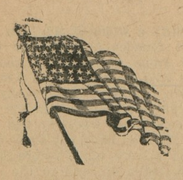
NOTICE



Owing to July 4th, coming on Friday and Saturday declared a legal holiday also, the KENT NEWS will go to press Thursday, July 3rd.

All correspondents and the public generally will please take notice of this and govern themselves accordingly.

The Queen Anne's tax rate has been set at $1.75. As we announced two weeks ago the Kent county rate is $1.63 thanks to Commissioners Johnson, Jones and Wood.

Saturday was the turning point of the year in so far as length of days is concerned. Saturday was fifteen hours and one minute long. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursay were all of the same length but a minute shorter. From now on there will be a shortness of one minute each day until December.

PLANS TO ENFORCE LAW

Amos W. W. Woodcock, named as director of the new bureau of prohibition in the Department of Justice, said in an interview today that he planned to see that the law is administered "fairly, honestly, decently, earnestly and above all, lawfully."

He said he plans to commute to Washington every day before July 1, when he is to take office. A bachelor, he indicated he would set up an establishment in Washington like that which has served him in Baltifore, spending his week-ends at Salisbury, his old home, as at present.

BRIDGE MEMORIAL HEARING

Dr. G. Allan Jarman, of the Frank M. Jarman Post and Thomas J. Keating, Jr., of the Jeff Davis Post, American Legion, represented these ex-service bodies of Kent and Queen Anne's counties at a hearing before the Maryland State Roads Commission on Monday when the plans for making the new Chester river bridge a memorial to the war veterans of the two counties were discussed.

The roads body gave the delegates no reply as to whether the plans offered by the Legion Posts would be accepted and took the matter under advisement.

The Kent Island Ferry to Annapolis will be inaugurated next Tuesday with a big celebration. The Medical Unit from Chestertown will take part. Floats, speeches, air planes, etc. etc., will be on the program.

CHESAPEAKE BAY LEAGUE

Standing of the Teams.

	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Georges	6	1	.857
Galena	5	2	.714
Newark	4	4	.500
Kennedyville	4	4	.500
Cecilton	3	5	.375
Middletown	1	7	.125

In a 14-inning battle, the longest game of the season in the Chesapeake Bay League, St. Georges defeated Middletown at Middletown Saturday, 4 to 3, thus to retain the loop leadership. Middletown tied the score in the ninth by scoring twice.

The feature of the game was the steady work of both pitchers. McCarthy had six strikeouts while Rawley had fourteen. P. McCarthy sparkled at short for St. Georges by accepting 15 shances without an error. He also had two hits.

St. Georges will play Newark at St. Georges next Saturday.

By its victory over Cecilton, the Galena club of the Chesapeake Bay League clinched its hold on second place and a neck-and-neck race for first honors with St. Georges is now in progress. The Blue Hen State outfit now has chalked up six victories against a single defeat, while the Galena club has dropped two games and won five.

Kennedyville and Newark each have split even with four wins and losses while Cecilton has taken three games and dropped five.

Clendaniel and Bill Johnston of the local club are going strong with the willow and are rolling up their batting average as the season waxes.

During the next weekly series Kennedyville will play at Cecilton, Galena at Middletown and Newark at St. Georges. Special games will also be played July 4 when Galena will appear at Kennedyville, Middletown at Cecilton and St. Georges at Newark. The largest crowds in the history of the infant league are being reported from the various ball grounds and interest in baseball along the upper Delmarva Peninsula is said to be rapidly increasing.

J. W. CHAPMAN ELECTED

Kent county in James W. Chapman has a splendid representative. He was elected president of the Maryland Bar Association at Atlantic City this week after serving 22 years as secretary. Mr. Chapman is a native son of Kent and well known here where he spent his boyhood years and is still a frequent visitor. He is a brother of W. W. Chapman.

Leading members of the Baltimore bar and bench, with attorneys and jurists from all sections of the State, attended. Headquarters are at the Ambasador Hotel.

Jesse N. Bowen, of Baltimore, is to succeed Mr. Chapman as secretary, and R. Bennett Darnell named for treasurer. The executive committee nominees are Judge Eli Frank of the Baltimore Supreme Bench; Herbert R. O'Connor, State's Attorney for Baltimore; T. Howard Duckett, of Hyattsville, and Judge Frank I. Duncan, of Towson.

Hon. Lewin W. Wickes and wife and Harrison W. Vickers and wife of the local bar, attended the convention.

A FINE APPOINTMENT

United States District Attorney of Maryland, Amos W. W. Woodcock, has been selected by the President and the Attorney General as Director of the Bureau of Prohibition of the Department of Justice and has accepted the appointment. It is the first step taken in the reorganization of the prohibition enforcement machinery under the new law, which transfers the bureau from the Treasury to teh Department of Justice. Dr. J. M. Doran will remain as chief of the liquor division.

The President has made a wise appointment in Mr. Woodcock

The marriage clinic at Hamburg and Germany's laboratories will be joint objectives of an investigation of European crime research methods and penal conditions on which James M. Hepbron, Chestertown native and director of the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission, will embark Satday.

CRISFIELD GETS NEXT BOAT RACE

Marked by split-second strats and stirring finishes, the final chapter of the first decade of the Chesapeake Bay workboat races was written into maritime history Saturday. Next year they will gather again at Crisfield. Wallace Quinn, of that city, is newly elected president of the Chesapeake Bay Championship Workboat Race Association.

Five races were sailed for as many classes of Chesapeake Bay workboats, the largest being the schooners and the smallest the tiny Smith's Island skifts.

Smith Island crabbing skiffs furnished a lively battle and incidentally, soaked their skippers in the rough going. Honest Evans, of Ewell, Md., won handily with the Rachel Jane; Ellwood Johnson, of Rhodes Point, was second with the Esther Raiston, and James Corbin, of Ewell, was third with the Cora Katheryne.

According to announcement made by Dr. H. P. Copeland, one of the Chestertown physicians, a second case of typhus fever has been discovered in Queen Anne's county a few miles from Chestertown. Dr. Copeland was called to attend Kent Bowers, who lives near McGinness' Corner, and after examining the patient and suspecting a case of typhus fever, notified the State health authorities. Dr. C. W. G. Roher, specialist on contagious discases, made an examination of the patient and pronounced the case typhus fever. This is the second case in Queen Anne's county within a radius of four miles to be reported since May 17, when Julian Morris, 13-year-old lad of Crumpton was seized with the disease. He is recovering.

HEART TO HEART TALK ABOUT

WATER

Just at this time we are compelled to inform the water users of the Chestertown Water Department the TRUE situation. The water is colored near white. This is because the water is low in the wells. No rain, dry, no water. We have pumped 24 hours per day for 2 weeks 14 days, with no relief in sight.

Therefore we request every water user to conserve the water. Don't waste. Do not use the HOSE. Better let the shrubbery burn than your HOME. We hope you will assist us, because your property is a part of the Water Department.
