WESLEY CHAPEL'S CONGREGATION OBSERVES ITS 100TH ANNIVERSARY

WESLEY CHAPEL THE REV. B. I. BARNES

Members of Wesley Chapel Methodist Protestant Church, near Rock Hall observed the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the historic congregation Sunday.

The church was established in September, 1829, just one year in advance of the organization of the Maryland Annual Conference, which had its birth in 1830 in old Liberty Street Church, Baltimore, between Lexington and Fayette.

The first pastor of the church was William Kesley, and the building erected in 1829 was in use until 1854, when a new church building was erected. The present church building, which has recently been renovated, is located in a cluster of old oak trees on the Rock Hall-Chestertown State road, and many of the most prominent residents of the lower section of Kent county have been among its members.

The first official board of the church was John Urie, James Eagle, Hiram Jones, William Copper, Daniel Collins, Charles Rigby, Nathan Hatcherson, Dr. Jacob Fisher and Joseph Denny.

Among the early pastors of the charge were, William Kesley, James Thompson, R. L. Lewis, W. B. Litsinger, James E. Maloy, C. E. McCullough, J. W. Gray, and Webster M. Strayer, Rev. B. I. Barnes, one of the younger ministers of the conference, is the present pastor.

The celebration program given on Sunday included the reading of the history of the church by one of the official board, an address by the Rev. Dr. Leonard B. Smith, president of the Maryland Conference, in the morning, a sermon in the afternoon by the Rev. Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, pastor of Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, and in the evening a song service preceded several reminiscent addresses by former pastors.

Special music for all the services was under the direction of Marion T. Miller, assisted by Arlington L. Judefind and associates, of Baltimore. The present congregation numbers 203, with a fine Sunday School of which Elwood Burgess is superintendent, and since its organization the charge has sent four of its members into the ministry—the Rev. Benjamin A. Bryan, now postor at Mount Airy M. P. Church; the Rev. Dr. J. F. Bryan, of Towson; the Rev. Chas. M. Elderdice, Westminster, and the Rev. W. B. Judefind, of Waverly M. P. Church. The Rev. B. I. Barnes, pastor, was in charge of all services on Sunday.

A beautiful day, fine sermons, splendid music and a christian spirit marked the whole day's proceedings. At noon a "family dinner" was served to all visitors and supper in the evening in the community room near the church.

The Rock Hall M. E. Church congregation, with their pastor, Rev. W. S. Grant, joined in the services of the morning.

Rutherford Maldies, of Baltimore, has sold a dwelling on The Haven to Mr. Collison, of Philadelphia, who will use it as a summer home, meanwhile installing in the dwelling Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their grandson, Arthur Davis, who will attend the High School in Rock Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will remove to another location at the end of the regular notice period.

Andrew "Rip" Perry, well known Chestertown character, signed with Hunt's motorized show as an assistant mechanic. The circus is making its way southward. They gave a good performance and was well attended at night. Mr. Brinsfield, of Crumpton, is in charge of the culinary department.

BY PASTOR

"Hasn't this been a grand day," tre the words which characterized the Centennial Celebration of Wesley Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 8, 1929. Truly it was a grand day. Friends and members from near and far gathered to pay homage and honor to the church they loved and the fellowship lingers in our hearts still.

The church school was well attended and an interesting program featuring solos by Randolph Burgess and Mrs. Burns, and an address by Prof. A. L. Judefind, was given. The morning service found the church filled to capacity. The sermon was given by Dr. L. B. Smith, President of the Maryland Annual Conference. It was a sermon that only Dr. Smith could preach and the warmth of it still glows in our hearts. He preached on "Our Heritage," analyzing it as Worship, Stewardship and Evangelism. In his own way he showed that these, while our heritage, were still before us demanding our best and calling us ever higher. While not permitting us to lose sight of the glorious past he caused us to set our hearts on things yet to be accomplished.

Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, pastor Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, gave the afternoon address to a full house. His theme was , "Ye are the salt of the earth, ye are the light of the world." What a splendid depiction of the function and place of the church! Of especial interest was his description of the properties of salt and light and his treatment of the church as community and personal assets.

Rev. A. F. T. Raum, Pastor Sharptown M. P. Church, conducted a fitting memorial service for the ministers who are buried in the beautiful Wesley Chapel Cemetery. After a few remarks about the works and life of these men by Brother Raum, a bouquet of flowers was placed by Mrs. M. L. Maslin, oldest member of the church, on the alter, over the grave of William Kesley—one of the ministers present at the organization of the Maryland Conference, in 1830. Rev. C. L. Dawson, Pastor of Leeds M. P. Church, decorated the grave of Daniel W. Bates, while Mr. Lawrence Stevens placed the floral tribute on the resting place of Jesse Shreeve.

The speech-makers for the evening were the former pastors who were able to be with us, Bros. C. L. Dawson and A. F. T Raum. These speeches were reminiscent in character and promiscuous rambling was indulged. However, we were touched and inspired by these heart to heart talks of those who loved us and had labored with us.

If by virtue of first mention these things are considered the most important of our day's celebration, a correction is in order. Prof. A. L. Judefind. assisted by Miss Kathleen Early, Miss Alma Dix, Mrs. William Hoffacher, sopranos; Miss MaryVickers, contralto; Lankford A. Vickers and E. O. Vickers, tenors; William M. Hoffacker and Prof. A. L. Judefind, baritones; Arlington Judefind. violinist, and Mrs. A. L. Judefind gave a splendid sacred concert in the afternon service. They also sang two anthems in the morning service. Miss Early sang in the morning, "Consider and Hear Me."

Other special musical items were provided. The Sunday School and evening service was provided by local talent and was of a high order. Mrs. Bessie Leary, Mrs. Frances Barnes, Charles Judefind and M. T. Miller gave a quartet. Miss Dorothy and Miss Clara Kelley, aged about seven and ten, gave two cornet solos. Mrs. Barnes sang a solo in the morning and evening service. All these numbers were good selections and well rendered. The musical feature of our program merits our highest praise.

We cannot enumerate all the details which ought to receive our commendation but attention is called to the beautiful decoration of the church and hall, by Miss Mary Leary, and to the sufficient preparation for our physical appetites by the ladies of the church and community. Every one voted this phase of the day blessing a huge success.

The spirit of Wesley Chapel was again made manifest in love, loyalty, devotion and splendid cooperation. It is our hope and prayer that the ideals stirred in our hearts this day will go on to a worthy fruition to the hour and glory of God. "The first hundred years are the hardest." Let us on this firm foundation, stand ready for every demand. Let us face the future with high resolve. Let us leave to our posterity a record of which we will not be ashamed. Let us go forward NOW.

Mills, who is employed by Edw. Rosser, a truck owner had gone to Hurlock to secure a load of cans which he had just loaded upon the truck in front of the Continental Can Company's plant ready to haul to canners at Rock Hall Md. He was in the act of strapping the load when the rope suddenly gave way, letting him fall with great force to the cement road about 10 feet below He fell upon his hip, causing the fracture. A local physician rendered and aid when he was removed to the hospital where a Baltimore bone specialist was summoned to set the broken bones.

He has a wife and small child.
