LOCAL NOTES.....

Mr. Milton Cahn, owner of the Dunn farm in Quaker Neck says the gunning has been fine. The limit has been easily obtained on each gunning day and never seen black ducks or Mallards as numerous, or in better condition. Quail are also in abundance on his property this season.

E. E. Hudson is having his property improved with an attractive coat of paint. The Dodd house on High street has also been repainted. M. Elwood Baker is doing the work.

Mrs. Joseph Walters is improving her property by the addition of a new porch. Harvey Blyman is doing the work.

A meeting of the Wilmington Conference and Middletown District Officers of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Klinefelter, Nov. 13, 1928. There were 18 officers present and 7 visitors. Mrs. Harper, of Still Pond, President, had charge of the meeting. A full report of the Annual Baltimore Branch meeting in October, and also of the National meeting which was held in California was given. These reports were an inspiration to all present. All auxiliaries were urged to increase their membership. Miss Lulie Hooper, of Baltimore, was present and gave very helpful information. Mrs. Klinefelter served a delicious and bountiful luncheon which was enjoyed by all.

With a view to conducting an educational campaign among the farmers of this county during the fall and winter months officials of the Kent County Farm Bureau have purchased a moving picture outfit as a means of showing conditions of farm life throughout the country as well as the various methods of crop cultivation employed in the great grain and dairy belts of the country. Arrangements have been made with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Farm Federation for the use of a large number of views which have been taken, and these reels will be loaned to the local officials at the cost of transportation. The first meeting was held in Rock Hall; a second in Massey, and during the coming week meetings will be held in Kennedyville, Worton, Millington and other sections.
