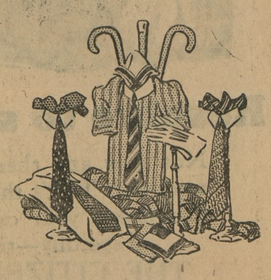
The weight testing of the concrete piles which have been placed at the site of the new span will be continued after the holidays. The testing is accomplished by placing huge loads of sand in gins atop the piles.



Gifts That Evoke Utmost Appreciation

FIND THE MAN with an infallible instinct for the finer things of life, and the ability and taste to achieve them, and you are reasonably certain to have found the man who wears clothes that bear the name of "Bordley & Son".

There is a reason for this. We have assumed the responsibility of serving such a clientele and we have obligated ourselves to a standard of merchandise that few establishments would care to attempt and which fewer still would ever hope to achieve.

This is why "Bordley & Son" have merited the favoritism of discriminating persons. This is why Gifts that bear the Bordley & Son label are assured of utmost appreciation, appreciation that reflects creditably upon the good judgment of the donor.

Though we feature only those things for men which we know to be distinctive, authenic and proper, our prices are very moderate.

DEATHS.

James Elwood Morris, aged 64, died Sunday in the Kent county ambulance while enroute to a Philadelphia hospital. Mr. Morris had not been in the best of health for some time but on Friday, November 29th, he was seriously injured by a bull in the barnyard of his home, near Worton Station. This injury aggravated his previous ailment and death resulted.

The deceased occupied a prominent place in the social and business life of the county. He was a practical farmer and made a success of it. He was active in the work of St. James M. P. Church and often represented it at conference.

He was a director in the Citizens Bank and took quite an interest in its success. He was also active in the Farm Bureau and aided in its projects.

In politics he was a Democrat and welded a large influence in Worton District. He was elected Register of Wills some years ago and filled the office with fidelity. He leaves a son, Romie, by a former wife, and a widow, who before marriage, was Miss Ethel Loller.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at his home by the Rev. J. L. Marker, pastor of St. James M. P. Church. Burial was in Chester Cemetery. The pall bearers were R. Woodall Robinson, Harry Parsons, Wm. T. Nicholson, Samuel C. Loller, of this county, and David B. Stewart and Walter R. Gale, of Baltimore; W. T. Hicks, undertaker.

M. Elwood Morris was a member of the Modern Woodmen having joined 1909.

Mrs. Joanna W. Merritt, aged 88 years, widow of the late James P. Merritt, who for many years was a well-known contractor and builder of Elkton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John W. Lowe, 4712 Roland avenue, Baltimore, Wednesday night. She had been in very feeble health for some years. Before her marriage, she was Miss Joanna White, of Elkton. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. John W. Lowe and Mrs. Charles R. Twilley, both of Baltimore. Mrs. Merritt made her home in Chestertown for several years with daughter, Mrs. Twilley, and endeared herself to a large circle of friends. She was a fine christian woman and shed sunshine wherever she went.

The funeral was held Saturday morning, from the home of her son-in-law, Dr. Lowe, in Baltimore. The remains were brought to Elkton Cemetery, for interment.

Alfred T. McGuire passed away on Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harper Brice, of Worton, with heart trouble, age 72 years. He is survived by the folliwing children: Mrs. Harry Gary, Wm. T. McGuire, of Locust Grove, Mrs. Michael Haley, near Chestertown, Delbert McGuire, near Kennedyville, and Mrs. Harper Brice, of Worton. Also seventeen grandchildren and two great grand children.

Funeral services were held in Galena M. E. Church Tuesday, December 24th, interment in Galena Cemetery, undertaker, J. A. Tobin.
