Samuel E. Shannahan, editor and manager of the Easton Star-Democrat has been appointed a member of the Board of Visitors of Washington College by Gov. Ritchie.

The 43rd annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society will be held at Easton, Md., December 5 and 6. W. Mason Shehan is president.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION

Dr. Edw. J. Clarke, of the Worcester Democrat, writes as follows of the late election:

Well, they had an election "Down in old Virginny" last week, and they do say that the Fusion candidate was done up Brown. Somebody said he turned White when the returns came in, and that on Wednesday morning, he had lots more Grey hairs than were on his head the night before. Things look sort of Black, politically for him now, and no doubt he has the Greeneye when he levels his optics on Garland Pollard. During the campaign he was charged with being a little Yellow concerning his record on the short ballot; and his speeches were also characterized by some as tinged with Bolshevistic Red. Likely enough he has had a Blue fit more than once since the election, as he has settled once more with the Drab grind of his daily routine.

However, no matter how many colors he exhibited in his short, meteoric, political career, they were a necessary accompaniment to the multi-hued character of his affiliation. He couldn't settle down on any particular complexion; he had to be a sort of chameleon when it came to stripes. He was making a bid for all sorts of suffrage. He had to be a lighting-change artist to suit his different audiences. Republicans, Democrats, Independent (so-called), Prohibitionists, Socialists, Laborites, Anti-Smithites, Anti-Romanists, Anti-Byrdites, Anti - Administrationites, and all other creeds and Antis, had to have a different colored flag flashed into their eyes and Mr. Brown was kept busy getting hold of the right bunting. Well, it's all over now, and Mr. Brown can occupy next vacation days, thinking up new issues to improve the worst governed state in the Union.

ON TO THE INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION

Any Kent countian interested in seeing "the last word" in livestock should arrange to be in Chicago November 30th to December 7th, 1929. During these days "the International" is held. Some 12,000 head of the choicest livestock (horses, cattle, sheep and swine) will be on show and in competition.

The big Hay and Grain Show is on at the same time. The Poultry and Turkey Show is on at the same time, but not in the same buildings. Many organization meetings are held at this great meeting place. Some 1500 4-H Club members will be in attendance, competing for generous prizes. It will be remembered that last year Albert Goecke, a twelve-year-old Iowa 4-H Club boy won the grand championship with his club baby beef steer when it was shown by his seventeen-year-old sister who competed with the best showmen in the game.

Thrilling sights and experiences await any and all who can attend. The International has well been called an "Eight-Day University." It is hoped that a number of Kent county farmers may attend.

MILLIONS FOR MILK

President Allebach in his annual address before the Milk Association said:

"The association, which numbers 22,500 members, located as follows: Pennsylvania, 14,282; Maryland, 4,112; New Jersey, 2,281, produce the major portion of fluid milk marketed in the Philadelphia milk shed. In the fiscal year just closed, the association marketed for its members 803,218,111 pounds of milk. This represents an increase of 0.62 per cent over that of the previous year.

"The weighted average price producers were paid for this milk during the past fiscal year was $3,642 per 100 pounds.

"Based on the weighted price for 4 per cent butter fat milk, delivered to Philadelphia, the amount of money paid the farmers for this milk in the Philadelphia milk shed for their product was $29,256,845.60 as compared with $28,493,760.06 during the previous fiscal year. This represents an increase of 0.95 per cent.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce, attended a conference of representatives from the four Chamber of commerce districts into which Maryland has been divided in Annapolis last week.

STUDENT SPIRIT

The News man has witnessed several games at the college recently and was impressed with the lack of school spirit. There is no excuse for this and we are calling attention to it for the purpose of creating a better condition in this respect. We might write columns and hear you say, "What does he know about it-" But here is a letter from a graduate of 1928. Hear what he says in the last issue of the Collegian;

"A few weeks ago I was reading an article of yours in the "Collegian" on Spirit and it's relation to the students of Washington College. At that time I supposed that you were sounding your annual call and that the spirit was as good as that always shown by Washingtonians. However, on returning to the football game two weeks ago, and again last week, I met the realization that the old spirit has died. In fact there isn't any in your student body. Such a display of lack of spirit shown on those two days had never been excelled by any student body. I cannot recall another day in my memory of Washington that I have ever seen a squad of football men trot out on that field without a cheer from their fellow students to greet them. Not only that, Mr. Editor, but the cheering section never did arrive. The dozen or so followers of the visiting team made more noise, showed more spirit, displayed more enthusiasm and exhibited more loyalty than our entire student body.

"Something is wrong at Washington, something is lacking that has not been so in my memory of our institution. I ask you, Mr. Editor, what is it? Is it because some of the high and mighty upper classmen have the attitude that the freshmen should do the yelling. If you believe me, I should say the freshmen have all the spirit and thats whats wrong. What is wrong with the classes that are supposed leaders? I n my opinion, you people, who make up the student body of Washington College are the most pepless, lifeless, indifferent, disinterested group that I have ever seen on the Washington campus. You even watch a football game with a bored expression as if to say, "just what are those fellows attempting in such a rough manner." I am really surprised that the fellows have played as good a football as they have this season. Why should they when you fellow classmates won't even exert themselves to the point of cheering for them.

"At once I hear somebody saying you'll all be out when basketball season starts. No doubt! But anybody can cheer a winner. Don't you suppose the losers need a pat on the back once in a while?

In talking the matter over with some other interested alumni, someone remarked that at present all we have is a dancing student body. After my last visit I am much of his opinion. Last Saturday, many mentioned the date of the next dance. Not one said come back next week and see what we do to Mt.St.Mary's.

"Again let me repeat there is something lacking. What is it you loyal Washintonians? Who is responsible? In answering every question don't look at each other for it, each of you look yourself in the face and you find an answer.

Mr. Editor, I hope that I have not overstepped the boundaries of an alumnus expressing his opinion, one in which I believe I'm not alone.

"Hoping that on my return this Saturday I shall see a spirit manifested of which I am sure true Washingtonians are capable, I am

Very truly yours,
CHAS. E. SMITH."

Governor Ritchie on Tuesday announced paroles for 21 prisoners. Among them was Jesse Ringgold, colored. The Governor says, "Sentenced by the Circuit Court of Kent County to two years in the Penitentiary for stealing from a store. His record a number of years ago was not very good, but he has devoted his earning while in prison to the support of his family and steady work is not offered him. Less than one month more of his term remains and I think he will be the better for this clemency.

STATE OF MARYLAND
Office of the Secretary of State

To All Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Governor of Maryland for the pardon or parole of Jesse Ringgold, who was convicted at the April term 1928 of the Circuit Court for Kent County of Breaking and Entering and sentenced to serve 2 years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

The Governor will take up the said case for final decision on or after December 2, 1929, until which time protest against such pardon or parole will be heard and the papers filed will be open for inspection at the discretion of the Governor.

By order of the Governor,
DAVID C. WINEBRENNER, 3d,
n30 Secretary of State.

IN MEMORIUM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Edgar S. Davis, who departed this life two years ago December 4, 1927.

Two years have passed dear husband
But my heart is just the same;
For many a silent tear has fallen
At the mention of your name.

Today recalls sad memories
Of a dear husband gone to rest,
And the one who thinks of him today
Is the one who loved him best.

There's a longing to see your sweet face,
A loneliness in a voice that is stilled,
For your loving embrace, an empty place,
A vacant chair that can never be filled.

Peaceful be thy rest dear husband,
"Tis sweet to breathe your name;
In life I loved you dearly,
In death I do the same.

Sadly missed by wife,
HENRIETTA C. DAVIS.

In loving remembrance of my wife and our dear mother, Margaret Lecates, who passed away one year ago November 13, 1928.

You suffered hours, yes, hours of pain,
To wait for cure, but all in vain,
'Till God alone knew what was best,
He called you home to give you rest.
The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave,
Where sleeps our dear old mother
We loved but could not save.
We often set and think of you
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say good-by
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best;
May God give you eternal rest.
By Her Husband and Children.

Why shop around for the smartest hat when you know we have Stetsons?

AND OF COURSE every one knows that style is not the only thing you get in a Stetson hat . . . the quality is unmatched and the workmanship is most expert. For three generations Stetson has been making the best hats that can be made . . . so it is only natural that Stetson leadership is known the world over. Regular Stetson wearers gave up making comparisons long ago. So if you are really particular about your appearance you might as well come around for your Stetson now . . . for you will come to it sooner or later.
