Washington College Gets Indian Antiquities

Dr. Harry G. Simpers, of Chestertown, has just finished making a most valuable contribution to Washington College in turning over to it his unusual collection of Indian Arrowheads This gift follows that of his contribution of a splendid set of stone hammers which he made last year.

Dr. Francis C. Nicholas, Dean of the Maryland Academy of Sciences, was at the College last Thursday, with an assistant, classifying and arranging the several specimans.

Dr. Nicholas writes regarding the collection as follows:

"The collection is certainly very desirable, and I feel that you can be congratulated in your work, which I hope is the beginning of a museum for the Eastern Shore. A museum is such a great advertising asset for a region that I think the Eastern Shore Society, the different organizations of commerce and others would take an active interest."

The entire collection of stone axes and arrowheads is valued at $1000.

ST. GEORGES IN FRONT

CHESAPEAKE BAY LEAGUE

Standing Of The Teams

	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Georges	5	1	.833
Galena	4	2	.667
Kennedyville	4	3	.571
Cecilton	3	4	.429
Newark	3	4	.429
Middletown	1	6	.146

Dropping two games Saturday, Kennedyville dropped from a tie for first place in the Chesapeake Bay League with St. Georges, which delivered one of the defeats and assumed undisputed possession of the leadership. Middletown administered the other defeat to Kennedyville, making the first victory of the season but a noble assist to their fellow Delawareans. Middletown later lost to Galena and in the other game of the day Cecilton took Newark into camp.

The cruical contest saw St. Georges pitted against Kennedyville at Kennedyville and in the fastest game of the season, the Canaltown boys winning 2 to 1.

McCarthy held the Marylanders to five hits and pitched a steady game. The hitting of Roberts and Krastle featured for St. Georges, each man having two doubles. Lawler pitched a nice game for Kennedyville and had ten strikeouts.

St. Georges plays at Middletown next Saturday and home with Newark the following Saturday.

We are glad to announce that altho negotiations for lease of the Voshell House were called off recently, a renewal of conferences resulted in satisfactory arrangements whereby Mr. Herbert Effinger, of Philadelphia, will take charge July 1st. Already two large trees in the hotel yard have been cut down to make way for improving the place. It is reported that the new proprietor will pay $4,800 rent per year and at the end of three years be entitled to purchase the property for $90,000.

John J. Gooch, engineer in charge of the construction of the Chester River Bridge, speaking before the Chestertown Rotary Club last Monday evening indicated that the bridge would be completed enough to permit the passage of traffic by the middle of September. Finishing touches according to Mr. Gooch, will probably consume another month after that time.

Many questions, propounded by local Rotarians, were answered by the engineer. Among the interesting facts disclosed was that the bridge will be lighted at points about one hundred feet apart.

W. Robert Huey, delegate, and Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, alternate, from the local club will leave early this morning by auto for Chicago for the Rotary Convention.

Wm. Legg had his hand badly cut in a hay fork near town yesterday. Dr. H. G. Simpers dressed the injury and sent the patient to the hospital.

LUMBERMAN'S CONVENTION

The annual meeting of the Tri-State Lumbermen's Association, will be held at Hotel Rigbie, Betterton, this Saturday afternoon and evening. The association is composed of lumberman in cities and towns in the lower counties of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, who hold these annual get-together functions for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the welfare of their business. The afternoon session will be devoted to business. In the evening the management of the Rigbie will serve a dinner to the 75 or more guests.

Alwyn M. Culp, of Chestertown, president of the association, will preside at the after dinner program, and the special speaker of the evening will be Theodore R. McKeldin, secretary to Mayor William F. Broening, of Baltimore. A musical program arranged by Mrs. James Eliason, of New Castle, Del., and Mrs. Samuel Dillon, of Wilmington, will be a feature of the program.

Royal Swan Club To Hold Regatta

The swan has long been eulogized in prose and poetry, play and playlet, and it is given prominence by sportsmen from Philadelphia, Wilmington, New York and other cities and towns, who have formed the Royal Swan Club near Betterton.

The main reason the sportsmen picked out the swan for the name of their club was that this graceful members of the family, young and old, sweep into the feeding grounds on the flats of the Sassafras and on the calm waters of Lloyds Creek in such numbers that they have to be chased away when the gunners are out for their bag of ducks.

The shooting of swan is prohibited by law, but even so, the sportsmen welcome them and the burgee of the club has emblazoned upon it a likeness of the graceful bird.

Following out the idea of gracefulness one would hardly desire more than the rendezvous of the clubhouse as it stands at the top of a hill overlooking the quiet waters of Lloyds Creek, the private basin of the yachtsmen, and the wide sweep of waters of the Sassafras.

It is quite a picture shown from the clubhouse. Over a sweeping, rolling acreage is the golf course, below is the yacht basin, and in the immediate vicinity are the shooting grounds.

To this location will come the members and their friends from many points to participate in the formal opening of the club for the 1930 season on June 20, 21 and 22. There will be plenty of sport, starting with a golf tournament and a regatta for all manner of motor boats.

Officers of the club do things in a big way, and President and Commodore J. Howard Van Sciver is taking care of all preliminary preparations for the three-day affair.

The Royal Swan Club has a membership of nearly four hundred prominent citizes of Philadelphia, Wilmington and other cities, who make this their rendezvous at various times during the Summer, Fall and Winter.

The officers of the club besides Commodore Van Sciver, are vice-president and commodore George W. Carns; treasurer, Elwell Whalen; secreatry, John M. Gessler, Jr. The board of directors includes W. P. Allen, George W. Carns, Maj. K. K. V. Casey, Philip Cass, Alexander H. Findlay, Charles P. Fox, Jr., Charles Ferriday, Robt. E. Garratt, John M. Gessler, Sr., John M. Gessler, Jr., Charles C. Keedy, J. Guy McCormick, A. Sidney Jenkins, Charles Owens, Harry Pierce, Dalton Risley, George Van Sciver, J. Howard Van Sciver, Elwell Whalen, William Leiser, John S. Wilfed, John Zimmerman, Jr., and H. H. Kynett.

KENT COUNTY LEVY

Elsewhere in the Kent News today is published the detailed statement of the expenses and receipts of Kent county. This is known as the Kent County Levy and is published by the Kent County Commissioners once a year in order that every taxpayer may see exactly what becomes of the money he pays as taxes.

As we noted last week all Kent tax payers should rejoice in the fact that taxes will be 27 cents lower this year as Commissioners Johnson, Jones and Wood have succeeded in cutting that much off from last year's rate.

AGAINST MARRIED TEACHERS

The Board of Education of Cecil County authorized the following resolution:

1. That after June 10th, 1930, the term of a teacher married during the school year should automatically expire at the end of that year.

2. That no teachers who are married, shall be employed unless there are no unmarired teachers available.

KENT FOLK HONORED

On June 10th, Norman E. Pennington, of Kennedyville, was awarded the Bachelor of Science degree by the University of Maryland, College Park. During the commencement exercises, his father, Edgar R. Pennington, with three outher outstanding farmers of the State, received a certificate of merit, in acknowledgment of his "distinguished achievements in the field of agriculture." It is interesting to note in connection with this statement the following:

Dr. T. B. Symons, speaking of Mr. Pennington states;

"Mr. Pennington has been a prominent farmer in Kent County for many years. He is an outstanding tenant, having rented the same farm for the past fifteen or twenty years. This is one of the few cases where a farmer has proved to be a prominent farmer and leader and has been satisfied to carry on operations at the same place with satisfaction to the owner as well as himself. He has been an outstanding dairyman, having one of the best Holstein herds on theEastern Shore. He has been interested in organization and is an all-round good citizen."

Bess Clothilde Pontiac Burke, No. 677,879, Maryland's champion dairy cow in her junior year, and a blue ribbon winner at Maryland State fairs, has been the means of enabling her owner, Norman E. Pennington, of near Kennedyville, to complete his education and to receive his diploma for proficiency in agriculture from the University of Maryland this week.

She has also been very largely the means of the father of the young farmer, Edgar R. Pennington, receiving a certificate of merit from the university at its commencement exercises this week for his achievements in the development of agriculture and dairy cattle raising in Kent County.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB CAMP PROGRAM IN NATIONAL BROADCAST.

All interested in Boys' and Girls' 4-H Club activities will want to tune in on the National Hook-up presenting the program of the National 4-H Club Camps at Washington, D. C., on June 23rd. The program will be on the air in this section from 10.00 to 10.30 P. M., Eastern Standard Time. A campfire program will be presented and will be most impressive and significant. Organized clubs should assemble if possible around a campfire and join in the National program. The Marine Band plays. Secretary of Agriculture Hyde will speak. Listen in.
