Christ, the Good Shepherd. Luke 15: 4—7. What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5. And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost. 7. I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repeneth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, with no repentance.

Prayer: Yea, though I walk thru the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me.

Aside from reports concerning the work being accomplished by the various societies of the district and a general discussion of problems concerning the work in foreign fields, an address was delivered by Mrs. Henry Hupfield, of Baltimore, representative of the Board of Missions of the Maryland Conference of the M. P. Church. It was a most delightful occasion. Lunch was served at the church.

Primitive Farming

Korean farmers depend on the ox or cow for plowing and hauling because native horses are too small for farm labor.

Had It Both Ways

"Well, old man, did you marry that girl of yours, or do you still darn your own socks?" "Yes."

FIRST MOVEMENT TOWARD UNION

By practically a unanimous rising vote, the 141st general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America at St.Paul, Minn., on Friday, adopted a far reaching recommendation looking towards organic union of five large Protestant Church bodies.

The proposal, made on the floor of the assembly, provided for appointment of commissions to confer with similar commissions from the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Church South, and the Presbyterian Church of the United States, generally known as the Presbyterian Church, South.

The action was taken in answer to an invitation for a commission to consider union extended by the Protestan Episcopal Church at its general convention in Washington in October, 1928. Similarly, other church bodies have had under consideration proposals for union, but today's action is the first concrete movement towards union.

The assembly's department on church co-operation and union urged in the report that "there be a complete union with all the bodies of the Reformed faith and Presbyterian order."

Groups mentioned by the department to whom it proposes overtures be made include the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the United States, often called the South Church in addition to the Reformed Church Synod, which is best known as the Dutch Reformed Church.

Continued consideration of a proposal for a union with the Methodist Episcopal Church was also urged. Definite action on this proposal,made at various times, has long been pending, but is not expected to be taken at this assembly in view of the fact that the next Methodist general conference is to be held three years hence.

ACTION AGAINST TOWN COMMISSIONERS

Mrs. Mabel S. Baker, of Baltimore, has filed suit against the Board of Commissioners of Chestertown for $25,000 as a result of the death of Miss May Appler, of Baltimore, daughter of Mrs. Baker, who was killed in an automobile accident here, on July 20, 1928. The car in which Miss Appler was driving from Baltimore to Queenstown with three young friends turned over on the highway in Chestertown. The plaintiff claims that the accident was caused by a hole in the street, causing a wheel of the machine to become wedged between the concrete road and a manhole, which caused the car to turn over. It is also claimed that the street upon which the accident occurred was not properly lighted. Miss Appler died while being taken to Easton Hospital by Sheriff J. Thomas Hadaway.

The case has been removed to the Cecil County Court and will be tried at the September term. Harrison W. Vickers, of Chestertown, represents the defendant, while Joseph H. A. Rogan and L. Wethered Barroll, of Baltimore, represent the plaintiff.
