants for same.

W. S. and A. M. Culp is putting the finishing touches to a bungalow on Campus Avenue and it will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

Across the bridge in the new suburb of Chestertown Clift Coleman is building a splendid bungalow for Walter Needles.

Walter T. Pippin has finished a residence and oil station in the same section for Dulie Gale who now occupying same.

The Citizens Bank has been improved by a fresh coat of paint.

Charles H. Schreiber is building a new glass front to his store on High street.

James Cooper has the contract for building a modern home for Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus G. Howard on the lot on Kent street recently purchaesd by them from Mrs. M. A. Toulson.

Thomas W. Eliason is improving his home by adding more rooms, sun parlors, porches, etc. An addition to the garage has also been made. Jas. E. Cooper is doing the work.

The homes of Mrs. W. E. Jarrell Dr. H. B. Simmons, A. L. Sterling George W. Rash, Howard B. Strong and other places have been repainted recently which improves their appearance.

ROCK HALL CARNIVAL STARTED ON FRIDAY

The Rock Hall Firemen's Carnival started Friday, August 10th and continues through Saturday, August 18.

Aside from the usual carnival attractions, two features have been arranged. On Wednesday evening August 15, the firemen's parade will be held in which all neighboring fire companies with apparatus, band and firemen will compete for prizes. This event will probably draw the largest crowd ever assembled in Rock Hall.

On Friday evening August 17th a special feature will be the display of fireworks which will interest people from all parts of Kent county.

The proceeds of the Carnival will be used for the maintenance of the Rock Hall Fire Company which is one of the most progressive organizations in that town, not only from a point of fire fighting but also for civic activity in the community. This company built its own home and has modern fire fighting equipment.

WALTER McINTYRE INSTANTLY KILLED

Walter McIntyre, 53 years old, was instantly killed when his truck was struck by a Pennyslvania Railroad train at 4.10, advanced time, Saturday afternoon at the crossing just north of Bear Station. Earl Benton who is watchman at the main crossing, saw his peril and made every effort to show him the approaching express, but Mr. McIntyre had his attention fixed on a freight train approaching from the south, and apparently seeing that he had plenty of time to get over the track before the arrival of the freight, put on speed and started across, but before he could get over he was hit by the express. He was thrown several feet and the truck was demolished. Neighbors and friends rushed to the crossing and the train halted.

Mr. McIntyre's body was picked up and placed in the Good Will ambulance and carried to the morgue of Chandler H. Gebhart, at Sixth and Cherry Street, New Castle.

Mr. McIntyre was hauling a car load of coal from the siding for County TreasurerWalter S. Burris, and had just had the load weighed on the scales of Wm. T. Harrington, near the tracks. He had proceeded down the drive to a space where he could turn and cross the track in apparent safety. He had turned around and had started toward Mr. Burris' yards, when the accident happened. Mr. Burris had purchosed the coal from Reese Jarman. Coroner Harvey E. Nichols was notified and after investigating gave a certificate of death due to being struck by the train.

Mr. McIntyre, who is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary C. McIntyre, was born near Galena, from where he and Mrs. McIntyre moved to Bear three years ago. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McIntyre, of Charlestown, Md., and has a brother, John McIntyre, living in Wilmington.

The funeral services were held at the funeral parlors of Mr. Gebhart, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Further services were held at Chestertown Md., at 2 o'clock, on Wednesday afternoon, interment at Chestertown.

WHEAT YIELD GOOD, BUT---

The wheat yield in Kent has been good generally with a great number of fine yields. But the price is still going down and no telling when the bottom will be reached. A great number of crops are being held for better prices.

William Ford on the farm at Still Pond Station, purchased of J. N. Bennett, threshed an average of 28 bushels per acre on 126 acres. Mr. Ford is also an experienced dairyman and is now receiving as large a milk check from 7 cows as he got from 15 before the tuberculin test.

Alex Mair, manager of the Clothier estate, finished threshing last week. They harvested between nine and ten thousand bushels off of 400 acres. Some fields yielded over 35 bushels to the acre.

One of the best crops of wheat threshed out in Kent this year was that of H. C. Willis, of Fairlee, who got 3001 bushels from about 115 acres.

Another fine crop of wheat this year was grown on the Eliason farm, near Kennedyville, tenanted by Wilson Groves. He got 3210 bushels from 126 acres.

Charles Miller, Jr., who is on the Mannie Clendaniel farm, near Kennedyville, made a fine record with his wheat crop this year. His yield was 3865 bushels from 133 acres. In one day of about 10½ hours he threshed out 1110 bushels of wheat.

BETTERTON IS AT HIGH TIDE

The old time favorite summer resort, Betterton, has made many improvements to take care of the largest crowd of visitors in its history Saturday and Sunday witnessed the biggest crowd of the year. The beach has been carefully cleaned and a new concrete road has been built, forming a wide circle through the town. Now one may safely ride the entire way from Baltimore, Washington or Philadelphia on fine roads.

The Ericsson Line Company have about finished their new pier at Betterton at an estimated cost of $20,000. The approach has been greatly improved from the Ericsson Avenue stone road, the waiting room will be greatly improved and kept lighted and heated for the travelers over this line. Much credit is due H. J. Plant for the great improvements done at the company's plant.

Betterton's new streets have been finished and are a wonderful asset to the town. The town bonded for the sum of $25,000, and the larger part of all streets are now paved.

Betterton automobile owners look forward to the widening of the corner at the intersection of the Betterton State Road, which Mrs. Cahall has consented to sell to the State Roads Commission at a fair price. Betterton interests brought about this agreement, which they hope will soon be materialized.

The merchants and hotel keepers of Betterton have erected a very attractive sign at the intersection of the main highway and the Betterton road, which is automatically lighted at night. This sign was erected at a cost of $350, and does credit to this popular resort.

MANY SHIFTS NEAR IN M. P. PULPITS

With nearly a score of its churches said to be demanding new pastors, a pulpit shake-up is impending at the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. The conference is scheduled to meet next month in Lynchburg, Va. The change at Starr and St. Johns is causing this unrest.

Seven of the churches to be affected, it is reported, are in Baltimore, two in Washington and one in Philadelphia. A rush for bigger salaries in larger churches is expected on the part of pastors from the smaller congregations.

According to observers, the Rev. C. E. Makosky, head of the conference will face the greatest problem of his career when the meeting opens and the change proposals come up.

SOLDIERS HOME FROM CAMP

The Kent County Sanitary Medical Unit from Camp Ritchie, among the hills of Western Maryland, will be home today.

They report a splendid time. With all the hot weather we have been having here it has been pleasant at the camp. Yesterday was Governor's Day when Governor Ritchie and staff spent the day at the camp.

The Kent boys are under the direct charge of Major Frank B. Hines. who will accompany them home today.

ROTARY CLUB AT TOLCHESTER

The Chestertown Rotary Club under the direction of President Austin F. Shure had its meeting on Monday evening at Hotel Tolchester. The hot weather and storm cut the attendance down, but those present had a splendid time and enjoyed one of the finest meals the Rotary has had in its career. A number of ladies were present.

In the questionaire contest Mrs. Conlyn Noland was the winner among the ladies and Prof. Johns among the men. Two of the quetsions were as to the number of times the Chester river draw was opened last year and the number of vehicles that went across Chester bridge in one day. The correct answer to first was 461 and to the second 1049.

THE STORK COMES IN AN AIRPLANE

Russell Kelley and wife employed at J. D. Maxwell's Worton Manor farm, had an unusual experience recently in which the stork arrived bringing a fine boy and which an airplane played an important part.

Mrs. Kelley, who was expecting an arrival sometime later, was taken suddenly ill and sent to the Maxwell residence for help. Dr. H. G. Simpers was telephoned and soon arrived. In the meantime a U. S. Army falcon pursuit plane from Edgewood Arsenal landed in the field. Capt. Thomas Phillips who had seen service in chemical warfare and was an officer at Edgewood was in command of the plane. When apprised of the situation Capt. Phillips offered his services.

In the meantime Dr. Simpers arrived and the two pair skilled hands brought relief.

The little arrival was named Thos. Maxwell Kelley after Capt. Phillips and Mr. Maxwell and the officer presented the mother with a $10 gift and promised to return.

Dr. Simpers just missed an airplane trip by arriving on time as Capt. Phillips said he was intending to get the doctor later.

SOLDIER HANGS UP RECORD

Private first class Thomas S. Jarman, of Service Company, 16th Infantry, with home station at Fort Jay, New York, achieved one of the highest honors possible for an American soldier by qualiflying at the Camp Dix, N. J., target range as Marksman.

Private Jarman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jarman, of Centreville, by making Marksman has upheld the glorious traditions of the famous World War 16th Infantry, now commanded by Colonel Stephen O. Fuga. On the western front in France this regiment with its excellent shooting won the admiration of the allied troops and the respect of the enemy.

In addition to the distinction that goes with the honor of being a crack shot, Jarman has won the added privilege of being able to sport the coveted medal of a Marksman upon his uniform.

The publication in the News last week that the Misses Brooks at Quaker Neck Wharf had a fig tree 15 feet in height has brought forth other fig growers. They are Mrs. W. F. Jarrell, Mrs. T. D. Bowers, Mrs. S. P. Townshend and Mrs. A. L. Sterling on Washington Avenue. It is quite probable that the growers of figs may become a very profitable industry in some of the Eastern Shore counties in the future.
