KENT NEWS.

CHESTER TOWN, Md.

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC 27, 1856.

OUR PAPER.—Owing to the pressure of job work and the Christmas holidays, we are compelled to present our readers, this week, with only a half sheet.

CONCERT.—The Concert given by the Ladies on Wednesday evening for the benefit of the poor, was not so well attended as we anticipated. The several pieces were admirably performed, and all present were delighted with the performance. It will be seen by a notice in another column, that the Concert will be repeated on Monday next.

COLD WEATHER.—The weather during the week has been very cold—there is considerable ice in the river, enough to stop navigation. The sudden change of weather has caught many of our merchants and others, without their winter supplies. There has been no boat here since Monday—it was supposed that there two hundred Eastern-shoremen in Baltimore on Wednesday, who had to return home by way of Elkton.

BALTIMORE PATRIOT.—The proprietors of this old familiar journal, announce that with the commencement of the new year it will be published on the cash system, and delivered to subscribers at twelve and a half cents a week.

THE FOREIGN NEWS BY THE CANADA.—The steamship Canada has arrived at Halifax, with European intelligence nine days later. Her dates from Liverpool are to the 12th inst. The America sailed from Liverpool on her regular day, but when off Cape Clear she encountered a severe storm, by which her decks were swept, and she was so much injured otherwise that she put back to port for repairs. The Peace Congress was to assemble at Paris during the present month. An unsuccessful attempt had been made to assassinate the King of Naples. The Baltic sailed for New York on the 10th. The sales of Cotton at Liverpool had been large, and the market closed without any material change in prices. Breadstuffs had a downward tendency.

OUR CAUSE.—Of the nearly a million Union-loving patriots, who voted for Mr. Fillmore at the late election the Georgia Citizen says:

"Mr. Fillmore's vote in the entire Union was about 900,000, which would have been increased vastly, had it not been for the silly fear that Fremont would be elected. We are sure that not less than 100,000 votes were lost to him in the South alone from this cause. Here, then, we have a party of 1,000,000 of voters, as a nucles around which to gather the conservative American element of the country for the grand battle of 1860. Who says that "Sam" is dead when he can muster into the field such an army of patriots! Let the American hosts stand firm for their day of redemption from foreign influence draweth nigh.

Help for the Fugitives.

New York, Dec. 24.—M. O. Roberts, the agent of the California steamers, has directed the steamer Granada to stop at Greytown on the passago from Aspinwall to take home any fugitives from Walker's army stopping there.

The Slave Excitement in Louisville.

Louisville, Dec. 24.—The Mayor has issued a proclamation stating that in consequence of information which shows a disposition on the part of the colored people to insurrection, all slaves will be imprisoned who are found from home after eight o'clock at night during the holidays.

Government Orders Against a Nicaraguan Expedition.

New York, Dec, 21.—Orders have been received here directing the government officials to keep a sharp eye on the steamer Tennssee, advertised to sail hence for Nicaragua on Wednesbay next, and see that no violation of the neutrality laws is attempted. It is reported that the President has also issued orders for the arrest of Gen. Walker, C. K. Garrison and Charles Morgan, charged with breaking up the business of the Transit Company. The total damages are laid at two millions of dollars.

TELEGRAPH TO CUBA.—One of the most important enterprises in connection with telegrahs, next to that accross the Ocean, is the project of reaching the island of Cuba, by the electric wire. Responsible parties have been in correspondence, for some months, with the authorities in Cuba and also with the government of Spain through their Minister at Washington, for the purpose of carrying out the plan, and from the present possition of affairs we shall expect to see it consummated by or before the time that the Tyrus and Key line is in operation.

A BLOODY AFFRAY.—Monmouth, Ill., Dec. 12.—A bloody tragedy was performed at the Baldwin House, in this city, this afternoon. I was conversing with a gentleman in Dr. Thayer's drug store, about two o'clock, when the terrible cry of murder was heard, and we all started out to discover the cause.

We were soon directed by a throng of people to the above named hotel, distant only a few yards, and there weltering in their blood lay the victims of the most sanguinary, single handed conflict it has been my lot to witness. It is impossible to describe the horror which depicted the visages of that throng of spectators called there at a moments warning.

The circumstances are as follows: Mr. Fleming, an elderly gentleman, and two sons about 25 to 28 years of age, had called upon a Mr. Crosier at his rooms at the B. house, armed each with a loaded pistol, to coerce the latter gentleman into a concession and retraction of a calumny affecting their daughter and sister, with which they charged Mr. C. Mr. C., after some pretty warm language had passed between the parties, agreed to and did sign a retraction in the presence of a friend whom the Messrs. Fleming had brought with him.

Immediately after delivering the paper into the possession of their friend, the Messrs. F., or one of the brothers, said to Mr. C., "I am now going to cowhide you," and one of the boys holding a cocked pistol to his head, directed the other to inflict the threatened punishment, which he immediately commenced. He had struck three or four blows when C. drew a dirk knife from his side pocket, and passing at the same time his left arm around the neck of the one who plied the lash, stabbed him in the left breast, and as quick as thought, withdrew the knife and struck the one who held the pistol a back handed blow which reached, as it did the first the heart of its victim!

Both brothers received their death wounds in less than two seconds, and were both bloody corpses in three minutes after they were struck! The old man had gone out into the hall and locked the door, and stood upon the outside with a pistol to keep out assistance. The affair has created an immense excitement here, I assure you. The young man Crosier is under arrest, having surrendered himself into custody, and is to undergo an examination to-morrow.

The sympathies of the people are mostly with Crosier. He acts and looks the picture of dispair. He is a young man, some 27 to 30 years old, and unmarried. He is said to have been engaged to the lady in question, who is at present out of the State. The otheer parties were respectable farmers, and two of them, I understand, members of the church in good standing

SHOCKING RESULT OF ANGER.—A heart rending occurrence took place a few days ago in Stockport, Columbia county, New York, in which a child was killed while in the arms of its mother, and by her sister. Mrs. Dickerman was sitting in a room with her child a boy of about two years of age, upon her lap, engaged in dressing it, while at the same time her sister, a Miss Planter, was cutting the wick of a candle with a pair of scissors. The sisters were engaged in an angry conversation, when Miss Planter, in a fit of rage, threw the scissors at her sister with great force, the point striking the child upon his breast, penetrated to the heart. The innocent little one exclaimed, "oh, mother! mother!" and immediately expired. Mrs. Dickerman did not see her sister throw the scissors, and was not concious of what had been done untill she saw the instrument of death planted in his breast. A coroner's jury was called, who after a full investigation of the affair rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Miss Planter is now confined in the Hudson jail to wait the action of the grand jury

DEATH FROM HANDLING GUANO.—A farmer, named Silas Gravel, died in Montgomery Co., Pa., a short time since, in consequence of handling guanno with slight sores upon them. The guano penetrated the sores, and in a day or two after he experienced a sharp pain in one of his arms, which extended rapidly to the shoulder and from thence to his body, growing more acute, and causing his whole system to become swollen. In this stat he lingered in great agony for about a week, when death relieved him of his sufferings. This case, and others similar to it, which have been recorded, should warn farmers and others not to handle guano, if they have even a scratch upon their hands.

HIGH RENTS AND WAGES.—A Good Place For Mechanics—The New York Tribune has an interesting letter from Omaha, Nebraska Territory, from which we extract the following:

"Cold, piercing winds, with occasionally a flake of snow, admonish us that winter cannot be far distant. Everything in the shape of a building is filled to overflowing. Small houses of only too rooms rent at 30 or $35 per month, and emigrants coming at this season of year find difficult to obtain accommodatios even at those figures. I would, as a friend, advise all who contemplate moving to this section with familes to defer it till spring.

"This is the paradise of mechanies.—Common laborers get $2 50 per day; first rate masons and carpenters $3 and even $4, with prompt payment every Saturday night. Good board and lodging can be obtaind for $5 per week. I never knew a place where so little credit was asked or giving as here. 'Pay down, is the rule, 'credit' the rare exception. This admirable custom, so well calculated to prevent future financial troubles, is well worthy of imitation by older places"

SLAVE PROPERTY.—We see it stated that the estimated value of slave property in the United States, is from fifteen hundred to two thousand million dollars.

PADDY COON HUNTING.

An Irishman of our acquaintance, named Michael O'Roger, who settled in this part of the country some years ago, lately received an unsuspected visit from his brother Pat, who was direct from the "sod." Mick heartily welcomed his brother, and resolved to do everything in his powar to make his visit an agreeable one. Accordingly at the end of the second day after Pat's arrival—which had been spent by them in a general carousol—Mick armed his brother with a shillaleh, and led off in the direction of a corn-field about half a mile distant, where he assured Pat they would enjoy a rare evening sport, coon-hunting. The night was too dark to distinguish the objects of their search at any great distance, but on entering the field, and setting up a wild yell, they soon discovered, by the rustling of the corn-stalks in various directions, that they had been successful in routing several from their hiding places.

Mick's keen eyes were now fixed upon a large tree, which stood a few yards distant, and he soon had the satisfaction of detecting an object moving up its trunk at a rapid rate. This he knew to be a coon, and with a shout of joy he rushed to the tree, calling on his brother to follow up. In a moment the two sportsman were under the tree. Mick prepared for a climb, and directing Pat how to act when the coon reached the ground.

"He'll be afther makin' a great noise to get away," said Mick, "but for yer life dont let him escape ye."

"Och, be off up the tree wid ye," answered Pat, flourishing his shillelah, evidently growing impatient for the sport, "niver fear but I'll put an ind to him when he comes down."

Mick now commenced climbing the tree with all possible haste, and succeeded very well in the ascent, until he reached the first branches, and became hid from the wild gaze of his brother, when he paused a moment to ascertain in what part of the tree the coon had taken his lodgings.

While matters were in this state the coon made a sudden move among the branches, which so startled Mick that he unfortunately let go his hold and fell to the ground.

Pat supposing him to be the coon, rushed furiously upon him with his shillelah, and commenced the delightful operation of "putting an end to him."

"Murther! Murther!" cried Mick attemptiog to rise to his feet, "in the name of St. Patrick, don't be after bating me to death!"

"Ye needn't be given' me any ov yer dirty excuses," answered Pat, "shure me brither tould me ye'd be afther mahin' a great noise to get away, but not a fute ye'll move out o' this alive."

Mick now supposing his brother to be crazy, thought it time to make a desperate struggle for life: so seizing Pat by the legs, he succeeded in throwing him to the ground, whereupon a rough and tumble fight commenced, which lasted for some time, without either of the brothers uttering a word.

After a violent contest, however, Mick came off victorious, Pat being so completely subdued as to render him helpless. But, fearing it was all over with him, he began to call wildly on Mick to hasten down from the tree and assist him, or the "ugly baste" would have his life.

By this time, Mick fully comprehended the error into which his brother had fallen and commenced using every means in his senses, which after a great persuasion he succeeded in doing.

But the coon was allowed to escape unharmed, as neither of the adventurers felt in a humor for continuing the hunt that night. Indeed it was Pat's first hunting scrape, and he swore by all the saints it should be his last.
