DEATHS

J. Thomas Blackiston died at the home of his son, Claude, near Sassafras, early Saturday morning, aged 66. He had been making his home in Baltimore for some time and was on a visit to his son at the time of his demise. He suffered a severe stroke of paralysis just a week before from which he never rallied.

The deceased was an intelligent farmer and for some years was in charge of the Almshouse Farm, the Aldridge Farm, Tolenester Farm and other places in Kent as well as in Queen Anne's. He was regarded as a progressive agriculturist. He was a son of the late Medford Blackiston and a man of cheerful disposition. His wife was a daughter of Wm. E. Keyser and there were few more hospitable homes in Kent than hers..

He leaves ten children as follows: Claude, Norman, Paul, Mrs. Leonard A. Wills, Douglas, Mrs. Geo. W. Weaver, Mrs. Geo. E. Rindollr, Mrs. Syloan Hamberger, J. Thos., Jr., and Helen. The burial services took place Monday at 11 a. m., Rev. Mr. Garner, of Massey, conducted short services at Claude Blackiston's home and Rev. Mr. White was in charge at St. Paul's where the interment took place. The bearers were the sons and Wm. Keyser; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Richard Merritt, Jr., aged two and ahalf years, son of Richard Merritt, of Warwick, Md., died in the Contagious Hospital, Sunday, of infantile paralysis. The child was brought to the hospital on Saturday.

Dr. T. H. Davies, president of the Board of Health and Dr. F. F. Armstrong, secretary, said that while the rules require the burial of the body within the State within thirty hours after death, as the home of the parents is not far over the State line the board will permit the removal of the body when all precautions have been observed for preventing spread of the disease.
