LET'S SAVE SHORE TRADE

Baltimore must act if you want to save the business of the Eastern Shore for his city.

Already Philadelphia, which is engaged in a huge advertising program, is claiming the greater part of the Eastern Shore as its normal trade territory.

The claim is made that one mile of rail or truck travel equals fifty miles of water travel, thus giving a logical reason why the "Sho' " is their own bailiwick, economically speaking.

The answer is the Bay Bridge. This alone can equalize the rail and truck distance between Baltimore and the Eastern Shore and Philadelphia and this same fertile trade territory.

The news yesterday from Senator Tydings that private banks will finance the project is good news. It would be good news if any agency is going to build the bay bridge.

The truth is that WE NEED the bay bridge, through whatever agency and by whatever means we can get it. —Evening News, Dec. 13, 1930.

Washington College closed yesterday for the Christmas holidays and special holiday programs were held by college organizations and an electrically lighted Christmas tree will be erected at the entrance of Reid Hall, women's dormiory. It will be kept lighted on the outside of the building, during the New Year's season. Classes will be resumed on January 5th.

The closing social event of the season was the production of the mystery comedy, "The Creaking Chair," by the Dramatic Club, under the direction of Professor John D. Makosky, head of the department of public speaking. The cast of characters included Misses Katherine LeKites, Muriel Madden, Dorothy Johnson, Getty Hutchinson, Nelson Hurley, Edward Luckey, William Danneburg, Harry Davis, Lindley Cook and Harry Smith. It was a fine production.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The best gift is self. Not for self but of self, to Him of whom the angels sang "On earth peace, good will toward men." Why should not this love, which fills us at Christmas time, grow in our lives during the whole year as it did in the life of the Christ?

Great lives are lives filled with service. Those lives which make for themselves a place in history are lives that have been lived for others. The Japanese have a saying that we may well remember, "Kindness, a language the dumb can speak and the dumb can understand."

Try this Christmas to remember the weakness and lowliness of those who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you, and to ask yourself whether you love them enough; to make a grave for ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open. Henry Vandyke also says, "to trim your light so that it will give more light and less smoke; to bear in mind the things that other people bear in their hearts:" Finally, what the Shepherds sang and has reechoed thru the world these many years means nothing to the one who shuts his heart and purse to the world about him. Be reckless in your loving and serving and your life will be bigger and better.

QUEEN ANNE'S BOARD NAME ROADS

At the regular meeting last Tuesday the Board of Queen Anne's County Commissioners made recommendations to the State Roads Commission regarding the placing of new highways in Queen Anne's during next year. Among them were as follows:

Completion of the road from Sudlersville to the Delaware Line.

Building a macadam connection between the new approach to Chester River Bridge, Chestertown, and the site of the old bridge.

Removal of the "Double S" curve about two miles north of Centreville on the Centreville-Church Hill road.

Widening of the road from Centreville to Chestertown, the work to begin at the Centreville end.

Removal of all woodwork of the old Chester River Bridge at Chestertown with the exception of the brick bulkhead on the Queen Anne's side. This is to be used for public landing.

The Banker's Group Fvie comprising Kent, Queen Anne's, Talbot and Caroline were entertained by the Community Club in Denton Thursday evening. Rouland P. Chaffinch presided. A round table discussion of matters pertaining to banking proved quite helpful. Kent was represented by Allan A. Harris, W. R. Huey, G. D. Lofland, Morris K. Barroll, Dr. H. B. Simmons, Chas. F. Wheatley and Fred. G. Usilton. A splendid dinner was served.

WHAT'S THE MATTER.

Wherever men and women congregate the conditions prevailing in the economic world is the theme for discussion and nine out of ten cases the company disperses with each one gloomier than ever. We believe there is a lesson to be learned from the "repression" that is now on. We might write a column in arriving at our conclusions but find in the following letter from a father to his boy at college a well-put example of how to solve the situation.

This college boy wrote to his father asking if he thought it would be all right for him to borrow a "Tux" for wear at a college function. Here is the reply in part:

"Its all right to borrow the "Tux" if you are carful of it and don't get the "Tux" habit. By that I mean something like this: A "Tux" is a luxury, one you can hardly afford. I never felt I could afford one until last year, but not having one didn't worry me. I went freely and with happiness to lots of places where other men wore them, though I could not. There is danger of getting the habit, and wanting and using everything others have, even if we can't afford to. If we get these things we want and don't absolutely need, sooner or later we get in debt, and then there's a smash. Or, on the other hand, we get gumpy because we don't have everything others do. Multitudes buy cars which they cannot afford. They are ashamed not to have them and unhappy if they don't have them; but they really can't afford them, and could get along without them—and be happy too.

If you get the "Tux" habit, there are other things you think you need to go along with it. Wouldn't it be better to wear what you had, to stand on your own feet, to show up for what you can really afford? I am not arguing it or cammanding it, just asking. Does your happiness depend on it? Then you are laying foundation for a lot of unhappiness later. You will always be trying to "keep up with the Joneses" instead of finding your joy in being independent of their habits. For if you can't live without wanting everything others have, you no sooner have what one group has than you want all that the next richer group has. Good men have been led into temptation and theft and disgrace by such processes. Furthermore, any organization or group of people who want your presence because you can wear a "Tux" can't be worth much. They are more for your clothes than for you. Again, why test the matter? Is it true you could not be happy without a "Tux?" Will any real lady think less of you?

COUNTY SURVEY OF NEEDY CASES

The Kent County Chamber of Commerce has gone about making a survey of needy cases in Kent in a very business-like and thorough manner. These cases have been reached thru the county school teachers, the county truant officer, Mrs. May Beck; the county health nurse, Miss Fannie Beckham; the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Helen Schellinger, and picked cases from the Commissioner's records.

The cases listed are those which are real and where aid should be given.

THE WORD OR OVERLOOKED

The entire nation was stirred by the decision of Federal Judge William Clark in Newark, N. J., that the Eighteenth Amendment was invalid. Government attorneys announced a quick appeal of the ruling, in which Judge Clark held that the prohibition amendment was void because it was ratified by State Legislatures instead of by constitutional conventions. A well-known Chestertown lawyer says Mr. Clark has simply overlooked the little word "OR" and his decision is a tempest in a teapot. The law reads ratified by State Legislatures "OR" conventions.
