A Happy and Joyous Christmas to all.

Evening affairs in cities and towns like Easton do not last the way they do in big centers, but they are plenty late enough, and sometimes continue too long for the good of the next day's work. In some cities, the dancing crowd will get the idea that it is not good form to appear at dances until a late hour. So they will linger around their homes thru the early evening and appear at their parties at an hour when people used to be in bed. Some of the college affairs do not really get the crowd in until midnight, so that the dancing has to continue almost or quite to daylight. Late hours interfere with people's work the next day. Students are sleepy and incapable of study, and business people are dull and logy. Yet dancing is a useful exercise, if conducted in accordance with the laws of health. It may be too much to expect that dancing crowd would be willing to start their affairs at 8 o'clock and run them until 11 o'clock or perhaps 12. But if they would do something like that they really care for, and they would come out in better shape the next day. Doing a thing in an unreasonable way just because they do things that way in some big city or swell circle, seems a case of foolish aping of other people.—Easton Star-Democrat.

Chestertown might be included in this complaint and learn a wholesome lesson therefrom.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HOOVER'S MESSAGE

Here are some outstanding passages in President Hoover's annual message to Congress:

We are not only at peace with all the world, but the foundations for future peace are being substantially strengthened.

We need to reestablish faith that the highest interests of our country are served by insistence upon swift and even-handed administration of justice to all offenders, whether rich or poor.

The first duty of the President under his oath is to secure the enforcement of the laws.

Our laws are made by the people themselves; theirs is the right to work for their repeal; but until repeal it is an equal duty to observe them and demand their enforcement.

We still have marines on foreign soil. * * * * In a large sense we do not wish to be represented abroad in such manner.

To preserve internal order and freedom from encroachment is the first purpose of Government.

The finances of the Government are in sound condition.

We cannot fail to recognize the obligations of the Government in support of public welfare but we must coincidentally bear in mind the burden of taxes and strive to find relief through some tax reduction.

Yes, there are still plenty of dry spots in Washington. There's the Congressional Record, for instance.

If they keep on making louder and louder pajamas they'll have to get busy producing sound-proof bedrooms.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Inexpressibly saddended by the death of their fellow-member, William Janvier, and desiring to place on permanent record their sense of loss in the passing of this Christian gentleman, the Wardens and Vestry of Shrewsbury Parish have this day caused a page in the book of minutes of their body to be set aside to bear this record.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His divine wisdom to call to his eternal rest the soul of our dear friend, William Janvier, therefore be Resolved, That in the passing of William Janvier, the Parish has lost a dear friend, a wise counsellor, a faithful steward, and a devout Churchman. Kindly and sympathetic to all, firm in his opinions, but always ready to see the point of view of others with honest opinions, the wisdom of his counsel made it a pleasure to be associated with him.

Shrewsbury Parish will sorely miss his wise counsel and generous help. He walked with us for a time, to give us of his kindly service and advice, and their God called him in Himself to enter into that greater life and service with his saints above. "Let light perpetual shine upon him," O God. Be it further,

Resolved, That a copy of this be sent to his sister, and a copy be published in the Kent county papers and the Eastern Shore Churchman and also that it be spread upon the minutes of the Vestry.

NURSES WORK FOR NOVEMBER

With two hundred and eighty-six hours in the field the two Kent County nurses have been kept busy during the month of November. Two hundred and seventeen visits were made to county homes for instruction nursing and social service work. It is interesting to note that the nursing visits include surgical, medical, tubercular, orthopedic, prenatal, infant and pre-school cases.

In the school clinics the following defects were recorded by examining physicians and nurses; eyes, 19; ears, 2; number of children having defective teeth, 72; throat, 85; skin, 6; heart, 2; orthopedic, 7; malnutrition, 105; mentally defective (apparently) 2.

With malnutrition, 105; throat, 85, and teeth, 72, there is plenty of serious work for both nurses, physicians, parents, and laymen interested in the welfare of the children of Kent county. Many cases of infected tonsils on the records are charity cases. Funds are now lacking for the small Kent County Hospital to take on many such cases. They are slipped in as often as possible when pay cases are being operated upon but greater support is needed for all these little people to be cared for. The rates for the full-paying cases are remarkably low and allow very little for overhead. The situation demands the help of the progressive citizens in the town and county if the little hospital is to continue its good work until the larger hospital is in operating condition.

One new case of tuberculosis was reported during the month.

Moving pictures for the benefit of the school children were shown in three of the white schools and two of the colored. These exhibits were held in connection with the pre-school age clinics and were appreciated by parents and school children.

Dr. Beachley, Deputy State Health Officer, and Miss White, the County Nurse, have been carrying on the examination of school children throughout the month and Miss White has continued her work with the various women's clubs in Kent with almost a hundred per cent attendance.

Two white borths and nine colored were reported during November.

Dr. Holden operated on four patients, two white and two colored, at the Kent County Hospital. Glasses were prescribed for two children and one child was referred to a hospital for blood treatment.

One colored child was turned over to the Maryland Children's Aid Society through Miss Hunt.

A meeting of the Public Health Association of Kent County is being called on January 14 of the entire membership for the purpose of amending the constitution of the organization.

Christmas

Christmas turns our thoughts to values that are expressed by such words as home, children, friendship, love. Its coming makes us realize that the aim of progress is the protection and elevation of these values. Whatever in civilization contributes to the happiness and well-being of home and children is good; whatever threatens them is bad.

There is no substitute for the joys of the Christmas season. They are the essence of life, and all that gives meaning life.

And so we give expression to the usual greeting and sincerely wish that every customer and friend may enjoy

A MERRY CHRISTMAS and
A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of dear husband, Harry B. Lambert, who died one year ago December 18th, 1928.

What would I give to clasp your hand
Your happy face to see,
To hear your voice and see your smile
That meant so much to me.

I often sit and think of you
And think of how you died,
But oh! it was so hard to think
I could not say good-bye.

By his loving wife NellieM. Lambert.
